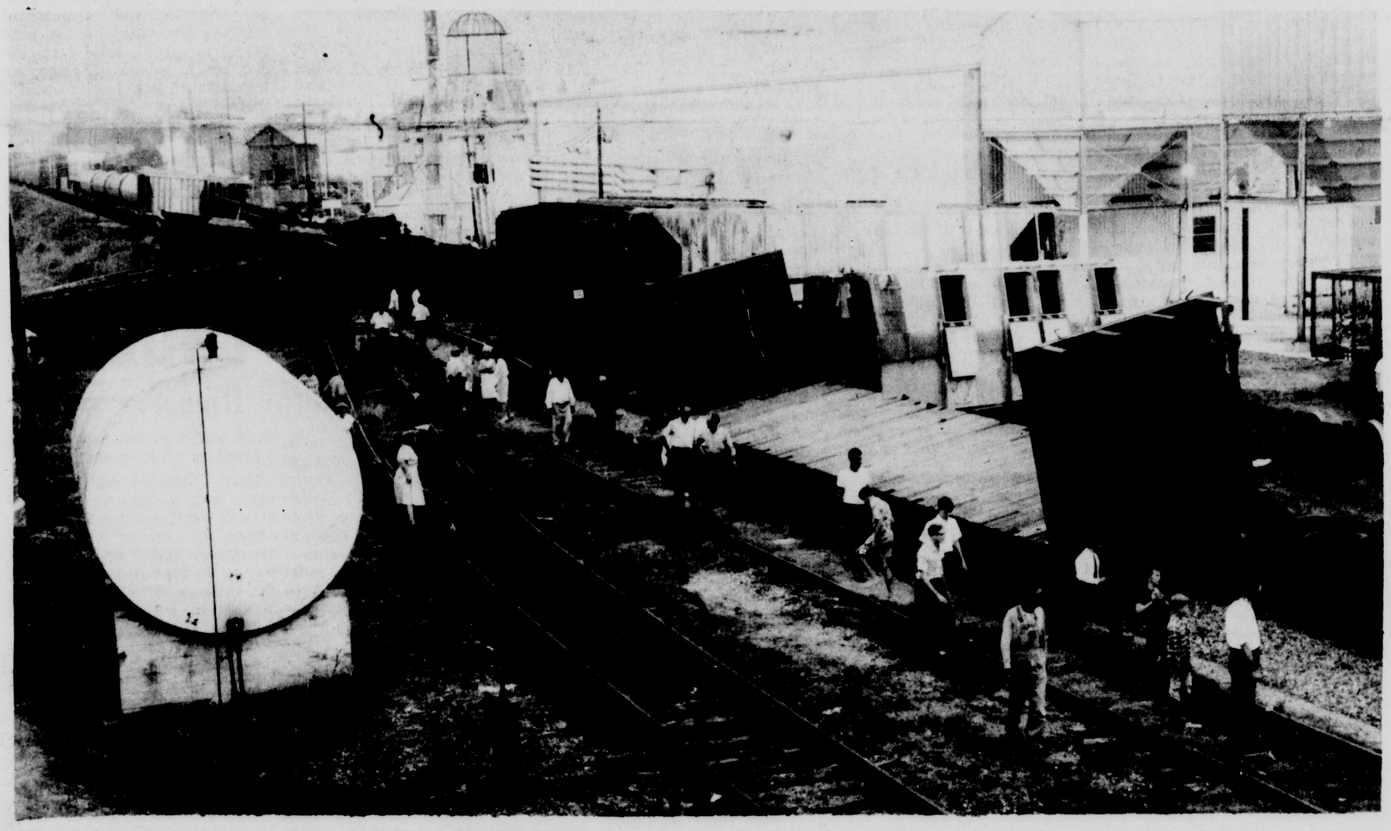
DEANNA TABER, center, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Taber, was named Miss Matthews Saturday afternoon at the Matthews Fall Festival. Bonnie Gammill, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gammill, was first runnerup, and Virginia McCoy, right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace McCoy, was second runnerup.



SIXTEEN CARS of a northbound Frisco freight train were derailed yesterday at the south edge of Portageville at 4 p.m.

Woman Found Unconscious In Tavern at Doniphan

A woman, about 40, identified as Anna May Colman, was found unconscious in a Doniphan tavern Saturday morning.

The state patrol reported that the woman's body was bruised. She was taken to the Ripley county hospital at Doniphan. Her condition was described as critical and she was transferred to Baptist hospital in Memphis.

The patrol sought to identify her more fully. They did not know her address. She was described as being white, 5 feet, two inches tall, weighing 105 pounds with blue eyes and brown hair.

Troop E patrol headquarters in Poplar Bluff said that they would appreciate a call at SU 5-5757 from anyone who knows her address or relatives.

Hester Carlyle, 63, route one, Charleston, was injured Saturday at 9:50 p.m. on highway Z, eight miles south of East Prairie.

She was a passenger in a 1965 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by Albert Koehler, 40, Fenton, and received a wrist injury when the truck ran off the road and crashed into a ditch. She was taken to the Missouri Delta Community hospital.

Two persons were injured in a car tractor accident Sunday at 12:05 p.m. on highway 25 in Delta.

A 1961 Ford, driven by Modie Seabaugh, 69, Cape Girardeau, ran into the rear of a 1952 Farmall tractor, driven by Jacob Schult, 72, Chaffee.

Schult received cuts on his scalp, and a passenger in the Ford, Nora Seabaugh, 69, Cape Girardeau, had a possible head injury.

Both of the injured were taken to the Southeast hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Inquest Called In Shooting

A Sikeston man was shot to death Sunday afternoon following an argument over a half pint of whiskey, Scott County Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Tom Gilmore said today.

Tom "Snag" Lee, 55, 208 Felker, was pronounced dead on arrival at 2:44 p.m. Sunday at Missouri Delta Community hospital. He was a truck driver for the Hunter Gin Co., Police Chief Arthur Bruce said.

Lee suffered two gunshot wounds in the chest according to Scott County Coroner Gene Nunnelee, police said.

James Bostic, 66, 214 Felker, a laborer and handy-man employed by R. D. Clayton, Sikeston, was arrested for investigation of murder in connection with the shooting, Chief Bruce said. Bostic is in the custody of Sikeston police.

A coroner's inquest will be held at 3:30 p.m. today at the police station. No charges have been filed yet, Gilmore said.

A coroner's jury was being called this morning by the Scott county sheriff's department.

The information gathered to date indicates that the shooting might well have been classified as a justifiable homicide, Gilmore said.

The shooting occurred near Lee's cabin on Felker Street, police said.

Bostic was arrested in his cabin and he offered no resistance, Chief Bruce said. A 38 caliber colt pistol containing five unspent cartridges was taken from under a pillow in Bostic's cabin, and five spent 38 caliber cartridges were found in Bostic's cabin, Chief Bruce said.

Another pistol, a 32 caliber automatic, containing seven unspent catridges was found near Lee by a witness who later gave the gun to police, Gilmore said.

Sgt. Leonard Campbell was the first policeman to arrive and found Lee still alive. He was lying on the ground at the rear of his cabin, Campbell said.

One witness counted six shots fired, but apparently no one saw the shooting take place, Chief Bruce said.

According to information from one witness, Bostic had paid $1 toward the cost of a half pint of whiskey and didn't get any whiskey. This apparently lead to the shooting, Chief Bruce said.

Sikeston, Charleston Win Street Awards

Sikeston and Charleston are among 14 Missouri cities which will receive superior achievement awards tonight at the annual meeting and awards banquet of the Missouri Good Roads and Streets Association in Columbia.

The awards, being presented for the first time honor cities for street improvement programs from 1961-66 with special note on their use of funds received under the gasoline tax sharing program.

Sikeston was cited for its improvement of 200 blocks of street paying during the period at a cost of more than $480,000. Local funds supplemented gasoline tax funds for the construction work.

Sikeston also expended $379,278 for street lighting, which affected a total of 150 blocks.

Most of the developed areas in town are now served by mercury vapor lights now, Frank Grimm, office manager of the City Light and Water Department, said today.

Charleston is being honored for its paving of about five miles of streets and curb and guttering at an approximate cost of $300,000, Ricahar Carr, assistant city manager, said.

Street lighting was changed from the old style electric open-face lights to mercury vapor lighting about two years ago, but the cost estimate is not available, Carr said.

Other cities being honored are, Carthage, Columbia, Ferguson, Florissant, Grandview, Jackson, Kirksville, Marshall, Moberly, Nevada, Paris and Sullivan.

Wentzville and Otterville will receive honorable mention awards.

Rex Whitton, former federal highway administrator and former Missouri highway chief engineer, will be the banquet speaker.

Cuba Invites Man in Street To Speak up

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba's leaders are encouraging the man in the street to speak up publicly when he runs into government bungling, inefficiency or waste. The response so far has been brisk.

Most of the complaints have to do with consumer services but Communist party organizer Armando Hart has made clear they should not stop there.

Addressing the Central Organization of Cuban Trade Unions, Hart said: "If something runs badly or there is a weakness in a party branch, you must go there and discuss it right up to a municipal level; and if it is not solved then write to the provincial bureau of the party."

The official Communist organ Granma began publishing a column of public criticism in July shortly after Capt. Jorge Enrique Mendoza replaced newspaper's original editor, Isidoro Malmierca, a member of the party central committee who was transferred to the National Fishing Institute.

Called "Popular Criticism," the column started off slowly but has picked up momentum in recent weeks. Its motto promises that "every problem should have a solution or an explanation."

Typical of its letters was one from Jose Rodriguez Ramos of the Vedado section of Havana. He wrote that bread arrives in his neighborhood late and in bad condition. Hugo Garcia Morales of the state flour enterprise replied saying the situation would be corrected.

Although many of the official replies come wrapped in platitudes and promises, the column apparently offers the forum for the criticism the government is encouraging.

Resort Disaster Probe Ordered

MT. WASHINGTON, N.H., (AP)- Eight persons were killed and more than 70 injured Sunday when a train fell off the cog railway on Mt. Washington and landed in a gorge.

One passenger said the mountain excursion train had broken free and rolled down about 500 feet before it reeled off the cog railway and crashed.

Gov. John W. King, who rushed to the scene, ordered "a full scale investigation" by the state Public Utilities Commission. He said it would begin today.

It took rescue workers using a flat bed railway car about four hours to bring the dead and injured to the base of the Mountain. The number of persons on the train could not be determined immediately.

The accident happened about one-third of the way down the 3 1/2 miles of track along the west side of the 6,288-foot mountain in the center of the presidential Range of the White Mountains.

Seven Injured in Weekend Mishaps

Seven were treated over Saturday and Sunday in the Missouri Delta Community hospital for injuries.

$500 Worth of Items Stolen

BELL CITY -- Merchandise valued at about $520 was taken in a breakin at the Bell City Lumber Company last night, the sheriff's office reported.

Taken were a portable television set valued at about $380, a record player valued at about $90 and two radios valued at about $50.

The sheriff's office is investigating.

First Baptist Church Approves $518,961 Building Program

The congregation of the First Baptist church voted unanimously Sunday night to award the building contract for its new church to Brown Construction Company of Dexter.

The construction cost will be $518,961.

This is the first phase of a building program which will add a sanctuary later.

The first phase will provide auditorium to seat 600 and educational facilities for 700. Groundbreaking at the site on North Main Street across highway 61 from the Missouri Delta Community hospital will be on Oct. 1.

Construction will begin soon. The new plant will take a year to build on an eight-acre tract.

The new plant includes a large foyer connecting the worship area with the educational facilities, an office suite, a women's parlor and bride's dressing room, a large dining area, a choir rehearsal and robing room, and a covered driveway, which will accommodate two-way traffic arriving at the rear.

A free standing spire, towering 88 feet, with a cross at the top, will be near the corner of Sikes and highway 61 and will accent the contemporary architecture of the building.

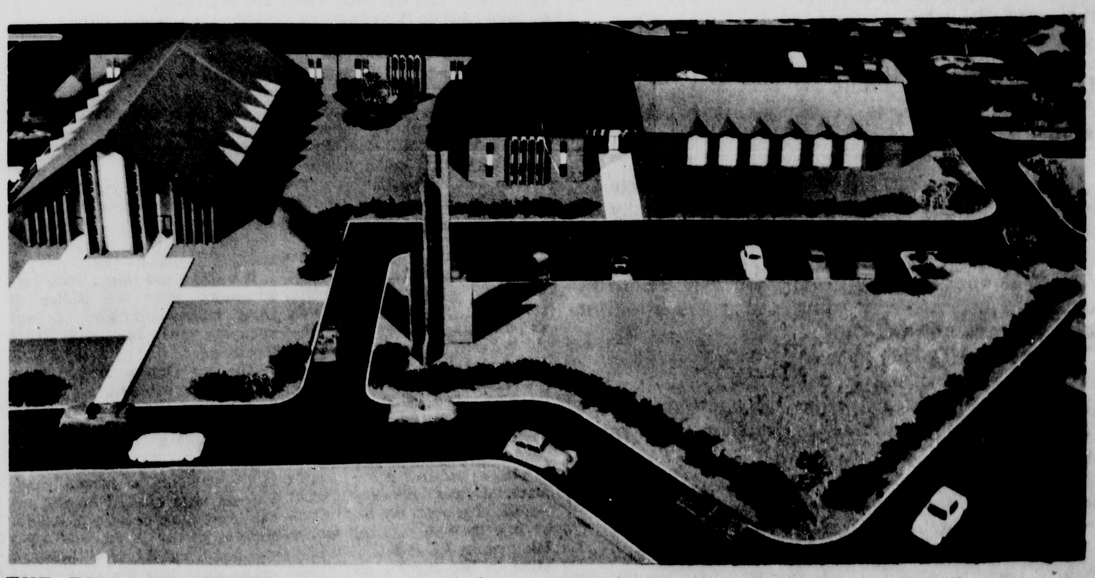
The buildings will be air-conditioned and fire resistant. They will be constructed of red brick.

The beginning of construction climaxes months of planning, consultation with denominational leaders and architects. The building plans committee is composed of Fred Steward, chairman, Beatty Miller, Castor Alsup, Floyd Presley, Milton Sadler, F. F. "Bud" Collins, and Melvin McMackins.

Serving on the building finance committee are Lenzi Beck, chairman, Bridwell Crenshaw, Dr. C. Wendell Weathers, Pat Lea, Don Black, Lynn Thompson and John W. Davis.

Buchmueller and Whitworth are the architects.

The present church is on 201 South Kingshighway.



THE BUILDING CONTRACT was awarded yesterday for the new First Baptist church on North Main street across highway 61 from the Missouri Delta Community hospital. A 600-seat capacity auditorium is at the right. The educational building is in the center, back of a free standing spire. The structures will cost $518,961. The sanctuary at the left will be added later.

16 Frisco Freight Cars Derailed

PORTAGEVILLE -- Sixteen cars and a diesel engine were derailed on a northbound Frisco freight train at the south edge of Portageville at 4 p.m. yesterday on the Frisco tracks.

A Frisco spokesman said there were no injuries in the derailment, which was caused by an unidentified equipment failure.

Only three of the cars were loaded but the railroad said these cars remained upright and none were split open.

The engineer was Fred Swepkter of Chaffee.

The tracks were reported to be clear today.

Wilson Wins Idea Award

COLUMBIA -- Jerry Wilson, advertising manager of the Sikeston Daily Standard, returned Saturday after attending a workshop for 36 managers of Missouri dailies.

He was awarded first place for having the best display advertising idea. He received a plaque and $20 cash award.

Wilson is president of the Missouri Advertising Managers Association.

GM Hike Announced

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors today became the second auto company to boost prices of its 1968 cars as it announced the new line would carry sticker prices averaging $110 higher than a year ago.

Gateway Arch Rides Reopen

ST. LOUIS (AP)— The transportation system inside the Gateway Arch went back into operation today after a four-day layoff because the train developed a jerky ride.

Leroy R. Brown, superintendent of the National Park Service, said the train's difficulty was caused by "a combination of things." He added, "it wasn't one problem or a failure in one device as we thought for a while."

Brown said the trouble that developed in the system showed that the park service will have to set up a program of preventive maintenance on the equipment.

$45,000 Grant for Migrant Health Aid

LILBOURN -- The Delmo Housing Corporation has received a migrant health grant to provide health service to agricultural migrants of Mississippi, Scott, Stoddard, New Madrid, Pemiscot and Dunklin counties.

The federal grant, made by the Public Health Service through the Migrant Health Act, was for more than $45,000, Francis James, project coordinator, said.

The grant is on a 90-10 matching basis, with the federal government providing 90 per cent of the cost and Delmo providing 10 per cent in kind services, he said.

The Bootheel migrants are home-based.

The Delmo migrant health project is now in its third year of operation. This is the first time that funds have been awarded to provide health services.

As soon as a registered project nurse can be secured, diagnostic and treatment clinics will be scheduled and held in doctors' offices of the area.

An agricultural migrant is defined as a person who is now or has been within the past two years, primarily engaged in agricultural or related seasonal industry, and must move so far from home while working, that a temporary residence is established away from home. In other words a migrant followed the harvest and is away from home several months of the year.

To aid in planning for the present and future programs, persons who think they might be eligible as migrants are invited to register so that their eligibility may be determined.

Send a postcard or letter to: Delmo Migrant Health Project, Box 354, Lilbourn, Mo. 63862. Give your name, address, and number of dependents.

List also illness or health needs, if any.

Detroit Teachers Approve Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit teachers today ratified a proposed new two-year contract, signaling an end to a strike that has kept Detroit's public school doors closed to some 300,000 pupils for two weeks.

The unofficial ratification tally was 3,346-374 in favor of acceptance of an agreement worked out in an all-night bargaining session.

The proposal called for an $850 across-the-board annual increase for two years and a 39-week school year.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

AN OLD AUTUMN RITE

Householders used to keep track of the date in late fall on which they first lighted their furnace fires. Often the man of the house would keep a penciled record on the boards of the coal bin, and if a year came in which the furnace was not lighted, say, until late November, the year thereafter became a sort of marvel or at least a point of reference. This simple rite is one more bench market of family life that has been swept away. Nowadays no one lights a furnace fire -- the heat is supplied by an automatic system and it simply "comes on." Sometimes the heat comes on during a chilly night in August, an event that occasions comment but is not held of lasting significance. And as for coal bins, where are they? Some, no doubt, are still preserved as repositories for old furniture, kindling and fireplace logs, or perhaps for laundry equipment, but in the main the coal bin seems nearly extinct.

By an Act of the United States Congress and by Presidential Proclamation, September 17 through 23 is CONSTITUTION WEEK. This week affords opportunity for the schools and churches to hold appropriate ceremonies to inspire all of our citizens to keep the faith of our Founding Fathers. This is a religious Nation, and we are a religious people. Running through all American history are the golden threads of religious conviction. Our Country will survive as long as she remains loyal to her spiritual heritage. Let's hold fast to our heritage and give thanks.

CALL FOR HELP

While Big Government, Big Business and Big Labor seem to be the most-quoted about the affairs of the nation and especially our economy, we believe that the story of the American Motors Corporation deserves more attention--as well as other smaller businesses--and understanding as further pressures build up.

For the second time in its 13-year history, American Motors is asking the United Auto Workers for help in the company's fight for survival. Being the smallest of the remaining four major auto companies, they asked the UAW to drop its wage-"fringe" demands and extend present contract terms for two more years.

In the first nine months of its fiscal year, ending Sept. 30, American Motors lost nearly 48 million dollars. Additional losses are expected in the current quarter. Their officials says the company needs time to recover from its current financial distress.

What is most important is that if American Motors should fail, some 22,800 union members would lose their jobs.

The UAW has asked the American Motors for a new contract comparable to the ones it is seeking from General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

The American Motors has had a profit-sharing plan since 1964 with the UAW but it has been inoperative because of the company's financial position.

So now the chips are down for another smaller business and it will be interesting to see what the union decides on its fate. Things have changed in America as anyone can see -- but is it for the better?

There is one minority group in Sikeston entitled to sympathy, understanding and more attention than they are getting.

They are the golden agers.

They need something to do.

Many could use more cash but that isn't a problem exclusively theirs and there are many agencies dealing with it.

Age often produced enforced idleness, loneliness, a sense of futility and a strong desire to cultivate friendships and do worthwhile things.

Overcoming these conditions isn't as easy as might be imagined. A community, such as Sikeston, isn't geared to provide the answers automatically.

Most of the efforts are concentrated on meeting the needs of younger, more aggressive residents, whose own busy lives lack the emptiness experienced by the aged.

Churches often minister to the needs of the aged but a great opportunity exists in Sikeston is for a broader community-wide program.

The effort to give all golden agers more to do could be made with a relatively small expenditure of money, time and effort.

Organization of a club for the oldsters could be sponsored by a group of Sikeston clubs, the churches, the Chamber of Commerce or another single organization.

A club house or meeting place, stocked with books, magazines, card tables and possibly craft materials, would be desirable.

Aside from the effort to entertain or amuse the aged attention should be directed to giving them constructive tasks to accomplish for the benefit of the community.

As individuals they possess many skills -- a resource that the community needs and which should not be lost to it.

Helping the aged could become a two-way street. The contributions could flow both ways and the community as well as the oldsters would benefit from it.

It is time that something be done to help them and for the rest of the community to obtain their active help in a united community betterment effort.

WHY?

If there is one thing about the newspaper business, we hear from all types of people on every imaginable subject -- and people are beginning to ask the right questions about the critical issues.

Questions like these:

Why don't we win the war in Vietnam or get out?

Why don't we start worrying about the victims of crime, instead of coddling the criminals?

Why don't we cut back on domestic spending, instead of raising taxes?

Why do we permit trade with Communists when our boys are fighting them in Vietnam?

Why don't we curb labor's disruptive power?

Why doesn't Congress enforce the strict ethics on its members that are in the Constitution now?

Why doesn't Congress vote to reduce our enormous national debt and strengthen the dollar?

It's a good sign that people are asking questions like these. Unfortunately, we believe they're getting too many wrong answers from the Administration and its bureaucrats as well as too much of the nation's news media.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — It was several weeks ago that my wife first noticed some insulation sifting out of the basement wall. It dusted her washing machine like an occasional snow flurry, only it was brown.

Lucile— that's her name— suggested I find out what needed doing, and do it.

A member of that frustrated legion whose do-it-yourself talents are limited to replacing light bulbs, I looked hard at the insulation gap. It was oozing from a hole where a vent— heating, I think, and the foundation didn't quite come together.

It looked to me like a grave structural flaw, and I said as much.

In fact I said, "This looks like a job for a contractor."

Lucile said that was silly, especially with the dentist being as patient as he was about that old balance on the bridge job.

The insulation continued to sift ominously onto the washing machine. I decided to devote part of a recent weekend to demonstrating the job was beyond me.

I began pulling at the bulging material and it came away readily. I shoved my hand deeper into the hole and felt something move. I also felt a searing sting on two fingers and jerked my hand back.

With it came 20 sleepy bumblebees, getting their first look at the outside world, and a handful of little white eggs. These fell into the box I had placed on the washing machine.

Other bees, seemingly less sleepy, began flying out of the hole.

I grabbed a rag and stuffed it into the hole. My wife ran for outdoors with the box of bees and near-bees.

Then we began killing basement bees with flyswatters. Except for the two that had stung me, they were as sleepy as they were huge, and we got them all.

The rag in the hole seemed a frail defense against those still poised in their nest of insulation.

I took a can of insect spray. With Lucile ready to bat clean up with a swatter, I jerked out the rag and let fly with the spray.

It was a close thing. Bees kept advancing over the bodies of their fallen comrades, I kept spraying and my wife kept swatting.

The bee charge slowed to a trickle, then stopped. I gave the hole a final burst, jammed the rag back into it, and gently keeled over.

If time had permitted reading instructions on the insect bomb, I would have read, "Do not inhale fumes. Do not use in a confined area."

I had inhaled, in a confined area, about half the contents of the can.

The pharmacist said rest and fresh air were the best antidotes for that sort of thing, and they were.

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL FREEDOM MARCH WAS THE ONE IN COVERED WAGONS

That, too, was made by Americans - looking for work. No demands, no subsidies, no claim anyone owed them anything. They traveled mostly on foot and through deadly danger, to where there was work to do (they didn't ask it be brought to them nor created for them).

Many had never been prosperous - their little farms were worked out, or their skills weren't very good. But their self-respect was real enough to drive them through thousands of miles of unspeakable hardship, and there create their own jobs and their own futures.

And that courage and self-respect and hard work were what made America's splendid West.

"What's so lucky about that?" asked the pal.

"Shucks man!" he replied, "a minute earlier it would have hit me on the head!"

NEW PAY PLANS

When Samuel Gompers was asked, a couple of generations ago, what organized labor wanted, he gave a one-word answer -- "more." Judging from the actions of labor leaders in more recent years, it appears that this simple statement of objectives must be revised. As the time for negotiation on large contracts approaches, prominent labor leaders seem always to ask not only for something more but also for something new. Their efforts and ingenuity are devoted not to simply gaining increases in the existing forms of compensation but to devising new forms.

Two concepts are prominent in the current discussion of new labor demands: first some kind of "guaranteed pay" and, second, a "share of profits" for employees. Various specific proposals are made for implementing these objectives.

We will not try to pronounce judgment here on whether such innovations are workable or equitable in any particular company or industry. But it does seem appropriate to inquire into the effects on employees, employers, and the economy generally should these proposals be widely accepted.

The common assumption is that the introduction of pay guarantees and of profit sharing would give the employees something more, on top of what they would otherwise get. Yet to anyone familiar with economic history this is by no means obvious. Over the years, both before and after unions became an important influence in the labor market, the real compensation of employees (in all forms) has gone up roughly parallel to the growth in productivity of the economy. Indeed, it is hard to see how it could be otherwise since this is the only significant source from which increased compensation can be paid. We suspect that the same parallelism between growth in compensation and gain in productivity will obtain in the future.

If this is so, it follows that neither guaranteed pay plans nor profit sharing will, in the long run, increase the total of compensation to employees above what it would otherwise be. Whatever additional amount they get by these routes will reduce the gains they might have obtained in other ways -- an hourly pay increase for example.

That is not to say that these proposals would not have important economic effects. They would represent a change in the way the individual employee's compensation is determined, rather than primarily a long-run gain in the total compensation of all employees. It is on the basis that the economist must appraise them. There are pluses and minuses that should be given careful thought.

A pay guarantee means that pay gains for those workers who are needed continually are diluted by the necessity of paying those whose labor is needed only intermittently. Persons who might be more productive in another job if they were released temporarily are kept on since they have to be paid anyway. Persons who might have been employed will not have jobs since companies would, where the decision is a close one, hesitate to hire people if their pay becomes an overhead expense.

Profit sharing means not necessarily that employees get more compensation but that part of their compensation becomes contingent on the business fortunes of their employer. In certain cases this arrangement might be an advantage to the employees and in other cases a disadvantage, and the same might be said of their employers. In any case, it amounts to the hired workers sharing the financial risks of the enterprise.

Clearly these proposals for changes in the way people are paid for their services need a careful and thoughtful analysis. Unfortunately they are not likely to get it in the heat of labor disputes.

BEST WEEK OF ALL

OF ALL THE WEEKS in the year National Newspaper week should be the best of all. It brings to the attention of the public their heritage of Freedom of the Press. No other media has done so much for the growth of our country and business than newspapers, be it weekly or daily. DOC DUNCAN SAYS: This is a strange world. Auto makers and Labor never mention car buyers in their hassel.

Farmers and millers, business and lawmakers apparently ignore consumers in their hassel over excess profits. Apparently they all forget consumers hold the key to it all and could throw a monkey wrench in it all without uttering one word of warning. Just back up and zip up their pocketbooks for a spell.

H.L. Hunt Says

TO SPREAD THE FREEDOM STORY

Boards of Counselors, made up of adults who like to work with young people, for Youth Freedom Speakers Chapters find a wide range of highly worthwhile activity open to them. Three capable men and women in a city should act as a steering committee to form a Chapter. It is important that they dedicate themselves to keeping the Chapter non-denominational, non-partisan, and free from endorsing candidates for office.

To implement authorized activities, the Board of Counselors should establish Committees of Three. Such committees may be established to enlist volunteer youth speakers, solicit invitations for YFS speakers, arrange for publicity, suggest news releases, encourage gifted writers of letters to the editor and commend publications which publish their activities, form and maintain a liberty alert telephone group to promote public interest in freedom activities and news, invite prominent orators to visit and address groups desiring them, arrange for YFS local and inter-city contests, prepare YFS contests between schools and colleges, and prepare state, regional, national and international contests.

The Youth Freedom Speakers movement can do much to save our Republic. The enemies of freedom are nearly always prepared to speak briefly at the drop of a hat or to make an impassioned address to advance their cause. Friends of freedom who are losing the battle can seldom be found who can speak with eloquence, if at all. This deficiency must be overcome if those who love our country are to win. Youth Freedom Speakers can aid greatly in overcoming it. HLH

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON -- Six members of the British house of commons who oppose the war in Vietnam were in Washington interviewing high government officials last week. Simultaneously the leaders of the American house of representatives who favor the war in Vietnam kicked the British in the seat of the pants by knocking out a provision to buy 16 wooden British - built mine sweepers, costing $180 million. In return, the British were going to spend 2.5 billion buying our TFX airplane-- now the F111. Later the Senate reluctantly concurred with the house.

The British MPS didn't know much about the American congressmen who kicked them in the backside, and the American congressmen didn't know much about the British MPS whom they kicked. The American congressmen, chiefly hawks, didn't know, for instance, that they were doing the British MPS a great favor in strengthening their peace position inside the labor party.

And the British MPS didn't know that the congressman who introduced the kick, Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., had managed to wriggle out of a flagrant conflic - of- interest case.

During their stay in Washington, the British parliamentarians were asked about unethical conduct in the house of commons -- specifically whether they had any cases of Doddism. They showed that they had not.

In contrast, Rep. Byrnes, author of the amendment killing the 16 wooden mine sweepers, had been involved with Bobby Baker, the senate secretary now convicted of influence - peddling.

In 1960, Byrnes intervened with internal revenue to get a favorable ruling for the mortgage guaranty insurance company of Milwaukee, and persuaded the treasury to reverse two previous rulings which would have made MGIC's reserves subject to corporate income taxes. As a result of this favorable ruling, MGIC stock skyrocketed in value.

As an obvious reward, Rep. Byrnes was permitted to buy a block of MGIC stock at the very low price of $2,300. His profit zoomed up to $26,000.

When all this came out during the Bobby Baker investigation, the GOP congressman from Wisconsin got on the house floor, wrung his hands and almost wept to his colleagues that he had done nothing wrong.

"I deny that I have engaged in any unethical conduct," he moaned. He proposed giving his stock profits to charity.

This self - righteous wailing, however, did not hide the fact that Byrnes had violated Criminal Code 18, Section 281, which prohibits a congressman from receiving pay for lobbying with the U.S. Government. The Johnson administration did prosecute Bobby Baker, Democrat, but not Rep. Byrnes, Republican.

AMERICAN HAWKS

The above was not known to the parliament members who were asked about British ethics and saw their government kicked in the seat of the pants.

And what the congressional hawks who administered the kick did not know was that indirectly they were helping the British doves and also undercutting British support for the American position in Vietnam.

The American congressmen who led the drive against the 16 wooden British mine sweepers were, in addition to Byrnes, Reps. Mel Laird of Wisconsin, Jerry Ford of Michigan and Glen Lipscomb of California, all Republican hard-liners regarding Vietnam. The Democrats included John Rooney, The Brooklyn isolationist, Mediocre Domin Daniels, N.J., and Edward Garmatz, a nondescript Baltimore congressman, all of whom like to twist the lion's tail.

What they didn't know was that in twisting the British lion's tail they were strengthening the hand of the British laborites who oppose the labor government's support of the United States in Vietnam. This has become a major issue inside the labor party.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson has steadfastly supported President Johnson in Vietnam but it's cost him plenty of headaches. In his own district, Huyton Inliverpool, a recent poll conducted by the council for peace in Vietnam showed in 87 per cent sentiment for withdrawing British support from the USA.

LABOR PARTY TROUBLE

The trade union congress of nine million members in 1966 voted by a majority of 250,000 to stop the bombing of North Vietnam. Last week the same trade union congress voted by a 1,300,000 majority for a strong resolution against Prime Minister Wilson's support of the USA.

Sentiment has become so strong that it will be difficult for Prime Minister Wilson to ignore it, especially since he was critical of the late Hugh Gaitskill, who when leader of the labor party was sometimes considered independent of his party. Now Wilson appears to be even more independent than the man he criticized.

This is why Wilson will be in a predicament as a result of the congressional turn-down of the 16 wooden mine sweepers. Members of his party are already criticizing him for agreeing to spend $2.5 billion on the American F111.

All this will come to a head at the British labor party congress in Scarborough the first week in October, where the British parliamentarians who were in Washington last week will demand that Prime Minister Wilson reverse his position on both the purchase of the F111 and his support of the United States in Vietnam. Wilson will probably be able to hold onto the F111 contract, but he may have to bow to the overwhelming demand inside his own party that he desert the United States in Southeast Asia.

MAY NOT DELIVER THE VOTE

Labor's Confidential Political Strategy Session Hears Report Of White Rank and File Revolt Against President After Riots

Washington, D. C.: -- Some of Lyndon Johnson's most intimate friends, closets allies and most ingenious political advisors -- the nation's top labor chiefs -- believe that the riots can whiplash the President right out of the White House in '68.

They believe the burning, the looting, the Molotov cocktail barrages are more deadly to his political survival than all the cutting criticism of the Vietnamese war.

Grimly, this is what labor's high command, sitting behind the closed doors of a hotel penthouse in New York the other day, concluded after a series of influential labor chiefs told each other of the sentiment among their own rank and file.

One labor leader, easily now the most militant in the land, said bluntly that his Southern followers were defecting and rallying to Alabama's George Wallace.

"I wish," said he dolefully, "I could show you the letters we're getting from our rank and file."

These labor chiefs are the country's pragmatists' pragmatists. They had just finished their summit session and now had formed themselves into the administrative Committee of their committee on Political Education (COPE). They were surrounded by their technicians and field men encluding the voter registration specialist Roy Reuther.

Since, in their private skull sessions, they make a fetish of realism, they admitted to each other they were in deep political trouble.

For the first time in decades, these same men doubted they could deliver a heavy labor vote to a Democratic candidate in a presidential election.

After some hard listening, their own president George Meany, who has a distinct distaste for Madison Ave. and Machiavelli, wrapped it all up in his traditionally blunt tones.

This is not the time to be criticizing Johnson," said the cigar-chomping labor chief. "The Republican candidates now in the field are no friends of labor. If they -- Nixon, Reagan, Romney -- ever get into the White House we're in trouble. Let's continue to criticize Johnson only were necessary and work with him when we can put a program over together.

"Let's withhold political criticism until we see what happens at next year's conventions."

Then he turned to the contemporary street scene -- civil war in the big cities -- and struck the same motif which President Johnson hit the next day at Kansas City.

"You can't blame Johnson for the riots in the cities," he said. "That's something the central government can't handle.

"Nor can you blame Johnson for the war in Vietnam. After all it was Eisenhower and Dulles who committed us there. All Johnson did was to inherit it.

"So before you criticize Johnson at this stage of the game, just think what the alternative means to labor at the present time -- the people who are the possible nominees on the Republican ticket. Obviously you won't take a Reagan over Johnson."

Then he looked around the big table and reminded them that back in 1948 some of them had wanted to dump Harry Truman. That's indelible history. The Roosevelts and the liberal labor leaders, including Walter Reuther, were for a general named Dwight Eisenhower.

There was no rebellion in the summit's air. Just tension over the race issue. When the session broke for lunch the men who lead some 14,000,000 workers, the highest paid in the world, went forth to beat down the backlash especially among their younger members.

They had listened to technical analysis. They had watched slides. They had been briefed on the campaign magic of the computer. And they had heard from their own dynamic COPE Director, Al Barkan, that they were in political trouble even in this year's local and state elections.

And they had decided to mobilize early and keep on swinging for Johnson until the final tally. Early next spring COPE will run four major meetings across the nation to whip up enthusiasm for the Johnson-labor ticket. They then will go into the suburbs, north and south, to attempt to stamp out the whiplash.

They have the money, the manpower, the muscle. But they headed for home with the grim feeling that another long hot burning summer would leave them out in the cold on inauguration day, 1969.

Centers Supplement Home Life of Children of Working Mothers

By BARBARA LACY

"Watch out for the woman who advertises washing, ironing and baby sitting done in her home," Pauline Adams, day care consultant with the Missouri division of welfare, warned when she was in Sikeston to conduct a training session and visit day care facilities.

"That doesn't mean that the day care mother can't do any housework," she said. "Ironing is fine when the children are naping, but the iron should be put away when they are awake to avoid injuries. Other housework can be done with the children's help, like making cookies and Jello or dusting.

"All children need and deserve good day care regardless of who is giving it. Mothers work better when they know that their children are being adequately cared for.

"We'd like to provide this good care for every child who needs it," Miss Adams added. "That's why we're looking for the women who'd like to operate day care centers or nusery schools and foster family day care homes."

She explained the terms - day care centers and foster family day care homes - adding that they were trends in child care and had a lot of backing on all government levels.

"A day care center is planned to supplement home life for children three and older who can benefit from a group experience. They should be given a mid-morning snack, a hot lunch, a mid-afternoon snack, and a nap. But it's more than that. We feel there are seven basic day care goals: physical growth, motor development, communication skills, emotional development, art and construction training, general knowledge assimiltation and personality and ego development.

"How do we reach these goals?

"By providing a safe place for the children to play in groups or alone; by providing teachers or helpers who care about children and can give them individual attention as well as talk with them; by providing a program that is dependable so the child can develop a sense of order, yet provides enough new experiences, materials and equipment to keep the child stimulated and challenged.

"Within this environment we expect changes in certain children: we hope the shy child will become energetic, the inhibited will be skillful, the silent will be talkative, the messy will be creative and the insecure will become ambitious.

"If the child is under three we feel he needs a mother image or substitute and suggest a family day care home for him. This provides a homelike atmosphere for the child who needs mothering more than a group experience.

"Unfortunately, there is no special training required for those who care for children. Often it is a relative or a friend, someone who is convenient and cheap."

And hopefully, adequate.

"What is adequate day care? We've worked out some guidelines," Miss Adams said. "It begins with a woman who is relaxed and easy with the children, who knows that the children are learning from her, who knows she is there for the children's health and well being.

"We don't want a woman who thinks playing with children spoils them, and some people do think that way you know," Miss Adams said. "Playing is how children learn. You wouldn't want someone to leave your baby in a crib all day. Babies learn by playing little games such as peek-a-boo and "where's my hand." Babies need to be talked to. They develop a sense of who they are as you call them by name. A child called "boy" grows up with no identity.

"As a child grows older he becomes more independent, although it's not unusual for a child of three or four to want to be rocked occasionally.

"That's why we consider the physical facilities. There should be staff and equipment, meaning a rocker, to rock a lonely child when he needs it. We also want room for the child to run, jump, sit and nap. Someone has estimated that each child needs 35 square feet of play space.

"The home should have equipment and supplies for the right age group; such as blocks, paints, clay, sand and a program that pays attention to the child's health, social and mental growth.

One reason good day care programs are not more widespread is that the concept of day care is just over 100 years old and our conception of adequate day care is less than 50 years old.

The French were the first to have child day care centers. Their creches for babies and children of working mothers opened in Paris in 1844. It was 10 years later that the first day nursery in the United States was opened in New York City. Day care nurseries developed rapidly after the civil war as war widows and other mothers found work outside their homes.

But the nurseries were purely custodial. No thought was given to the child's physical or mental development.

The first breakthrough came in 1927 with the development of a family day care program in Philadelphia. By now it was realized that the very young child was not old enough to benefit from group activities. He needed individual attention, he was involved with his own self centered desires and most of all, he needed a mother-child relationship throughout the day.

Another boost toward good child care came during the mental hygiene movement of the 1930s which emphasized the importance of early childhood. New ideas were carried out in day care centers sponsored by the Works Progress Administration.

However, it wasn't until women entered the defense industries during World War II that the government recognized a national responsibility in providing day care for children and helped operate centers during the war. All but a few of these centers were closed when the war ended.

But lack of day care centers has not discouraged mothers from working. In 1962 there were 8 million working mothers with children under 18 years of age; 3 million of these mothers had children under 6 years of age. The capacity of all licensed day care centers and family day care homes was 185,000 children.

Since 1955 it has been a Missouri law that homes caring for more than four children must be licensed. The license is free and is obtained through the county welfare office.

There are 22 community day care centers in Missouri which receive support from Community Chests or United Funds. There are eight non-profit centers sponsored by churches or private voluntary boards. There are 100 privately owned day nurseries and many licensed family dare care homes.

"But the door is open for many more."

Our martin house has space to rent
On first and second floors;
The rooms have baths and double beds
And some have swinging doors.
The edifice has been redone
In brilliant, gleaming white
And turned to where the morning sun
Can make them shiny bright
I simply cannot understand
The emptiness continuing
"And that's me, too," my tomcat says,
Licking his chops and mewing.

Giants Cream Big Red; Lions Packers Hold

ST. LOUIS (AP)— Bill Triplett came home to haunt St. Louis, but Fran Tarkenton was the real magician as the New York Giants oened their 1967 National Football League campaign Sunday with a 37-20 victory over St. Louis.

Bill Triplett, traded by St. Louis to New York after last season, scored two touchdowns, Tarkenton passed for three touchdowns, and three times the alert New York defense intercepted passes by quarterback Jim Hart and turned them into touchdowns.

"I was up for this game," Triplett said, but he added that he sought no revenge. He said he was not surprised at the easy manner in which the Giants rolled through the St. Louis defense in the last half. "We run basic plays," he said, "and sooner or later they're going to work."

But when the chips were down, Tarkenton came through for the Giants. After hitting only two of eight passes on a muddy field in the first half, Tarkenton completed a of 11 in the second half and ended the game with 232 yards.

"It was a wonderful victory," Tarkenton said. "We perhaps were a little too conservative in a2k first half." The Giants bounced back from a 10-7 deficit at intermission.

Johnny Roland, picking up 124 yards for the Cardinals, scored the first St. Louis touchdown, bulling over from the five. Quarterback Jim Hart hit Prentice Gautt on a 19-yard scoring pass on the final play of the game for the second St. Louis touchdown. Jim Bakken, who kicked field goals of 39 and 19 yards, set a new Cardinal scoring record with a career total of 392 points.

Hart, starting his first NFL game, completed 10 of 24 passes for 166 yards.

St. Louis, ahead 10-7, tried an outside kick to start the second half. Jerry Hilderbrand recovered, giving St. Louis a momentary break that went by the wayside with Vince Costello's pass interception at the Cardinal 42.

After that the Giants couldn't be stopped as they won the Eastern Conference opener for both teams.

Johnny Unitas gave a record passing performance — but his Baltimore teammates presented the game ball to another player.

Chicago's Gale Sayers carried the ball from scrimmage seven times, but he didn't carry it very far in experiencing the worst day of his pro career.

Bart Starr lost the ball on interceptions four times in the first half— he threw just three inteceptions all of last season— but then found the target and helped save the Green Bay Packers from a stunning loss.

These were just a few of the wold doings Sunday in the annual football Happening known as the opening of the National Football League.

Unitas completed 23 of 32 passes for a club record 401 yards and Bobby Boyd won the game ball by intercepting two passes, one for a touchdown, as Baltimore held off Atlanta 38-31; Sayers gained just two yards as Chicago was trounced 41-13 by Pittsburgh, and Starr set up a touchdown and field goal with passes as the defending champion salvaged a 17-17 tie with Detroit.

In other NFL action, Los Angeles got past New Orleans 27-13, Philadelphia topped Washington 35-24. San Francisco outlasted Minnesota 27-21 and Dallas beat Cleveland 21-14.

Houston stopped Buffalo 20-3, Oakland trounced Boston 35-7 and Miami drubbed Denver 35-21 in the American Football League.

Unitas, who completed 11 of 15 passes for 255 yards in the first half, combined with Tom Mattee on an 88-yard TD pass play on the first play from scrimmage and also hit Jimmy Orr on a 55-yard scoring strike as the Colts built up a 31-7 lead at intermission.

But the Falcons, who scored in the first period on Ron Smith's 99-yard kickoff return, roared back to make it 31-24 before Matte scored the winner on a 10-yard run in the fourth quarter.

Sayers followed a first-period Pittsburgh field goal by returning the ensuing kickoff 103 yards for a touchdown but was stymied thereafter, gaining just two yards from scrimmage and sitting out most of the second half.

Willie Asbury ran for two Pittsburgh touchdowns and Bill Nelsen passed for another pair.

Detroit opened up a 17-0 halftime lead when Lem Barney ran an intercepted pass back 24 yards for a touchdown, Wayne Walker kicked a 48-yard field goal and Amos Marsh bulled over from three yards out.

Green Bay got on the scoreboard when Elijah Pitts scored from the three. The Packers then closed to within three points when Starr, who ended with 14 completions in 23 attempts for 321 yards, hit Jim Grabowski with a flat pass on the Detroit 45 and the fullback raced to the one, from where Pitts scored.

New Orleans, opening its first NFL season, stunned Los Angeles when John Gilliam ran the opening kickoff back 94 yards for a TD. But then the Rams defense took over to hold the Saints to two field goals.

JIM GREIG, 93, of Winthrop, Mass., begins his 75th year of bowling as anchor man for Aleppo Temple Shrine team of Boston, Mass. Greig, who averages 90, was top bowler in Boston Amateur Pin League 50 years ago, and teammates claim he is the oldest bowler in the nation.

Indians Win 14-7 At Evansville

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Top-rated Springfield State and Cape Girardeau State scored impressive victories, lifting the MIAA to a 3-3 standoff against outside football opposition, while the MCAU surprisingly remained unbeaten.

The MCAU's 4-0-2 record against outsiders looks good beside last year's 16-19 finish. So does the MIAA's .500 compared to 11-16 in '66.

This Saturday MIAA clubs will play six more non-league games. It's a tough lineup. Springfield, 27-13 winner at Emporia State, will play at home against always tough East Texas State. Cape moves from its 14-7 road victory at Evansville to a clash with Delta State, another toughie.

Rolla opened by beating Harding, Ark., 25-14 at Rolla, but the Miners will be underdogs against Pittsburg State at Rolla. Maryville State was beaten by Arkansas A&M 14-0 at home in its opener, but shouldn't have much trouble with Peru, Neb., State at Maryville.

Kirksville State, 18-7 loser to big Southern Illinois, will have more of the same this time with Parsons, Iowa.

Ship the champagne to Philadelphia. It looks like that's where the St. Louis Cardinals will pop their corks.

The Cardinals, who've made a shambles of the traditional down-to-the-wire National League race this season, assured themselves of a tie for the pennant Sunday by nipping Cincinnati 3-2 while second place San Francisco was losing to Pittsburgh 5-4.

Now, St. Louis can wrap it all up tonight by defeating the Philadelphia Phillies. The Giants are idle today so it will take a Cardinal victory to end it.

If they fail tonight, there's always Tuesday or Wednesday. Only an enormous collapse can prevent the Cardinals from winning it all. To tie, the Giants would have to win all their remaining 13 games while St. Louis would have to lose its last 12 straight. Don't bet on it.

In other National League games Sunday, Houston rallied for a 4-3 victory over New York, Philadelphia trimmed Los Angeles 6-1 and Chicago topped Atlanta 5-3.

Mike Shannon doubled home one run and Julian Javier followed with a single to score two more as the Cards did all of their scoring in the fourth inning.

Nelson Briles won his 14th although he left at the end of the fifth. He was hit on the right shoulder by a line drive in the second inning, but continued to pitch until his arm stiffened. Jack Lamabe and Ron Willis preserved the victory.

The reds got their runs on a bases loaded ground out in the thrid and Vada Pinson's homer in the sixth.

St. Louis will pitch Bob Gibson against the Phillies and Don Elsworth.

The Giants were done in by Roberto Clemente's 23rd home run of the year which broke a 4-4 tie in the ninth inning.

The Giants, who fritted away an early 3-0 lead provided by Jim Hart's first inning homer, rallied to tie the score in the top of the ninth on Ollie Brown's run-scoring single. But then Clemente ended it.

The Astros rallied for two runs in the bottom of the ninth to beat the Mets. Hal King's pinch single capped the rally after Bob Aspromonte had opened with a double and scored the tying run when reliever Ron Taylor threw away Bob Lillis' attempted sacrifice.

Triples by Ernie Banks and Glenn Beckert keyed a four-run sixth inning that carried the Cubs past the Braves. Banks' blow drove in two runs. Billy Williams had a home run for the Cubs and Charlie Lau a two-run pinch shot for Atlanta.

Larry Jackson won his fourth game of the year from Los Angeles with home runs by Don Lock and Johnny Callison leading Philadelphia to its victory. Loser Claude Osteen set up a three-run Phillie first with a throwing error and Jackson was home free after that.

WINNING SMILE of Carl Yastrzemski signals another Boston Red Sox victory. The Red Sox, Twins, White Sox and Tigers are locked in one of the tightest races in the history of the American League. "Yaz" has been one of Boston's key men.

UCLA Beats Tennessee 20-16; Texas A & M Upset By SMU

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

B-E-B-A-N spells victory.

If the UCLA Pom-Pom girls used the above as a cheer at Bruin football games, you couldhhardly blame them.

After all, senior quarterback Gary Beban has meant victory for UCLA on most Saturdays during the past two seasons, and he shows little sign of quitting the habit this year.

With about four minutes left in the game Saturday, Beban rolled out and raced 27 yards for a touchdown, giving the eighth-ranked Bruins a 20-16 victory over No. 9 Tennessee.

Beban, who also scored UCLA's other touchdown, got a lot of help from Gregg Jones as he outdueled Tennessee quarterback Dewey Warren.

Jones rushed 16 times for 135 yards and was named the game's outstanding player.

Southern Methodist looked like its still hooked on an old habit when it scored with four seconds left and upset Texas A&M 20-17 after the Aggies had gone ahead 17-13 just 39 seconds before.

A national television audience saw SMU, which won four games last year in the fading seconds, pull it out against Texas A&M when Jerry Levias made a leaping catch in the end zone of a six-yard pass from 5-foot-4 quarterback Inez Perez.

In the only other game involving a Top Ten team Saturday, Bob Anderson scored on runs of seven, five and two yards and pitched out for a fourth TD as No. 10 Colorado beat Baylor 27-7.

Seventh-ranked Southern California trounced Washington 49-0 Friday night, and the rest of the Top Ten including Notre Dame, Alabama and Michigan State, ranked 1-2-3.

White Sox Jump From Fourth To Second In Tight American League Pennant Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Football undoubtedly will grab its share of September headlines despite Eddie Stanky.

But Stanky should be having too much fun in the middle of the American League pennant pile-up to take notice. And he intends to get his kicks all the way to the Playoff Bowl.

"It's got to wind up in a playoff somewhere along the way," the Chicago skipper said Sunday after his streaking White Sox blanked Minnesota 4-0 behind southpaw Gary Peters and charged within one-half game of the league-leading Detroit Tigers.

"Two weeks to go and four teams in contention," Stanky added. "There's no way to avoid a playoff. We just hope that we're in it."

Stanky has promised that "this race will keep football off Page One all month." Sunday, the pennant derby collided head-on with a full schedule of pro football action for the first time. . .and provided enough fireworks to hold its own.

While Peters' four-hitter completed a three-game sweep over the Twins and ran the White Sox' winning string to five games, Detroit and Boston both fumbled away opportunities to gain ground.

Sixth-place Washington tripped up the Tigers 5-0 behind Frank Bertaina's clutch pitching and eighth-place Baltimore slugged the Red Sox 5-2 with a barrage of three home runs. Boston thus fell into a third-place deadlock with Minnesota, one game behind Detroit and one-half length back of the White Sox.

California edged Kansas City 3-2 and Cleveland trimmed the New York Yankees 4-2 in other AL games.

The White Sox, who were 2½ games out of first place Friday morning, jumped from fourth to second place as Peters shackled the Twins for his 16th victory in 25 decisions and Ken Berry drove in two runs with a homer and single.

Tom McCraw's triple and a sacririce fly by Ron Hansen knocked in the other Chicago runs.

Bertaina scattered seven hits, struck out eight and stranded 10 Detroit base runners in halting the Tigers' winning streak at four games.

Frank Howard's first inning sacrifice fly sent home the only run Bertaina needed, but Fred Valentine's run-scoring double in the fourth and a three-run homer by Hank Allen in the fifth kept the Tigers on the run.

"It's going to be a hectic two weeks," said Detroit pilot Mayo Smith, unruffled by the setback. "It's going to be a lot of fun, though, with the end of the road almost here."

Neither did Dick Williams panic after Paul Blair's two-run homer and bases-empty blasts by Boog Powell and Andy Etchebarren powered the Orioles to their third straight triumph at Boston.

"We lose three in a row and we're still only one game out of first," the Red Sox manager said. "I guess we must have had a heck of a lead."

age 18 and over. Prepare now for U.S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Lincoln Service has helped thousands prepare for these tests every year since 1948. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.

CROWDS WAVE AND SING "God Save the Queen" as liner Queen Mary sails from Southampton, England, on her last passenger - carrying voyage to New York. The liner has been bought by the city of Long Beach, Calif., where she will end her days as a floating maritime museum.

Queen Mary Sea Reign Nears End

ABOARD THE QUEEN MARY (AP) — "If you sailed the seas for a hundred years," said the Irish steward, "you'd never come across such a gathering of famous people as this room has seen."

He swept an arm around the Verandah Grill, a black-carpeted room with tall windows looking out to sea— for 31 years and ocean rendezvous for the rich and renowned of Europe and North American. But now, as the old liner sailed into the sunset from Cherbourg on her 994th Atlantic crossing there were only four diners at tables where Windsors, Churchills, Kennedys, dukes, diplomats and movie stars once held court.

Elsewhere in the magnificent first-class quarters of the ship it was the same. In the opulent Midships Bar a solitary, sport-shirted New York tycoon toyed with a champagne cocktail. In the palatial lounge, one of the largest rooms afloat, a four-piece band with sobbing saxophone played fox trots for three couples.

Although westbound voyages traditionally are less busy in high summer than the New York-Europe run, the rooms told their own story why the Queen Mary had to go on the auction block and will end her days as a floating museum and convention center in Long Beach, Calif.

People just aren't traveling in the high old prewar style anymore. If they don't go by jet— one-third the price of a first-class cabin on the Queens— they often choose a one-class or two-class ship.

On the new Cunarder that will replace the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth old-style class distinctions will be abolished. Cabins will sell at varying prices, with public rooms common to all.

For the few who can afford to pay up to $800 for 4½ days of pampered isolation on the Atlantic, however, there will never be a way of travel to match the vanishing Queens.

"When does this place get to England?" asked comedienne Bea Lillie halfway through one voyage, a little dazed by the space and solidity of this floating grand hotel with its 38 public rooms, six miles of carpet, 700 electric clocks and shopping center known as Piccadilly Circus.

Engineers' Mail Heavy On Caruthersville Bridge

CARUTHERSVILLE - The deadline for comments on the proposed Caruthersville bridge plans has passed quietly but Col. James A. Vivian of the Army Corps of Engineers said it would be a few days before he will determine if another public hearing will be called.

Vivian, Memphis district engineer, said there have been many letters from both proponents of the bridge and navigation interests raising questions about the clearances allowed in the bridge plans.

The district engineer stated that he should be able to announce within the week whether another public hearing will be held. Vivian said that it is his hope that another hearing and the delay involved will not be required.

At a meeting held in St. Louis last month to discuss the bridge issue it was made plain that the barge people are not satisfied with the plans for the Mississippi River bridge is proposed by the Coast Guard.

Vivian reported that many letters from public officials and private citizens have come to his office. Most of them, he stated, did not deal with technical aspects of the bridge plan. Instead the most of them said further delays in getting approval of the bridge plans could kill all hopes of the bridge becoming a reality.

He went on to add that he agrees that the bridge question should be taken care of, but added that no government officials have given any indication that the bridge might be dropped from the federal highway program, as the letters stated.

One of the letters was from Vic Downing, State Representative from Bragg City. Bowning said, "I believe you will reject the objections of the special interest group that is trying to prevent the construction of this bridge that is so necessary to the public welfare of the people of this two state area."

A Dyersburg contractor and former member of the Tennessee-Missouri Bridge Commission, Vern Forcum, had stronger words about the situation.

Forcum said, "My picture of the Mississippi Valley Association is comparable to that of an over-indulged brat who has had everything he wants all his life and now has grown up with a very definite idea that he should not be restricted in any way, but it is a God-given right to ask and receive without question."

The contractor went on, "we have as much right to cross a river, any river, at right angles as much as some other citizen has to run up and down the river lengthwise. The fact that one group is strongly organized makes no difference."

The battle over the bridge design is more than two years old The plans drawn up by the Missouri Highway Department and approved by Tennessee and the Bureau of Public Roads have been altered twice to meet demands of navigation interests after rulings by the Corps of Engineers.

The latest design, which calls for horizontal clearances of 900 feet and 500 feet for the navigation spans, was proposed by the coast guard as a compromise. Navigation interests have not remained firm on their demands about the horizontal clearance, which is the focal point of the dispute. They now are demanding two spans of 1064 feet.

Vivian said that it will take some time to digest all of the comments his office has received. Within a week he should know about whether a hearing will be called. If no hearing is required, he will compile the material and make his recommendation to higher headquarters.

Caruthersville To Vote Oct. 3 For Councilman

CARUTHERSVILLE -- An election will be held in the second ward Oct. 3 to fill the city council seat left vacant by the death of Councilman Wyman Dillman.

The election was set by the city council during its meeting Monday night. At that same meeting the Council passed an ordinance re-naming 13th Street from Ward Avenue to Fair Boulevard in honor of Mayor B. F. Rogers. The new name is Rogers Road.

Two second ward residents have already picked up petitions indicating they will seek the council seat held by Dillman. Mrs. L. W. Peck, city clerk, stated that petitions have been picked up by Charles Crowe, operator of a supermarket, and Virgil Edwards, terminal manager for Trucker Truck Lines.

The filing deadline for the special election is Sept. 23.

Long Pushes for Small Business Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to make crime insurance available to small businesses through the Small Business Administration is being urged by Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo.

Long prepared a statement for filing today with Senate subcommittee advocating the bill he is cosponsoring to create a Small Business Crime Protection Insurance Corporation in the SBA.

An increase in crime is placing great economic burdens on small business firms, Long's statement said, and the bill is designed to make crime insurance available to them where it cannot be obtained from other sources on reasonable terms. He said small businesses lose from $15 to $20 million each year from robberies and $130 million from burglaries.

District Attorney Nominee Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)— Calvin K. Hamilton will be nominated by President Johnson to be U.S. Attorney for the Western District of Missouri, with headquarters in Kansas City.

The White House announced Hamilton will be nominated to succeed F. Russell Millin, who retired. Hamilton, a Democrat, has been an assistant U.S. attorney since 1961.

Highway Planning Meeting Set

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri Highway Department will sponsor a meeting in Kansas City Sept. 20-21 to discuss development of a possible Mississippi Valley regional highway system.

Expected to attend are representatives of 14 states and the federal bureau of roads.

States invited to attend include Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

The target is preparation for a regional freeway network to complement the interstate system in the Mississippi basin.

Taul and Brown Have Records Of Years of Civic Service

By Leo Schade

Two Southeast Missourians, Owen J. Taul of Lilbourn, and Tyree F. Brown of Bell City, will be honored in January when they will be among 6,000 whose biographical sketch will appear in the 800-page Outstanding Civic Leaders of America.

Taul has spent almost a half century as teacher and administrator in schools in the Bootheel, as well as 23 years as a leader in Boy Scouting, and 33 years in a Kiwanis club.

Brown, who is an engineer and builder, has taught a Sunday School class in his church 20 years.

Taul was born in Ohio county, Kentucky. He came to New Madrid county as a small boy. As a young man he traveled to the Pacific Northwest and spent almost a year in the shipbuilding yards, only to return to seek a teaching career. He began teaching in 1919, and with the exception of one year when he attended a year of college, he has continued in it. He is principal at Lilbourn high school.

His teaching career included six years as principal and superintendent at Canalou; four months as New Madrid county school superintendent. Since 1934 has been principal at Lilbourn. He was acting superintendent of Lilbourn during World War II when Supt. Lynn Twitty took leave to enter the marines.

He is a member of the Canalou Church of Christ and an adult Bible class teacher.

Tyree Brown

Owen J. Taul

He is a Kiwanis club past president and has served as secretary 22 years. In 1948 he was lieutenant - governor of Kiwanis International; in the Masonic Lodge, he is a 32nd degree Mason, and Scottish Rite Mason.

A leader in the Boy Scout movement 23 years, he was awarded the Silver Beaver award in 1956. In 1960 he led a group of 164 Scouts to the Philmont camp in New Mexico. He was a leader at the National Jamboree at Colorado Springs, Colo. This past summer he led 74 district Scouts to the Expo 67 in Montreal and the National Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.

In 1965 he was made an honorary member of the Future Farmers of America.

Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Rust Brown, spent his youth on a farm.

Following graduation from the Bell City high school, he entered the Rolla School of Mines for one year.

He entered the navy as an aviation electrical technician in World War II. At the end of the war, he returned to his home city to enter business.

In 1949 he married Francis Eakins. They have one son, Fred L. Eakins, 13.

He has served as both Boy Scoutmaster and Cubmaster. He is a member of the Garden Ridge General Baptist church.

He owns and operates an irrigation well drilling unit.

Gaslight Square Narcotic Search Nets 11 Arrests

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Police and federal agents arrested 11 persons in Gaslight Square Friday night as a result of an investigation into the use of marijuana and drugs.

Warrants were issued charging Russell Stokes, 18, with illegal sale of marijuana and Miss Arden Gilpin, 18, with possession. The other nine were released.

Dectective Richard Flynn of the police mobile reserve posed as a hippie to gather information. Flynn said he made a marijuana purchase from Stokes, paying him $5 for seven grams of the weed.

Police said a package of marijuana and a number of pills and capsules were confiscated.

Curtis Says Consumer Credit Fears Needless

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., said Saturday consumer credit is a desirable economic asset and he urged those who view its growth with alarm to have no fear.

"Consumer credit represents a new, growing, exciting and socially valuable economic operation which properly handled makes a great contribution to the well-being of our society," Curtis said.

Curtis, ranking Republican on the House-Senate Joint Economic Committee, addressed the Missouri Consumer Credit Convention.

The congressman said the Soviet Union is beginning to use consumer credit and so "the inherent power behind this exonomic phenomena has to be very great to break through the Communist ideology which it basically contradicts."

However, Curtis said those in the consumer credit field must close ranks against credit for credit's sake.

"There must be an end to this business of seeking to sell consumer goods or services to the public as a front for what really is the business of extending consumer credit," Curtis said.

MRS. ROBERT MATTHEWS spoke to the American Association of University Women Tuesday. Mrs. Matthews holds "The Crucifixion" by Rodney Winfield, a St. Louis artist.

"There is a body of knowledge means of teaching people who in art as well as in science. were illiterate. It was a means The artists were the thinkers of communication."

and creators of the times we live in now. The artist always seems to be ahead of the times."

It was Mrs. Robert Matthews speaking to members of the American Association of University Women Tuesday at her home after dinner at Luber's restaurant.

Mrs. Matthews explained:

"If we are not educated to sensibility to art, we are empty. What we must be so careful of is the value of art to its own time. The first drama was always in the church. This was a

She told the group that society should be an ongoing, moving process. "In modern times we are less concerned with the soul and more concerned with the knowledge," she said. "We are not taught to appreciate or feel sensibility in our times. We must teach our young people sensibilities, non-comformity and some taste."

Twenty one members and guests of the AAUW attended. The next meeting will be Oct. 10 at the home of Mrs. Fred Steck. Richard Smith will speak.

American Marketing System Explained in Series of Ads

The Daily Standard joins 910 nespapers in publishing a series of advertisements explaining the American marketing system.

"The purpose of the educational program is to help consumers understand how they benefit from the American marketing system," C. L. Blanton Jr., Daily Standard publisher, said. This system has produced the highest savings, greater freedom of choice and new and improved products."

The program will outline ten points of the American marketing system.

1. The marketing system makes it possible for a very large number of different goods to be available to the consumer.

2. The marketing system makes it possible for producers of widely varying kinds of sizes of goods to find customers for their products, and to find them at various levels of finished processing.

3. The marketing system adapts itself to the needs of the consumers by providing goods in many outlets, it that is required; or in fewer, more specialized outlets, if that is necessary.

4. The marketing system is flexible in time, too: products with seasonal appeal are more available during their season; nonseasonal products are available throughout the year as demand requires.

5. The marketing system maintains goods inventories to supply normal and abnormal consumer requirements from stock, without special orders, throughout the communities' retail outlets.

6. The marketing system has provided pleasant and attractive physical structures - air-conditioned with nurseries, parking facilities, et al, in which to trade.

7. The marketing system delivers the same goods, at comparable prices, throughout the United States. This is true of non-regional brands - and it is true as well of commodities.

8. The marketing system provices goods of standard quality, size, etc. It is no accident that whatever hardware store is used, one finds that standard screws, bolts, etc., are available in standard lengths and thicknesses.

9. The marketing system facilitates purchase through credit; both direct (charge accounts) and indirect (check cashing).

10. The marketing system educates and informs consumers about the availabilily of goods, their physical characteristics, their prices and their quality.

Throughout the educational program, three broad areas will be reflected:

1. In the United States of America, where Freedom of Choice was introduced and made the foundation of our government through the Bill of Rights, the consumer has the most powerful weapon in the world; the ability to say no... the opportunity not to buy, not to listen, not to go... because there is an acceptable alternative choice provided by the system.

2. Within their life span, the people of our nation where Freedom of Choice has been maintained at home, if need be by sacrifices on the battlefield, have seen products and services constantly improved, with ever widening choices. The sonsumer has always been the one to make the choice.

3. Within the daily experience of every man, woman and child are many benefits of Freedom of Choice at the American Market Place that are recognized... but there are many that are not. By redescribing the familiar, these can be made meaningful. The parking lot at the supermarket, for instance, is truly a part of the distribution system, put there in competition for the consumer's favor.

"If this educational program evokes the reaction 'America must be doing something right', all of us will be grateful", said International Newspaper Advertising Exectuives President Merrell M. DuBois, advertising director of the Gannett Group of thirty newspapers.

The program, produced by the American Association of Advertising Agencies "volunteer agency", McCann-Erickson, will present a weekly message designed to explain to consumers how they benefit from the American Marketing System. "Publishers throughout the United States and Canada are making this educational program possible and we salute them for this public - spirited contribution", said INAE President DuBois.

Christmas Stamp With Religious Theme Ruled Constitutional

WASHINGTON (AP) — Issuance of a Christmas stamp with a religious theme doesn't violate the constitutional guarantee of separation of church and state, a U.S. District Court judge ruled.

The Constitution does not demand separation of religion and state— only church and state— wrote Judge Alexander Holtzoff in rejecting Thursday a Protestant group's bid to block issuance of the stamp by the Post Office Department.

The Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State sought a preliminary injunction to prevent the printing or issuing of a stamp "with a religious symbol commonly associated with the Roman Catholic Church."

The stamp, first issued last Christmas, is a five-color reproduction of Hans Memling's 15th Century "Madonna and Child with Angel," which hangs in the National Gallery of Art.

Apple Crop Dips Sharply

COLUMBIA (AP) - Missouri's apple production this year is estimated at 650,00 bushels by the Missouri Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

The federal-state agency said this will be about 38 per cent below the 1966 output, and 42 per cent under the 1961-65 average. The national crop is placed at 126,140,000 bushels, only slightly below last year.

The state's peach crop is estimated at 320,000 bushels, about 14 per cent above last year and 3 per cent over the 1961-65 average.

The grape crop will be about 700 tons, compared with 3,400 tons last year.

Mix chopped chicken with cream cheese and season with curry powder; use as a spread for teatime sandwiches.

Matthews Now Has Four Girl Scout Troops

MATTHEWS -- Neighborhood Chairman Mrs. Carl Romines, who as a volunteer, guides the Girl Scout program, announced that Matthews now has four active, organized troops, serving 53 girls.

Troop leaders are: Brownie troop no. 36, Mrs. Buddy Gardner and Mrs. C. G. Scott, Jr.; Junior troop no. 27, Mrs. Marcus Koch and Sondra Warren; Cadette troop no. 179, Mrs. Robert Greene, Mrs. Gene Warren and Mrs. Jerry Hester; Senior troop no. 214, Mrs. Henry Cain and Mrs. Goble Trail, Jr.

Rain Helps Beans, No Aid to Cotton

HAYTI -- General rainfall over the Bootheel the past weekend was beneficial to soybeans, but did not aid cotton.

Cool daytime and night temperature is now allowing cotton to mature normally. Cotton is at least four weeks late.

Insect buildup continues. More and more boll weevils are being detected, but no general spray program has been started for them. Bollworms continue to take their toll.

No activity was reported on local markets.

Pimiento-flavored cream cheese (all prepared) makes a quick stuffing for celery to serve as an appetizer or on lettuce as a salad. If you want to combine the cheese-mixture yourself, use regular cream cheese, chopped pimento and green olives.

Exactly what is chutney? It's usually a combination of fruits and vegetables cooked with sugar, vinegar and spices. Chutney is a "must" with curries and is an excellent relish to serve with other meat, fish or egg dishes.

Hearnes Voices Opposition to Grain Control

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes said Missouri will take an official stand in opposition to pending congressional legislation which he said would give the secretary of agriculture unlimited control over grain inspection.

He said he has directed C. C. Dale Stanton, director of the state grain warehouse division of the Department of Agriculture, to appear in opposition to the legislation in Washington hearings this week.

Hearnes said he felt that if states do not act in a strong fashion to provide a grain inspection service the federal government would move in.

The proposed congressional changes, Hearnes said, would do away with the mandatory inspection of grain moving in interstate commerce for domestic purposes, would allow the USDA to provide initial grain inspection instead of acting as an appeal agency and would require state or private inspection agencies to sign cooperative agreements with the USDA — thus giving the federal agency overall control.

Ever add a few whole cloves to black bean soup when you are heating the soup? Interesting flavor. Be sure to remove the cloves before serving.

Two Seek to Be Bloomfield Mayor

BLOOMFIELD -- Two Bloomfield residents are contenders for mayor Tuesday in a special election.

Vernon Taylor, a farmer and former city councilman, and Everett C. Bess, former city water department employe, have filed for the contest.

City councilman Delmer Underwood has served as acting mayor since the resignation of Alvin Corbin.

Polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. according to City Clerk J. C. Newcomer. Ward one will vote at the city hall and ward two residents will vote in the county treasurer's office in the Stoddard county courthouse.

Ann Landers

Bizarre Behavior Still News

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to form a club called the "Down With Hippies Society" or something like that. I am tired of reading about weirdos, pot smokers, LSDers, draft-card burners and the rest of those creeps. Why do we waste valuable magazine and newspaper space and prime TV time on blobs who contribute nothing, have earned nothing and amount to nothing?

These oddballs have the idea that they are something special because they are attracting so much attention. They go around ruining the scenery whenever they appear (just their presence is a blight). They enjoy the stares, hoping someone will start something so they can get into a fight and yell, "I am being persecuted because I am a nonconformist."

I was told recently that I am a square because I have a haircut, a clean neck and wear shoes with laces. I also shower every day and wear trousers that are so loose I can actually sit down in them.

I know I am not alone in my views. There must be others who resent the fact that normal people don't get any time or space or attention. How about it?---DOWN WITH HIPPIES

Dear Down: Here's some space, with more than 50 million readers. I, too, deplore the attention given to people who don't deserve it. But, unfortunately, bizarre and oddball behavior is often more fascinating than decent living. So long as this is one of the unalterable facts of life, the offbeat, the kook and the way-outer is going to grab the center of the stage.

Dear Ann Landers: You probably never heard of a problem like this in your whole like. I am a 12-year-old girl who needs your help. Don't you think a person who is on the verge of being a teen-ager should be able to open the fridge and help herself to a glass of milk or an apple without consulting her mother?

If I was a hog and ate half a pie or a pint of ice cream between meals I would say my mother had a right to be strict about snacking. But I am a sensible girl and not fat or anything.

Yesterday when Mom heard me pouring a glass of milk for myself she said, "Put it back. You must ask me if you want to eat between meals."

Every one of my friends can go into their fridges and eat whatever they want to and you should see the glop they pack in. What is your opinion? --- HUNGRY

Dear Hung: I am assuming your story is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth----in which case the 12-year-old should be free to help herself to a glass of milk or a piece of fruit without asking special permission.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 42-year-old woman, in good health, and have straight morals. I am unmarried and I always did factory work. Now I have a chance to move into a lovely home and take over as a housekeeper.

I am undecided because I don't know what is expected of a housekeeper. ---IDELLE

Dear Idelle: If you have to ask what a housekeeper is supposed to do, forget about taking the job.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents ... if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom." Send 50¢ in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Farm Labor Bulletin

STATE SUMMARY

Hay, pastures, corn, soybean and cotton crop damage extensive, as dry weather continues over most of state. Cool nights slowing cotton development.

West Plains, Poplar Bluff, Kennett areas report beneficial rains, with Springfield receiving slightly over one-fourth inch.

Demands for year-round farm workers increasing.

16 year-round and 64 seasonal farm workers were placed last week, with VFPR's adding 108 additional placements.

St. Louis shipping bus load of apple pickers to Michigan, several crews from Southeast Missouri reporting for apple harvest in North Missouri, cotton picking two to three weeks away, in-plant worker recruitment continuing, worker surplus diminishes.

SOUTHEAST

Sikeston: 202 South Kingshighway - Telephone: Granite 1-2731.

Farm labor activities in four-county area moving into harvest of corn and early soybeans. Cotton harbest still two to three weeks away. No local labor demand and no workers presently available for out-of-area work.

Farm Labor Information Station & Rest Camp, Route No. 2, Sikeston.

The Camp served 305 migrants last week with 5 enroute to Illinois; 5 going to Michigan; and 295 returning to Texas.

Poplar Bluff: 211 Pine Street-Telephone: 785-9606.

A general rain has fallen over this office area which was badly needed. Nine in-plant workers here have been sent to Wisconsin and 21 left for Ohio. Farm Labor demand and supply in balance in this area.

West Plains: 111 Walnut Street-Telephone: 256-3158.

Area received another 1½ inches of rain this week. Local orders still slow. Four farm hands have been referred to North Missouri, two direct and two waiting for Mobility interview travel.

Caruthersville: 300 Ward Street - Telephone: Edison 3-2416.

Farm activities in this area during the week were breaking and leveling of land after corn chopping is being done. Rain is badly needed over the entire area. Extra cool nights have not been good for the maturity of cotton. Labor for out-of-area work is very short.

Cape Girardeau: 231 North Main Street - Telephone: Edgewater 5-6666.

Demand for farm labor on the increase due to early harvest activities. Adequate supply of seasonal labor available to fill all job openings. Short one year-round farm family. Wages offered are $45 per week with housing furnished free to worker. No surplus labor available for out-of-area employment.

Kennett: 405 St. Francis Street - Telephone: Tuxedo 8-3184.

If You Were the Judge

Spanking No Reason To Dissolve Marriage

By Jack Strauss, LL.D.

Herbert was a peaceful and gentle soul. His bride Agatha, on the other hand, cackled continually over petty things. The first year of their marriage, Herbert merely shook his head in despair. The second year, he suggested that she should not let things upset her so. The third year, he finally lost his temper and took his wife over his knees and spanked her.

Blushing where it didn't show, Agatha screamed out of the house and started an action to end her marriage on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

"I realize it was a mistake," Herbert confessed in court, "but there's only so much petty quarreling that a man can take and I took it for three years."

"While his confession might be good for his soul," was Agatha's answer, "it didn't help my backside any."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you unhitch Herbert and Agatha because of Herbert's alleged cruel and inhuman treatment?

This is how the judge ruled: No! The judge held that a spanking applied to the place where a spanking is ordinarily applied may be cruel but it's not inhuman; that the spanking did not endanger Agatha's life or health so as to warrant the termination of the marriage.

(Based upon a 1959 Iowa Supreme Court Decision.)

TODAY'S LEGAL POINTER:

After making out a will, it is very important to inform the person whom you have named as executor that you have made out a will and where you have put it. There's no point in making out a will if it can't be located upon your death.

(For personal guidance, see your local attorney.)

Missionary Society Plans Matthews Visit

NEW MADRID -- The Woman's Missionary Society of the New Madrid Baptist church met Sept. 7 with Mrs. Pearl Throop for its monthly meeting. Fifteen members and one visitor attended.

Mrs. Eulah Hill and Mrs. Estelle Hill presented a program.

The group made plans to visit a nursing home in Matthews Sunday. The church pastor, the Rev. Bob Thedford, will deliver a message. The class will take fruit and other treats.

Crops are benefitting from a rain that started Thursday night and is continuing to fall today. Some growers continue to ship out a few watermelons. Recruting cannery workers for Wisconsin, radio and newspaper publicity is being continued.

Barks Wins Trip

Glenn W. Barks, earned a vacation trip to San Juan, Puerto Rico when Barks and O'Neal Equipment Co. posted an outstanding sales record in a Ford tractor national contest.

His wife joined him.

Mr. and Mrs. John Newcomer announce the approaching marriage of Mrs. Newcomer's daughter, Mary Lucille Marshall to James C. Spivey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Armel Spivey. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. M. G. Joyce at the Methodist Church on September 28.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Collins announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Anne, to Arthur Ziegenhorn. The wedding date will be announced later.

Miss Dorothy Vaughn, 405 East Kathleen street, and Thomas J. Howard, also of Sikeston, have announced the date of their wedding which will take place on September 27 at the Presbyterian Church in Jackson.

High School notes. Seniors have chosen Joe Blanton, 12A, Ann Newsom, 12B, and Betty Waldman, 12C, as candidates for the presidency of the student council through electing them Tuesday as long-term council members. Students will vote to elect one of the three next Tuesday during home-room period.

With cayene Mara Lee Cotten in charge, the Red Peppers elected their sponsors and cheerleaders for the year at their meeting Wednesday. Miss Turner and Mrs. Golladay were chosen as sponsors. After tryouts in the gym Thursday, Jackie Brown was elected head cheerleader and Daphne McNeely, Margie Caldwell and Janet Stevens, other cheerleaders.

Water Pollution Seminar at Dexter

JEFFERSON CITY -- The Missouri water pollution board is conducting water pollution seminars throughout the state. The purpose of the seminars is to explain the required laboratory analysis on the operation of waste stabilization lagoons and waste water treatment plants.

Detailed information will be given regarding the requirements in waste water treatment prior to discharge of the treated waste water into a receiving stream.

The seminar in Southeast Missouri will be held in Dexter, Sept. 27, at 10 a.m. in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

The board requests that representatives of management and operation of waste water treatment facilities serving municipalities, industry, mining and others attend the meeting.

Joy Pasaka Speaks to PEO Sisterhood

Chapter J.U. of the P.E.O. Sisterhood met at the home of Mrs. Pete Malone Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. The program was presented by Joy Pasaka on the subject of fashions in dance. Mrs. Pasaka demonstrated steps from basic social American dances that ranged from the Charleston to the most modern in our society today, the Jerk, Muscle and the Skate. From foreign lands she gave examples of the Tango, Bossanova, and the Cha Cha Cha.

The officers of Chapter JU for the year 1967-1968 are Mrs. JoAnne Fox, president; Mrs. Jim Robison, vice president; Mrs. Rik Leslie, recording secretary; Mrs. John Harper, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bill Hunter, treasurer; Mrs. Bob Mitchell, guard and Mrs. Jack Hunter, chaplain.

The purposes of the P.E.O. Sisterhood are exclusively education and charitable. These purposes are accomplished through three educational philantropies with which the entire membership is concerned. These are: The P.E.O. Educational Peace Scholarship Fund.

The P.E.O. Sisterhood was founded as a college sorority on the campus of Iowa Wesleyan College, Mount Pleasant, Iowa, January 21, 1869. Seven young women students, desiring to perpetuate their bond of friendship, pledged themselves to the selected purposes. Chapters were organized also in neighboring cities and towns.

The time came when all sororities legislated to restrict their chapters to colleges. P.E.O. voted to retain its English letters and its off-campus chapters. Thus the change from a College group to a community group opened the way for growth of the organization. The P.E.O. Sisterhood is now an international organization with thousands of chapters in the United States and Canada.

The Prayer From The Upper Room

Then he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases. (Luke 9:1)

PRAYER: Dear Father, we confess that we have failed to give Thy gospel in the spirit in which it was given to us. May we be kindled with the flame of Thy spirit. Inspire us to preach the gospel with authority. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Today In U. S. History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Sept. 18, the 261st day of 1967. There are 104 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1961, Dag Hammarskjold, secretary general of the United Nations, was killed in a plane crash in northern Rhodesia.

On this date:

In 1793, President George Washington laid the cornerstone of the Capitol building in Washington.

In 1810, Chile declared itself independent of Spain.

In 1850, Congress passed the Fugitive Slave Act, permitting a slave-owner possessing a certificate of ownership to reclaim any slave who escaped into another state.

In 1851, the first issue of the New York Times was published.

In 1931, Japan began the military occupation of Manchuria.

In 1959, Nikita Khrushchev addressed the U.N. General Assembly and called for the disarmament of all nations within the next four years.

Ten years ago— West Germany raised its bank rate and Britain followed suit by raising its rate to the highest level since 1920.

Five years ago— the U.N. General Assembly admitted four newly independent nations: Rwanda, Burundi, Jamaica and Trinidad-Tobago, raising membership to 108.

One year ago— Valerie Percy, 21-year-old daughter of senator-to-be Charles Percy of Illinois, was killed in a savage knife attack in her bedroom.

Girls in Miniskirts Boost Lottery Sales

NEW YORK (AP) — To the surprise of hardly anyone, salesgirls in miniskirts proved to be quite a tonic for the lagging New York State Lottery sales.

"This is the first time I've bought one," said Edward Christman, "and the only reason I did it is because they're here and I'm here."

The state hired 20 young women in yellow miniskirts and blue stockings to hand out promotional material while 10 busy salesmen handled the tickets.

The entourage made nine stops throughout the city and everywhere they went people quickly lined up to buy the tickets. Lottery proceeds go to education.

Warren Attends Staff College in Norfolk, Va.

NORFOLK, VA. -- Navy Commander Billy R. Warren, son of Mr. Rolla Warren of Route 4, Sikeston, Mo., is attending the armed forces staff college.

Under the direction of the joint chiefs of staff, the five-month course prepares officers for command and staff assignments at combined commands. These are commands where the military forces of more than one service or more than one nation are involved.

A graduate of Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau, Mo., Commander Warren entered the service in September of 1951.

He is the husband of the former Betty J. Anderson of Dallas.

Nixon, Percyand Reagan Missouri GOP Favorites

KANSAS CITY (AP)— Missouri Republicans rate Richard Nixon, Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California in that order for the party's presidential nomination, says Lawrence Meisel, state finance chairman for the GOP.

Meisel, mayor of Frontenac, a St. Louis suburb, is directing the finance committee's effort to raise $730,000 for the 1968 election campaign.

Three $100-a-plate dinners will be held Sept. 23 - at St. Louis, Kansas City and Springfield.

St. Louis has set a goal of 1,000 persons at its dinner to hear Sen. George Murphy of California speak, and pledges for 750 tickets have been received, Meisel said Thursday.

Springfield Republicans aiming for 300, have sold more than 150 tickets, he said. The Springfield speaker will be Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee.

Kansas City's goal is 500 diners, who will hear Sen. Percy, and pledges for more than half of the tickets have been received, officials said.

Mary B. Thomas Dies Sunday

Mary B. Thomas, 83, 223 Moore Ave., died Sunday at 6:45 a.m. in Shuffit Nursing Home 3.

She was born Aug. 1, 1884 in Carbondale, Ill.

She is survived by her husband, Charles C. Thomas of Sikeston.

Services were held today at 2:30 p.m. in the Nunnelee Funeral Home, with the Rev. Joseph H. Wagner, pastor of First Methodist church, officiating. The body was removed to the Vanetta Funeral Home in Carbondale, where services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m.

Burial will be in the Oakland cemetery in Carbondale.

Mid-South Fair Expected To Draw 700,000 People

MEMPHIS -- A bustling "city" is springing up on 151 acres of real estate in mid-Memphis and its population is expected to have exploded from about 1,000 persons to 700,000 by Saturday.

The advance guard of construction workers, utility men, concessionaries and a multiplicity of others who put together the Mid-South Fair were under a full head of steam to ready the big Exposition for its nine-day run, starting Friday, and continuing through Saturday.

After everything is set, Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington and a host of other dignitatires will get the 111th Mid-South Fair underway with ceremonies Friday.

Fair President Joe Pipkin predicts about 700,000 from at least eight states of the Mid-South will have passed through the gates before midnight Saturday. A total of 660,443 persons saw the 1966 Fair. That was a record.

Meanwhile, with the opening just days away, the comparative calm and bleakness of the other 11 months of the year has been transformed into a sea of color and activity.

The city effect comes in the installation of myriad telephones, complete with switchboard, a police station, a post office, a bank, a trailer court - all necessary to keeping the city alive for nine days.

The horde of fairgoers will be attracted by such things as a livestock show with prized cattle and swine from 18 states competing for more than $75,000 in premiums; exhibits galore including a navy jet trainer which visitors can fly under simulated conditions; an extensive soybean display; the latest 1968 automobiles; everything in cooking, baking, sewing, flowers, cosmetics; and an elaborate education exhibit which 250 students in Memphis and Shelby county schools have been putting together for almost a year.

That's just a sampling of the very important agricultural, industrial and educational aspects of the fair. Then you get into the entertainment phase and here the doors open wide. The Giant Free-O-Rama, which returns by popular demand, will include Mark Wilson's Magic Land of Allakazam, a new and different magic show which has been acclaimed by 20,000,000 viewers plus audiences overseas; Sabu, one of the country's smallest performing elephants with a variety of 28 tricks; Sensational Parker, who thrills the crowd on a breakaway pole high above the Fairgrounds; and the country junction show with area entertainers.

Also free and of high interest to youngsters and relatives and friends is the youth talent contest which will hold forth for twice-daily shows in the modern youth center. Winners of preliminary competition will meet in the Grand Finals on Wednesday night, in the Coliseum.

Two of the Fair's top free attractions will be in the Coliseum. Eldon Roark, "Strolling" columnist of the Memphis Press-Scimitar, will be back with his very popular "Museum of Unnatural History." And a first for the Fair will be an art festival which will display outstanding works of area artists.

Special days will include Tennessee, Friday, Arkansas, Saturday, Kentucky, Monday, (also FFA and FHA Day); Mississippi, Tuesday, and Missouri, Thursday.

Fairgoers can pay their way into the luxury-seating Mid-South Coliseum to see three days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of the World Championship Rodeo and TV's "Gunsmoke" stars Doc Adams (Milburn Stone) and Festus Haggen (Ken Curtis). Then comes famed Western star Roy Rogers and Dale Evans with a supporting show which includes the immensely popular Sons of the Pioneers singing group for a one-day stand on Thursday, followed on Friday night by Marty Robbins who made all the record charts with "El Paso", "White Sport Coat" and "Singing the Blues."

The Fair feature is reserved for the last night, Saturday, September 30, when the celebrated Jim Nabors comes in with "Gomer Pyle." Gomer will do some of the hilarious routine from his popular national television show and will also treat the fans to his great voice with a number of popular songs.

It all adds up to an extravaganza of merriment and fun for the Mid-South and that's exactly what Fair General Manager Wilson Sparks wants. He says: "Y'all come and enjoy yourselves."

Sharp Reduction Reported in U.S. Missile Edge

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union has reduced U.S. missile superiority from nearly 4 to 1 to less than 3 to 1 this year and has stepped up a production program that will cut the lead still further in 1968, the Institute for Strategic Studies said today.

The authoritative institute reported also that Red China has stockpiled an estimated 30 relatively small atomic bombs, but it said there was no indication that Peking's nuclear program is operational yet.

The private institute was founded in 1958 as an international center for research on defense, world security and disarmament. Its 13-nation council gathers information from private and governmental sources and its own researchers.

The report said Russia nearly doubled its long-range missile arsenal this year and has installed around Moscow antiballistic missiles with nuclear warheads that would permit limited protection against attack.

A British defense ministry expert said earlier this week that the Russians are believed to have developed a giant rocket which releases a shower of H-bombs, each capable of being guided to a separate target.

Graham Closes Crusade on Warning Note

Rev. Billy Graham says the world is heading toward Armageddon and the United States faces a "fire and brimstone" judgment like the ancient city of Sodom.

"God warned Sodom of his wrath and he is warning America," Graham told a record crowd of 53,000 at Municipal Stadium Sunday. "I believe God is giving this nation a chance to repent but the vast majority of America is not heeding His voice."

The crowd at the final service of Graham's 10-day crusade was the largest ever in the stadium. It brought the total attendance to 364,000.

After Graham's sermon, 1,700 persons stepped forward to commit themselves to Christ. Crusade officials said the 10-day total of those seeking salvation was 11,380.

Graham, whose next crusade will be in Japan, revealed that he had been "deathly sick" last week. He said there were four evenings when he didn't know whether he could preach, but managed to do so, although one evening his temperature was 101 degrees.

The evangelist compared the riotous living in Sodom with life in the United States.

He said Sodom was a "combination of Las Vegas and Wall Street" where people were too busy for God in seeking sex thrills and pleasures.

Like many in America today, Lot was rich, he said. "There's a grave danger in affluency, especially with the amount of riches that we enjoy in America."

Referring to the riots in American cities, Graham said he plans to cut down on crusades abroad and concentrate on preaching in the cities. He said the Gospel is the answer to the "screaming, rioting, tearing down and looting."

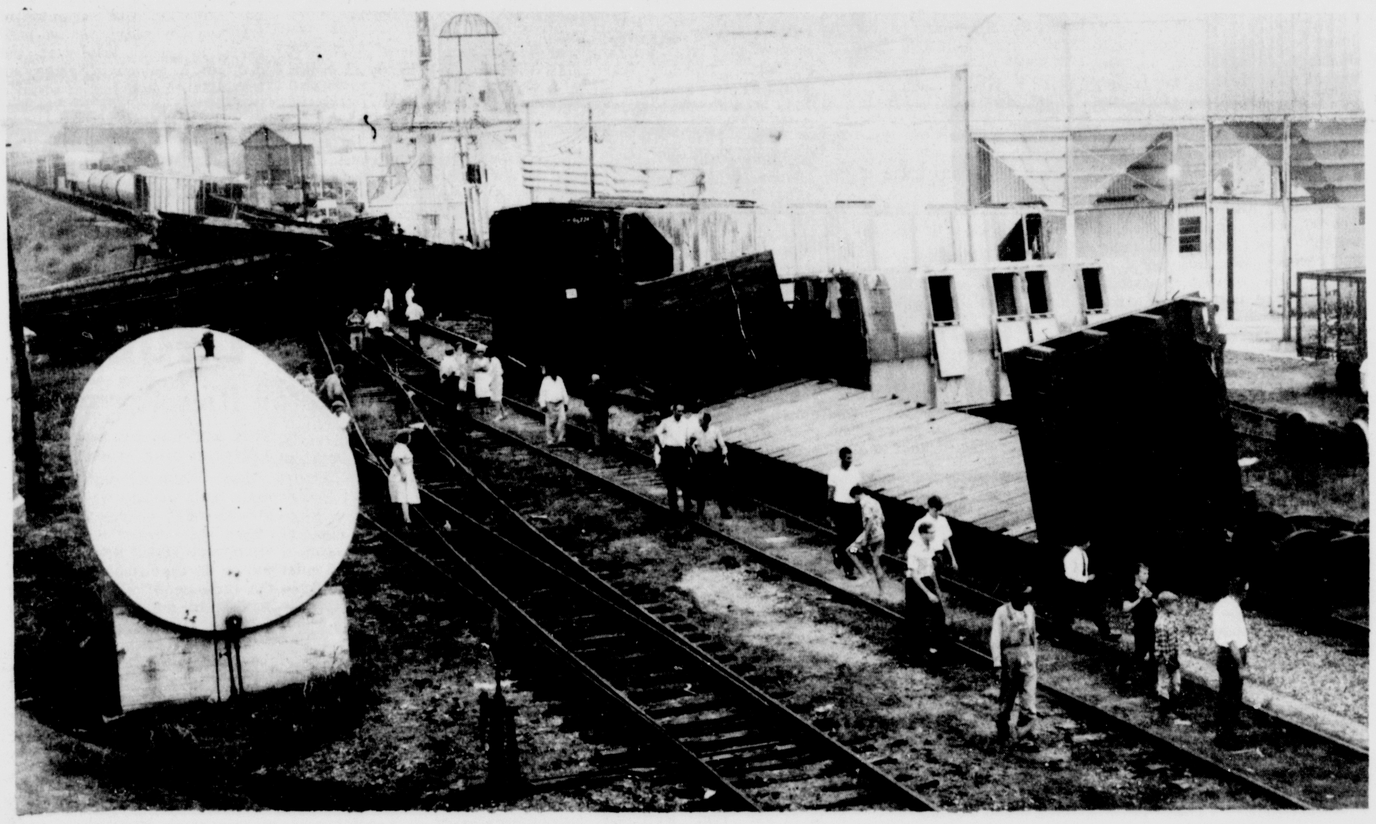
DEANNA TABER, center, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Taber, was named Miss Matthews Saturday afternoon at the Matthews Fall Festival. Bonnie Gammill, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gammill, was first runnerup, and Virginia McCoy, right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace McCoy, was second runnerup.



SIXTEEN CARS of a northbound Frisco freight train were derailed yesterday at the south edge of Portageville at 4 p.m.

Woman Found Unconscious In Tavern at Doniphan

A woman, about 40, identified as Anna May Colman, was found unconscious in a Doniphan tavern Saturday morning.

The state patrol reported that the woman's body was bruised. She was taken to the Ripley county hospital at Doniphan. Her condition was described as critical and she was transferred to Baptist hospital in Memphis.

The patrol sought to identify her more fully. They did not know her address. She was described as being white, 5 feet, two inches tall, weighing 105 pounds with blue eyes and brown hair.

Troop E patrol headquarters in Poplar Bluff said that they would appreciate a call at SU 5-5757 from anyone who knows her address or relatives.

Hester Carlyle, 63, route one, Charleston, was injured Saturday at 9:50 p.m. on highway Z, eight miles south of East Prairie.

She was a passenger in a 1965 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by Albert Koehler, 40, Fenton, and received a wrist injury when the truck ran off the road and crashed into a ditch. She was taken to the Missouri Delta Community hospital.

Two persons were injured in a car tractor accident Sunday at 12:05 p.m. on highway 25 in Delta.

A 1961 Ford, driven by Modie Seabaugh, 69, Cape Girardeau, ran into the rear of a 1952 Farmall tractor, driven by Jacob Schult, 72, Chaffee.

Schult received cuts on his scalp, and a passenger in the Ford, Nora Seabaugh, 69, Cape Girardeau, had a possible head injury.

Both of the injured were taken to the Southeast hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Inquest Called In Shooting

A Sikeston man was shot to death Sunday afternoon following an argument over a half pint of whiskey, Scott County Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Tom Gilmore said today.

Tom "Snag" Lee, 55, 208 Felker, was pronounced dead on arrival at 2:44 p.m. Sunday at Missouri Delta Community hospital. He was a truck driver for the Hunter Gin Co., Police Chief Arthur Bruce said.

Lee suffered two gunshot wounds in the chest according to Scott County Coroner Gene Nunnelee, police said.

James Bostic, 66, 214 Felker, a laborer and handy-man employed by R. D. Clayton, Sikeston, was arrested for investigation of murder in connection with the shooting, Chief Bruce said. Bostic is in the custody of Sikeston police.

A coroner's inquest will be held at 3:30 p.m. today at the police station. No charges have been filed yet, Gilmore said.

A coroner's jury was being called this morning by the Scott county sheriff's department.

The information gathered to date indicates that the shooting might well have been classified as a justifiable homicide, Gilmore said.

The shooting occurred near Lee's cabin on Felker Street, police said.

Bostic was arrested in his cabin and he offered no resistance, Chief Bruce said. A 38 caliber colt pistol containing five unspent cartridges was taken from under a pillow in Bostic's cabin, and five spent 38 caliber cartridges were found in Bostic's cabin, Chief Bruce said.

Another pistol, a 32 caliber automatic, containing seven unspent catridges was found near Lee by a witness who later gave the gun to police, Gilmore said.

Sgt. Leonard Campbell was the first policeman to arrive and found Lee still alive. He was lying on the ground at the rear of his cabin, Campbell said.

One witness counted six shots fired, but apparently no one saw the shooting take place, Chief Bruce said.

According to information from one witness, Bostic had paid $1 toward the cost of a half pint of whiskey and didn't get any whiskey. This apparently lead to the shooting, Chief Bruce said.

Sikeston, Charleston Win Street Awards

Sikeston and Charleston are among 14 Missouri cities which will receive superior achievement awards tonight at the annual meeting and awards banquet of the Missouri Good Roads and Streets Association in Columbia.

The awards, being presented for the first time honor cities for street improvement programs from 1961-66 with special note on their use of funds received under the gasoline tax sharing program.

Sikeston was cited for its improvement of 200 blocks of street paying during the period at a cost of more than $480,000. Local funds supplemented gasoline tax funds for the construction work.

Sikeston also expended $379,278 for street lighting, which affected a total of 150 blocks.

Most of the developed areas in town are now served by mercury vapor lights now, Frank Grimm, office manager of the City Light and Water Department, said today.

Charleston is being honored for its paving of about five miles of streets and curb and guttering at an approximate cost of $300,000, Ricahar Carr, assistant city manager, said.

Street lighting was changed from the old style electric open-face lights to mercury vapor lighting about two years ago, but the cost estimate is not available, Carr said.

Other cities being honored are, Carthage, Columbia, Ferguson, Florissant, Grandview, Jackson, Kirksville, Marshall, Moberly, Nevada, Paris and Sullivan.

Wentzville and Otterville will receive honorable mention awards.

Rex Whitton, former federal highway administrator and former Missouri highway chief engineer, will be the banquet speaker.

Cuba Invites Man in Street To Speak up

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba's leaders are encouraging the man in the street to speak up publicly when he runs into government bungling, inefficiency or waste. The response so far has been brisk.

Most of the complaints have to do with consumer services but Communist party organizer Armando Hart has made clear they should not stop there.

Addressing the Central Organization of Cuban Trade Unions, Hart said: "If something runs badly or there is a weakness in a party branch, you must go there and discuss it right up to a municipal level; and if it is not solved then write to the provincial bureau of the party."

The official Communist organ Granma began publishing a column of public criticism in July shortly after Capt. Jorge Enrique Mendoza replaced the newspaper's original editor, Isidoro Malmierca, a member of the party central committee who was transferred to the National Fishing Institute.

Called "Popular Criticism," the column started off slowly but has picked up momentum in recent weeks. Its motto promises that "every problem should have a solution or an explanation."

Typical of its letters was one from Jose Rodriguez Ramos of the Vedado section of Havana. He wrote that bread arrives in his neighborhood late and in bad condition. Hugo Garcia Morales of the state flour enterprise replied saying the situation would be corrected.

Although many of the official replies come wrapped in platitudes and promises, the column apparently offers the forum for the criticism the government is encouraging.

N.Y. Teachers Still out

NEW YORK (AP) — "No settlement" was reported today following an all-night bargaining session on the public school teachers walkout, now entering its second week.

Resort Disaster Probe Ordered

MT. WASHINGTON, N.H., (AP)- Eight persons were killed and more than 70 injured Sunday when a train fell off the cog railway on Mt. Washington and landed in a gorge.

One passenger said the mountain excursion train had broken free and rolled down about 500 feet before it reeled off the cog railway and crashed.

Gov. John W. King, who rushed to the scene, ordered "a full scale investigation" by the state Public Utilities Commission. He said it would begin today.

It took rescue workers using a flat bed railway car about four hours to bring the dead and injured to the base of the Mountain. The number of persons on the train could not be determined immediately.

The accident happened about one-third of the way down the 3 1/2 miles of track along the west side of the 6,288-foot mountain in the center of the presidential Range of the White Mountains.

Seven Injured in Weekend Mishaps

Seven were treated over Saturday and Sunday in the Missouri Delta Community hospital for injuries.

$500 Worth of Items Stolen

BELL CITY -- Merchandise valued at about $520 was taken in a breakin at the Bell City Lumber Company last night, the sheriff's office reported.

Taken were a portable television set valued at about $380, a record player valued at about $90 and two radios valued at about $50.

The sheriff's office is investigating.

First Baptist Church Approves $518,961 Building Program

The congregation of the First Baptist church voted unanimously Sunday night to award the building contract for its new church to Brown Construction Company of Dexter.

The construction cost will be $518,961.

This is the first phase of a building program which will add a sanctuary later.

The first phase will provide auditorium to seat 600 and educational facilities for 700. Groundbreaking at the site on North Main Street across highway 61 from the Missouri Delta Community hospital will be on Oct. 1.

Construction will begin soon. The new plant will take a year to build on an eight-acre tract.

The new plant includes a large foyer connecting the worship area with the educational facilities, an office suite, a women's parlor and bride's dressing room, a large dining area, a choir rehearsal and robing room, and a covered driveway, which will accommodate two-way traffic arriving at the rear.

A free standing spire, towering 88 feet, with a cross at the top, will be near the corner of Sikes and highway 61 and will accent the contemporary architecture of the building.

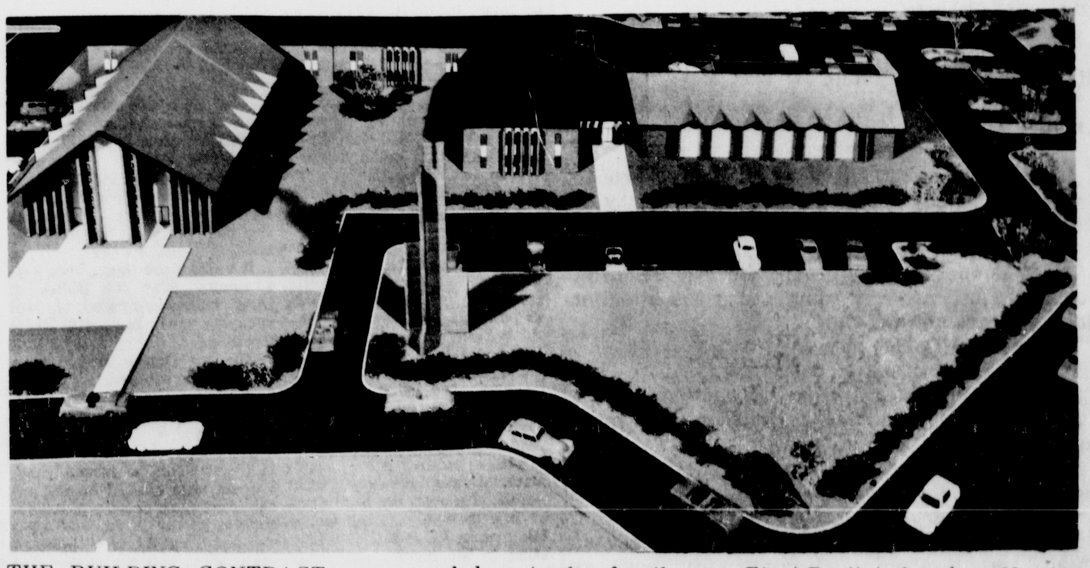
The buildings will be air-conditioned and fire resistant. They will be constructed of red brick.

The beginning of construction climaxes months of planning, consultation with denominational leaders and architects. The building plans committee is composed of Fred Steward, chairman, Beatty Miller, Castor Alsup, Floyd Presley, Milton Sadler, F. F. "Bud" Collins, and Melvin McMackins.

Serving on the building finance committee are Lenzi Beck, chairman, Bridwell Crenshaw, Dr. C. Wendell Weathers, Pat Lea, Don Black, Lynn Thompson and John W. Davis.

Buchmueller and Whitworth are the architects.

The present church is on 201 South Kingshighway.



THE BUILDING CONTRACT was awarded yesterday for the new First Baptist church on North Main street across highway 61 from the Missouri Delta Community hospital. A 600-seat capacity auditorium is at the right. The educational building is in the center, back of a free standing spire. The structures will cost $518,961. The sanctuary at the left will be added later.

16 Frisco Freight Cars Derailed

PORTAGEVILLE -- Sixteen cars and a diesel engine were derailed on a northbound Frisco freight train at the south edge of Portageville at 4 p.m. yesterday on the Frisco tracks.

A Frisco spokesman said there were no injuries in the derailment, which was caused by an unidentified equipment failure.

Only three of the cars were loaded but the railroad said these cars remained upright and none were split open.

The engineer was Fred Swepkter of Chaffee.

The tracks were reported to be clear today.

Wilson Wins Idea Award

COLUMBIA -- Jerry Wilson, advertising manager of the Sikeston Daily Standard, returned Saturday after attending a workshop for 36 managers of Missouri dailies.

He was awarded first place for having the best display advertising idea. He received a plaque and $20 cash award.

Wilson is president of the Missouri Advertising Managers Association.

GM Hike Announced

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors today became the second auto company to boost prices of its 1968 cars as it announced the new line would carry sticker prices averaging $110 higher than a year ago.

Gateway Arch Rides Reopen

ST. LOUIS (AP)— The transportation system inside the Gateway Arch went back into operation today after a four-day layoff because the train developed a jerky ride.

Leroy R. Brown, superintendent of the National Park Service, said the train's difficulty was caused by "a combination of things." He added, "it wasn't one problem or a failure in one device as we thought for a while."

Brown said the trouble that developed in the system showed that the park service will have to set up a program of preventive maintenance on the equipment.

$45,000 Grant for Migrant Health Aid

LILBOURN -- The Delmo Housing Corporation has received a migrant health grant to provide health service to agricultural migrants of Mississippi, Scott, Stoddard, New Madrid, Pemiscot and Dunklin counties.

The federal grant, made by the Public Health Service through the Migrant Health Act, was for more than $45,000, Francis James, project coordinator, said.

The grant is on a 90-10 matching basis, with the federal government providing 90 per cent of the cost and Delmo providing 10 per cent in kind services, he said.

The Bootheel migrants are home-based.

The Delmo migrant health project is now in its third year of operation. This is the first time that funds have been awarded to provide health services.

As soon as a registered project nurse can be secured, diagnostic and treatment clinics will be scheduled and held in doctors' offices of the area.

An agricultural migrant is defined as a person who is now or has been within the past two years, primarily engaged in agricultural or related seasonal industry, and must move so far from home while working, that a temporary residence is established away from home. In other words a migrant followed the harvest and is away from home several months of the year.

To aid in planning for the present and future programs, persons who think they might be eligible as migrants are invited to register so that their eligibility may be determined.

Send a postcard or letter to: Delmo Migrant Health Project, Box 354, Lilbourn, Mo. 63862. Give your name, address, and number of dependents.

List also illness or health needs, if any.

Detroit Teachers Approve Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit teachers today ratified a proposed new two-year contract, signaling an end to a strike that has kept Detroit's public school doors closed to some 300,000 pupils for two weeks.

The unofficial ratification tally was 3,346-374 in favor of acceptance of an agreement worked out in an all-night bargaining session.

The proposal called for an $850 across-the-board annual increase for two years and a 39-week school year.

Seven Injured in Weekend Mishaps

Seven were treated over Saturday and Sunday in the Missouri Delta Community hospital for injuries.

$500 Worth of Items Stolen

BELL CITY — Merchandise valued at about $520 was taken in a breakin at the Bell City Lumber Company last night, the sheriff's office reported.

Taken were a portable television set valued at about $380, a record player valued at about $90 and two radios valued at about $50.

The sheriff's office is investigating.

NEW YORK (AP) — "No settlement" was reported today following an all-night bargaining session on the public school teachers walkout, now entering its second week.

Beulah Heads for Texas Coast

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)— Hurricane Beulah, a growing killer on a slow prowl of the warm Gulf of Mexico waters, turned slightly toward Texas' southernmost tip today.

The Weather Bureau warned that Beulah was an increasing threat to the coast.

First Baptist Church Approves $518,961 Building Program

The congregation of the First Baptist church voted unanimously Sunday night to award the building contract for its new church to Brown Construction Company of Dexter.

The construction cost will be $518,961.

This is the first phase of a building program which will add a sanctuary later.

The first phase will provide auditorium to seat 600 and educational facilities for 700. Groundbreaking at the site on North Main Street across highway 61 from the Missouri Delta Community hospital will be on Oct. 1.

Construction will begin soon. The new plant will take a year to build on an eight-acre tract.

The new plant includes a large foyer connecting the worship area with the educational facilities, an office suite, a women's parlor and bride's dressing room, a large dining area, a choir rehearsal and robing room, and a covered driveway, which will accommodate two-way traffic arriving at the rear.

A free standing spire, towering 88 feet, with a cross at the top, will be near the corner of Sikes and highway 61 and will accent the contemporary architecture of the building.

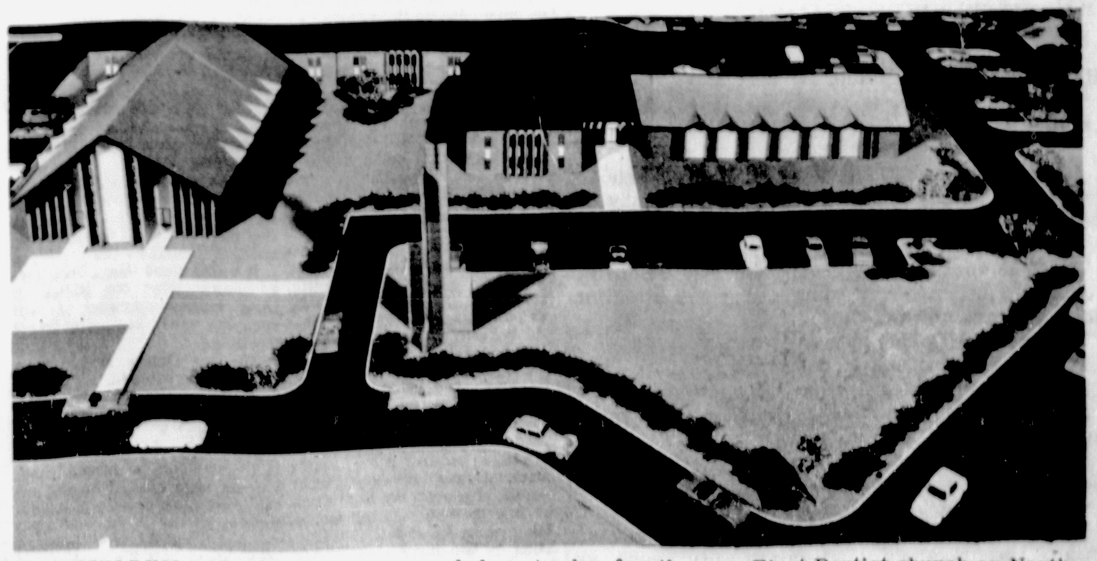
The buildings will be air-conditioned and fire resistant. They will be constructed of red brick.

The beginning of construction climaxes months of planning, consultation with denominational leaders and architects. The building plans committee is composed of Fred Steward, chairman, Beatty Miller, Castor Alsup, Floyd Presley, Milton Sadler, F. F. "Bud" Collins, and Melvin McMackins.

Serving on the building finance committee are Lenzi Beck, chairman, Bridwell Crenshaw, Dr. C. Wendell Weathers, Pat Lea, Don Black, Lynn Thompson and John W. Davis.

Buchmueller and Whitworth are the architects.

The present church is on 201 South Kingshighway.



THE BUILDING CONTRACT was awarded yesterday for the new First Baptist church on North Main street across highway 61 from the Missouri Delta Community hospital. A 600-seat capacity auditorium is at the right. The educational building is in the center, back of a free standing spire. The structures will cost $518,961. The sanctuary at the left will be added later.

16 Frisco Freight Cars Derailed

PORTAGEVILLE — Sixteen cars and a diesel engine were derailed on a northbound Frisco freight train at the south edge of Portageville at 4 p.m. yesterday on the Frisco tracks.

A Frisco spokesman said there were no injuries in the derailment, which was caused by an unidentified equipment failure.

Only three of the cars were loaded but the railroad said these cars remained upright and none were split open.

The engineer was Fred Swepkter of Chaffee.

The tracks were reported to be clear today.

Wilson Wins Idea Award

COLUMBIA — Jerry Wilson, advertising manager of the Sikeston Daily Standard, returned Saturday after attending a workshop for 36 managers of Missouri dailies.

He was awarded first place for having the best display advertising idea. He received a plaque and $20 cash award.

Wilson is president of the Missouri Advertising Managers Association.

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors today became the second auto company to boost prices of its 1968 cars as it announced the new line would carry sticker prices averaging $110 higher than a year ago.

Gateway Arch Rides Reopen

ST. LOUIS (AP)— The transportation system inside the Gateway Arch went back into operation today after a four-day layoff because the train developed a jerky ride.

Leroy R. Brown, superintendent of the National Park Service, said the train's difficulty was caused by "a combination of things." He added, "it wasn't one problem or a failure in one device as we thought for a while."

Brown said the trouble that developed in the system showed that the park service will have to set up a program of preventive maintenance on the equipment.

$45,000 Grant for Migrant Health Aid

LILBOURN — The Delmo Housing Corporation has received a migrant health grant to provide health service to agricultural migrants of Mississippi, Scott, Stoddard, New Madrid, Pemiscot and Dunklin counties.

The federal grant, made by the Public Health Service through the Migrant Health Act, was for more than $45,000, Francis James, project coordinator, said.

The grant is on a 90-10 matching basis, with the federal government providing 90 per cent of the cost and Delmo providing 10 per cent in kind services, he said.

The Bootheel migrants are home-based.

The Delmo migrant health project is now in its third year of operation. This is the first time that funds have been awarded to provide health services.

As soon as a registered project nurse can be secured, diagnostic and treatment clinics will be scheduled and held in doctors' offices of the area.

An agricultural migrant is defined as a person who is now or has been within the past two years, primarily engaged in agricultural or related seasonal industry, and must move so far from home while working, that a temporary residence is established away from home. In other words a migrant followed the harvest and is away from home several months of the year.

To aid in planning for the present and future programs, persons who think they might be eligible as migrants are invited to register so that their eligibility may be determined.

Send a postcard or letter to: Delmo Migrant Health Project, Box 354, Lilbourn, Mo. 63862. Give your name, address, and number of dependents.

List also illness or health needs, if any.

Detroit Teachers Approve Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit teachers today ratified a proposed new two-year contract, signaling an end to a strike that has kept Detroit's public school doors closed to some 300,000 pupils for two weeks.

The unofficial ratification tally was 3,346-374 in favor of acceptance of an agreement worked out in an all-night bargaining session.

The proposal called for an $850 across-the-board annual increase for two years and a 39-week school year.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

AN OLD AUTUMN RITE

Householders used to keep track of the date in late fall on which they first lighted their furnace fires. Often the man of the house would keep a penciled record on the boards of the coal bin, and if a year came in which the furnace was not lighted, say, until late November, the year thereafter became a sort of marvel or at least a point of reference. This simple rite is one more bench market of family life that has been swept away. Nowadays no one lights a furnace fire -- the heat is supplied by an automatic system and it simply "comes on." Sometimes the heat comes on during a chilly night in August, an event that occasions comment but is not held of lasting significance. And as for coal bins, where are they? Some, no doubt, are still preserved as repositories for old furniture, kindling and fireplace logs, or perhaps for laundry equipment, but in the main the coal bin seems nearly extinct.

By an Act of the United States Congress and by Presidential Proclamation, September 17 through 23 is CONSTITUTION WEEK. This week affords opportunity for the schools and churches to hold appropriate ceremonies to inspire all of our citizens to keep the faith of our Founding Fathers. This is a religious Nation, and we are a religious people. Running through all American history are the golden threads of religious conviction. Our Country will survive as long as she remains loyal to her spiritual heritage. Let's hold fast to our heritage and give thanks.

CALL FOR HELP

While Big Government, Big Business and Big Labor seem to be the most-quoted about the affairs of the nation and especially our economy, we believe that the story of the American Motors Corporation deserves more attention--as well as other smaller businesses--and understanding as further pressures build up.

For the second time in its 13-year history, American Motors is asking the United Auto Workers for help in the company's fight for survival. Being the smallest of the remaining four major auto companies, they asked the UAW to drop its wage-"fringe" demands and extend present contract terms for two more years.

In the first nine months of its fiscal year, ending Sept. 30, American Motors lost nearly 48 million dollars. Additional losses are expected in the current quarter. Their officials says the company needs time to recover from its current financial distress.

What is most important is that if American Motors should fail, some 22,800 union members would lose their jobs.

The UAW has asked the American Motors for a new contract comparable to the ones it is seeking from General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

The American Motors has had a profit-sharing plan since 1964 with the UAW but it has been inoperative because of the company's financial position.

So now the chips are down for another smaller business and it will be interesting to see what the union decides on its fate. Things have changed in America as anyone can see -- but is it for the better?

There is one minority group in Sikeston entitled to sympathy, understanding and more attention than they are getting.

They are the golden agers.

They need something to do.

Many could use more cash but that isn't a problem exclusively theirs and there are many agencies dealing with it.

Age often produced enforced idleness, loneliness, a sense of futility and a strong desire to cultivate friendships and do worthwhile things.

Overcoming these conditions isn't as easy as might be imagined. A community, such as Sikeston, isn't geared to provide the answers automatically.

Most of the efforts are concentrated on meeting the needs of younger, more aggressive residents, whose own busy lives lack the emptiness experienced by the aged.

Churches often minister to the needs of the aged but a great opportunity exists in Sikeston is for a broader community-wide program.

The effort to give all golden agers more to do could be made with a relatively small expenditure of money, time and effort.

Organization of a club for the oldsters could be sponsored by a group of Sikeston clubs, the churches, the Chamber of Commerce or another single organization.

A club house or meeting place, stocked with books, magazines, card tables and possibly craft materials, would be desirable.

Aside from the effort to entertain or amuse the aged attention should be directed to giving them constructive tasks to accomplish for the benefit of the community.

As individuals they possess many skills -- a resource that the community needs and which should not be lost to it.

Helping the aged could become a two-way street. The contributions could flow both ways and the community as well as the oldsters would benefit from it.

It is time that something be done to help them and for the rest of the community to obtain their active help in a united community betterment effort.

WHY?

If there is one thing about the newspaper business, we hear from all types of people on every imaginable subject -- and people are beginning to ask the right questions about the critical issues.

Questions like these:

Why don't we win the war in Vietnam or get out?

Why don't we start worrying about the victims of crime, instead of coddling the criminals?

Why don't we cut back on domestic spending, instead of raising taxes?

Why do we permit trade with Communists when our boys are fighting them in Vietnam?

Why don't we curb labor's disruptive power?

Why doesn't Congress enforce the strict ethics on its members that are in the Constitution now?

Why doesn't Congress vote to reduce our enormous national debt and strengthen the dollar?

It's a good sign that people are asking questions like these. Unfortunately, we believe they're getting too many wrong answers from the Administration and its bureaucrats as well as too much of the nation's news media.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — It was several weeks ago that my wife first noticed some insulation sifting out of the basement wall. It dusted her washing machine like an occasional snow flurry, only it was brown.

Lucile— that's her name— suggested I find out what needed doing, and do it.

A member of that frustrated legion whose do-it-yourself talents are limited to replacing light bulbs, I looked hard at the insulation gap. It was oozing from a hole where a vent— heating, I think, and the foundation didn't quite come together.

It looked to me like a grave structural flaw, and I said as much.

In fact I said, "This looks like a job for a contractor."

Lucile said that was silly, especially with the dentist being as patient as he was about that old balance on the bridge job.

The insulation continued to sift ominously onto the washing machine. I decided to devote part of a recent weekend to demonstrating the job was beyond me.

I began pulling at the bulging material and it came away readily. I shoved my hand deeper into the hole and felt something move. I also felt a searing sting on two fingers and jerked my hand back.

With it came 20 sleepy bumblebees, getting their first look at the outside world, and a handful of little white eggs. These fell into the box I had placed on the washing machine.

Other bees, seemingly less sleepy, began flying out of the hole.

I grabbed a rag and stuffed it into the hole. My wife ran for outdoors with the box of bees and near-bees.

Then we began killing basement bees with flyswatters. Except for the two that had stung me, they were as sleepy as they were huge, and we got them all.

The rag in the hole seemed a frail defense against those still poised in their nest of insulation.

I took a can of insect spray. With Lucile ready to bat clean up with a swatter, I jerked out the rag and let fly with the spray.

It was a close thing. Bees kept advancing over the bodies of their fallen comrades, I kept spraying and my wife kept swatting.

The bee charge slowed to a trickle, then stopped. I gave the hole a final burst, jammed the rag back into it, and gently keeled over.

If time had permitted reading instructions on the insect bomb, I would have read, "Do not inhale fumes. Do not use in a confined area."

I had inhaled, in a confined area, about half the contents of the can.

The pharmacist said rest and fresh air were the best antidotes for that sort of thing, and they were.

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL FREEDOM MARCH WAS THE ONE IN COVERED WAGONS

That, too, was made by Americans - looking for work. No demands, no subsidies, no claim anyone owed them anything. They traveled mostly on foot and through deadly danger, to where there was work to do (they didn't ask it be brought to them nor created for them).

Many had never been prosperous - their little farms were worked out, or their skills weren't very good. But their self-respect was real enough to drive them through thousands of miles of unspeakable hardship, and there create their own jobs and their own futures.

And that courage and self-respect and hard work were what made America's splendid West.

NEW PAY PLANS

When Samuel Gompers was asked, a couple of generations ago, what organized labor wanted, he gave a one-word answer -- "more." Judging from the actions of labor leaders in more recent years, it appears that this simple statement of objectives must be revised. As the time for negotiation on large contracts approaches, prominent labor leaders seem always to ask not only for something more but also for something new. Their efforts and ingenuity are devoted not to simply gaining increases in the existing forms of compensation but to devising new forms.

Two concepts are prominent in the current discussion of new labor demands: first some kind of "guaranteed pay" and, second, a "share of profits" for employees. Various specific proposals are made for implementing these objectives.

We will not try to pronounce judgment here on whether such innovations are workable or equitable in any particular company or industry. But it does seem appropriate to inquire into the effects on employees, employers, and the economy generally should these proposals be widely accepted.

The common assumption is that the introduction of pay guarantees and of profit sharing would give the employees something more, on top of what they would otherwise get. Yet to anyone familiar with economic history this is by no means obvious. Over the years, both before and after unions became an important influence in the labor market, the real compensation of employees (in all forms) has gone up roughly parallel to the growth in productivity of the economy. Indeed, it is hard to see how it could be otherwise since this is the only significant source from which increased compensation can be paid. We suspect that the same parallelism between growth in compensation and gain in productivity will obtain in the future.

If this is so, it follows that neither guaranteed pay plans nor profit sharing will, in the long run, increase the total of compensation to employees above what it would otherwise be. Whatever additional amount they get by these routes will reduce the gains they might have obtained in other ways -- an hourly pay increase for example.

That is not to say that these proposals would not have important economic effects. They would represent a change in the way the individual employee's compensation is determined, rather than primarily a long-run gain in the total compensation of all employees. It is on the basis that the economist must appraise them. There are pluses and minuses that should be given careful thought.

A pay guarantee means that pay gains for those workers who are needed continually are diluted by the necessity of paying those whose labor is needed only intermittently. Persons who might be more productive in another job if they were released temporarily are kept on since they have to be paid anyway. Persons who might have been employed will not have jobs since companies would, where the decision is a close one, hesitate to hire people if their pay becomes an overhead expense.

Profit sharing means not necessarily that employees get more compensation but that part of their compensation becomes contingent on the business fortunes of their employer. In certain cases this arrangement might be an advantage to the employees and in other cases a disadvantage, and the same might be said of their employers. In any case, it amounts to the hired workers sharing the financial risks of the enterprise.

Clearly these proposals for changes in the way people are paid for their services need a careful and thoughtful analysis. Unfortunately they are not likely to get it in the heat of labor disputes.

BEST WEEK OF ALL

OF ALL THE WEEKS in the year National Newspaper week should be the best of all. It brings to the attention of the public their heritage of Freedom of the Press. No other media has done so much for the growth of our country and business than newspapers, be it weekly or daily. Continued circulation growth in every field of newspaper publishing shows that when business wants to reach the people, it counts on newspapers.

Doc. Duncan Says

DOC DUNCAN SAYS: This is a strange world. Auto makers and Labor never mention car buyers in their hassel.

Farmers and millers, business and lawmakers apparently ignore consumers in their hassel over excess profits. Apparently they all forget consumers hold the key to it all and could throw a monkey wrench in it all without uttering one word of warning. Just back up and zip up their pocketbooks for a spell.

H.L. Hunt Says

TO SPREAD THE FREEDOM STORY

Boards of Counselors, made up of adults who like to work with young people, for Youth Freedom Speakers Chapters find a wide range of highly worthwhile activity open to them. Three capable men and women in a city should act as a steering committee to form a Chapter. It is important that they dedicate themselves to keeping the Chapter non-denominational, non-partisan, and free from endorsing candidates for office.

To implement authorized activities, the Board of Counselors should establish Committees of Three. Such committees may be established to enlist volunteer youth speakers, solicit invitations for YFS speakers, arrange for publicity, suggest news releases, encourage gifted writers of letters to the editor and commend publications which publish their activities, form and maintain a liberty alert telephone group to promote public interest in freedom activities and news, invite prominent orators to visit and address groups desiring them, arrange for YFS local and inter-city contests, prepare YFS contests between schools and colleges, and prepare state, regional, national and international contests.

The Youth Freedom Speakers movement can do much to save our Republic. The enemies of freedom are nearly always prepared to speak briefly at the drop of a hat or to make an impassioned address to advance their cause. Friends of freedom who are losing the battle can seldom be found who can speak with eloquence, if at all. This deficiency must be overcome if those who love our country are to win. Youth Freedom Speakers can aid greatly in overcoming it. HLH

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON -- Six members of the British house of commons who oppose the war in Vietnam were in Washington interviewing high government officials last week. Simultaneously the leaders of the American house of representatives who favor the war in Vietnam kicked the British in the seat of the pants by knocking out a provision to buy 16 wooden British - built mine sweepers, costing $180 million. In return, the British were going to spend 2.5 billion buying our TFX airplane-- now the F111. Later the Senate reluctantly concurred with the house.

The British MPS didn't know much about the American congressmen who kicked them in the backside, and the American congressmen didn't know much about the British MPS whom they kicked. The American congressmen, chiefly hawks, didn't know, for instance, that they were doing the British MPS a great favor in strengthening their peace position inside the labor party.

And the British MPS didn't know that the congressman who introduced the kick, Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., had managed to wriggle out of a flagrant conflic - of- interest case.

During their stay in Washington, the British parliamentarians were asked about unethical conduct in the house of commons -- specifically whether they had any cases of Doddism. They showed that they had not.

In contrast, Rep. Byrnes, author of the amendment killing the 16 wooden mine sweepers, had been involved with Bobby Baker, the senate secretary now convicted of influence - peddling.

In 1960, Byrnes intervened with internal revenue to get a favorable ruling for the mortgage guaranty insurance company of Milwaukee, and persuaded the treasury to reverse two previous rulings which would have made MGIC's reserves subject to corporate income taxes. As a result of this favorable ruling, MGIC stock skyrocketed in value.

As an obvious reward, Rep. Byrnes was permitted to buy a block of MGIC stock at the very low price of $2,300. His profit zoomed up to $26,000.

When all this came out during the Bobby Baker investigation, the GOP congressman from Wisconsin got on the house floor, wrung his hands and almost wept to his colleagues that he had done nothing wrong.

"I deny that I have engaged in any unethical conduct," he moaned. He proposed giving his stock profits to charity.

This self - righteous wailing, however, did not hide the fact that Byrnes had violated Criminal Code 18, Section 281, which prohibits a congressman from receiving pay for lobbying with the U.S. Government. The Johnson administration did prosecute Bobby Baker, Democrat, but not Rep. Byrnes, Republican.

AMERICAN HAWKS

The above was not known to the parliament members who were asked about British ethics and saw their government kicked in the seat of the pants.

And what the congressional hawks who administered the kick did not know was that indirectly they were helping the British doves and also undercutting British support for the American position in Vietnam.

The American congressmen who led the drive against the 16 wooden British mine sweepers were, in addition to Byrnes, Reps. Mel Laird of Wisconsin, Jerry Ford of Michigan and Glen Lipscomb of California, all Republican hard-liners regarding Vietnam. The Democrats included John Rooney, The Brooklyn isolationist, Mediocre Domin Daniels, N.J., and Edward Garmatz, a nondescript Baltimore congressman, all of whom like to twist the lion's tail.

What they didn't know was that in twisting the British lion's tail they were strengthening the hand of the British laborites who oppose the labor government's support of the United States in Vietnam. This has become a major issue inside the labor party.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson has steadfastly supported President Johnson in Vietnam but it's cost him plenty of headaches. In his own district, Huyton Inliverpool, a recent poll conducted by the council for peace in Vietnam showed in 87 per cent sentiment for withdrawing British support from the USA.

LABOR PARTY TROUBLE

The trade union congress of nine million members in 1966 voted by a majority of 250,000 to stop the bombing of North Vietnam. Last week the same trade union congress voted by a 1,300,000 majority for a strong resolution against Prime Minister Wilson's support of the USA.

Sentiment has become so strong that it will be difficult for Prime Minister Wilson to ignore it, especially since he was critical of the late Hugh Gaitskill, who when leader of the labor party was sometimes considered independent of his party. Now Wilson appears to be even more independent than the man he criticized.

This is why Wilson will be in a predicament as a result of the congressional turn-down of the 16 wooden mine sweepers. Members of his party are already criticizing him for agreeing to spend $2.5 billion on the American F111.

All this will come to a head at the British labor party congress in Scarborough the first week in October, where the British parliamentarians who were in Washington last week will demand that Prime Minister Wilson reverse his position on both the purchase of the F111 and his support of the United States in Vietnam. Wilson will probably be able to hold onto the F111 contract, but he may have to bow to the overwhelming demand inside his own party that he desert the United States in Southeast Asia.

Labor's Confidential Political Strategy Session Hears Report Of White Rank and File Revolt Against President After Riots

Washington, D. C.: -- Some of Lyndon Johnson's most intimate friends, closets allies and most ingenious political advisors -- the nation's top labor chiefs -- believe that the riots can whiplash the President right out of the White House in '68.

They believe the burning, the looting, the Molotov cocktail barrages are more deadly to his political survival than all the cutting criticism of the Vietnamese war.

Grimly, this is what labor's high command, sitting behind the closed doors of a hotel penthouse in New York the other day, concluded after a series of influential labor chiefs told each other of the sentiment among their own rank and file.

One labor leader, easily now the most militant in the land, said bluntly that his Southern followers were defecting and rallying to Alabama's George Wallace.

"I wish," said he dolefully, "I could show you the letters we're getting from our rank and file."

These labor chiefs are the country's pragmatists' pragmatists. They had just finished their summit session and now had formed themselves into the administrative Committee of their committee on Political Education (COPE). They were surrounded by their technicians and field men encluding the voter registration specialist Roy Reuther.

Since, in their private skull sessions, they make a fetish of realism, they admitted to each other they were in deep political trouble.

For the first time in decades, these same men doubted they could deliver a heavy labor vote to a Democratic candidate in a presidential election.

After some hard listening, their own president George Meany, who has a distinct distaste for Madison Ave. and Machiavelli, wrapped it all up in his traditionally blunt tones.

This is not the time to be criticizing Johnson," said the cigar-chomping labor chief. "The Republican candidates now in the field are no friends of labor. If they -- Nixon, Reagan, Romney -- ever get into the White House we're in trouble. Let's continue to criticize Johnson only were necessary and work with him when we can put a program over together.

"Let's withhold political criticism until we see what happens at next year's conventions."

Then he turned to the contemporary street scene -- civil war in the big cities -- and struck the same motif which President Johnson hit the next day at Kansas City.

"You can't blame Johnson for the riots in the cities," he said. "That's something the central government can't handle.

"Nor can you blame Johnson for the war in Vietnam. After all it was Eisenhower and Dulles who committed us there. All Johnson did was to inherit it.

"So before you criticize Johnson at this stage of the game, just think what the alternative means to labor at the present time -- the people who are the possible nominees on the Republican ticket. Obviously you won't take a Reagan over Johnson."

Then he looked around the big table and reminded them that back in 1948 some of them had wanted to dump Harry Truman. That's indelible history. The Roosevelts and the liberal labor leaders, including Walter Reuther, were for a general named Dwight Eisenhower.

There was no rebellion in the summit's air. Just tension over the race issue. When the session broke for lunch the men who lead some 14,000,000 workers, the highest paid in the world, went forth to beat down the backlash especially among their younger members.

They had listened to technical analysis. They had watched slides. They had been briefed on the campaign magic of the computer. And they had heard from their own dynamic COPE Director, Al Barkan, that they were in political trouble even in this year's local and state elections.

And they had decided to mobilize early and keep on swinging for Johnson until the final tally. Early next spring COPE will run four major meetings across the nation to whip up enthusiasm for the Johnson-labor ticket. They then will go into the suburbs, north and south, to attempt to stamp out the whiplash.

They have the money, the manpower, the muscle. But they headed for home with the grim feeling that another long hot burning summer would leave them out in the cold on inauguration day, 1969.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

AN OLD AUTUMN RITE

Householders used to keep track of the date in late fall on which they first lighted their furnace fires. Often the man of the house would keep a penciled record on the boards of the coal bin, and if a year came in which the furnace was not lighted, say, until late November, the year thereafter became a sort of marvel or at least a point of reference. This simple rite is one more bench market of family life that has been swept away. Nowadays no one lights a furnace fire -- the heat is supplied by an automatic system and it simply "comes on." Sometimes the heat comes on during a chilly night in August, an event that occasions comment but is not held of lasting significance. And as for coal bins, where are they? Some, no doubt, are still preserved as repositories for old furniture, kindling and fireplace logs, or perhaps for laundry equipment, but in the main the coal bin seems nearly extinct.

By an Act of the United States Congress and by Presidential Proclamation, September 17 through 23 is CONSTITUTION WEEK. This week affords opportunity for the schools and churches to hold appropriate ceremonies to inspire all of our citizens to keep the faith of our Founding Fathers. This is a religious Nation, and we are a religious people. Running through all American history are the golden threads of religious conviction. Our Country will survive as long as she remains loyal to her spiritual heritage. Let's hold fast to our heritage and give thanks.

CALL FOR HELP

While Big Government, Big Business and Big Labor seem to be the most-quoted about the affairs of the nation and especially our economy, we believe that the story of the American Motors Corporation deserves more attention--as well as other smaller businesses--and understanding as further pressures build up.

For the second time in its 13-year history, American Motors is asking the United Auto Workers for help in the company's fight for survival. Being the smallest of the remaining four major auto companies, they asked the UAW to drop its wage-"fringe" demands and extend present contract terms for two more years.

In the first nine months of its fiscal year, ending Sept. 30, American Motors lost nearly 48 million dollars. Additional losses are expected in the current quarter. Their officials says the company needs time to recover from its current financial distress.

What is most important is that if American Motors should fail, some 22,800 union members would lose their jobs.

The UAW has asked the American Motors for a new contract comparable to the ones it is seeking from General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

The American Motors has had a profit-sharing plan since 1964 with the UAW but it has been inoperative because of the company's financial position.

So now the chips are down for another smaller business and it will be interesting to see what the union decides on its fate. Things have changed in America as anyone can see -- but is it for the better?

There is one minority group in Sikeston entitled to sympathy, understanding and more attention than they are getting.

They are the golden agers.

They need something to do.

Many could use more cash but that isn't a problem exclusively theirs and there are many agencies dealing with it.

Age often produced enforced idleness, loneliness, a sense of futility and a strong desire to cultivate friendships and do worthwhile things.

Overcoming these conditions isn't as easy as might be imagined. A community, such as Sikeston, isn't geared to provide the answers automatically.

Most of the efforts are concentrated on meeting the needs of younger, more aggressive residents, whose own busy lives lack the emptiness experienced by the aged.

Churches often minister to the needs of the aged but a great opportunity exists in Sikeston is for a broader community-wide program.

The effort to give all golden agers more to do could be made with a relatively small expenditure of money, time and effort.

Organization of a club for the oldsters could be sponsored by a group of Sikeston clubs, the churches, the Chamber of Commerce or another single organization.

A club house or meeting place, stocked with books, magazines, card tables and possibly craft materials, would be desirable.

Aside from the effort to entertain or amuse the aged attention should be directed to giving them constructive tasks to accomplish for the benefit of the community.

As individuals they possess many skills -- a resource that the community needs and which should not be lost to it.

Helping the aged could become a two-way street. The contributions could flow both ways and the community as well as the oldsters would benefit from it.

It is time that something be done to help them and for the rest of the community to obtain their active help in a united community betterment effort.

WHY?

If there is one thing about the newspaper business, we hear from all types of people on every imaginable subject -- and people are beginning to ask the right questions about the critical issues.

Questions like these:

Why don't we win the war in Vietnam or get out?

Why don't we start worrying about the victims of crime, instead of coddling the criminals?

Why don't we cut back on domestic spending, instead of raising taxes?

Why do we permit trade with Communists when our boys are fighting them in Vietnam?

Why don't we curb labor's disruptive power?

Why doesn't Congress enforce the strict ethics on its members that are in the Constitution now?

Why doesn't Congress vote to reduce our enormous national debt and strengthen the dollar?

It's a good sign that people are asking questions like these. Unfortunately, we believe they're getting too many wrong answers from the Administration and its bureaucrats as well as too much of the nation's news media.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — It was several weeks ago that my wife first noticed some insulation sifting out of the basement wall. It dusted her washing machine like an occasional snow flurry, only it was brown.

Lucile—that's her name—suggested I find out what needed doing, and do it.

A member of that frustrated legion whose do-it-yourself talents are limited to replacing light bulbs, I looked hard at the insulation gap. It was oozing from a hole where a vent—heating, I think, and the foundation didn't quite come together.

It looked to me like a grave structural flaw, and I said as much.

In fact I said, "This looks like a job for a contractor."

Lucile said that was silly, especially with the dentist being as patient as he was about that old balance on the bridge job.

The insulation continued to sift ominously onto the washing machine. I decided to devote part of a recent weekend to demonstrating the job was beyond me.

I began pulling at the bulging material and it came away readily. I shoved my hand deeper into the hole and felt something move. I also felt a searing sting on two fingers and jerked my hand back.

With it came 20 sleepy bumblebees, getting their first look at the outside world, and a handful of little white eggs. These fell into the box I had placed on the washing machine.

Other bees, seemingly less sleepy, began flying out of the hole.

I grabbed a rag and stuffed it into the hole. My wife ran for outdoors with the box of bees and near-bees.

Then we began killing basement bees with flyswatters. Except for the two that had stung me, they were as sleepy as they were huge, and we got them all.

The rag in the hole seemed a frail defense against those still poised in their nest of insulation.

I took a can of insect spray. With Lucile ready to bat cleanup with a swatter, I jerked out the rag and let fly with the spray.

It was a close thing. Bees kept advancing over the bodies of their fallen comrades, I kept spraying and my wife kept swatting.

The bee charge slowed to a trickle, then stopped. I gave the hole a final burst, jammed the rag back into it, and gently keeled over.

If time had permitted reading instructions on the insect bomb, I would have read, "Do not inhale fumes. Do not use in a confined area."

I had inhaled, in a confined area, about half the contents of the can.

The pharmacist said rest and fresh air were the best antidotes for that sort of thing, and they were.

THE MOSTSUCCESSFUL FREEDOM MARCH WAS THE ONE IN COVERED WAGONS

That, too, was made by Americans - looking for work. No demands, no subsidies, no claim anyone owed them anything. They traveled mostly on foot and through deadly danger, to where there was work to do (they didn't ask it be brought to them nor created for them).

Many had never been prosperous - their little farms were worked out, or their skills weren't very good. But their self-respect was real enough to drive them through thousands of miles of unspeakable hardship, and there create their own jobs and their own futures.

And that courage and self-respect and hard work were what made America's splendid West.

"What's so lucky about that?" asked the pal.

"Shucks man!" he replied, "a minute earlier it would have hit me on the head!"

NEW PAY PLANS

When Samuel Gompers was asked, a couple of generations ago, what organized labor wanted, he gave a one-word answer -- "more." Judging from the actions of labor leaders in more recent years, it appears that this simple statement of objectives must be revised. As the time for negotiation on large contracts approaches, prominent labor leaders seem always to ask not only for something more but also for something new. Their efforts and ingenuity are devoted not to simply gaining increases in the existing forms of compensation but to devising new forms.

Two concepts are prominent in the current discussion of new labor demands: first some kind of "guaranteed pay" and, second, a "share of profits" for employees. Various specific proposals are made for implementing these objectives.

We will not try to pronounce judgment here on whether such innovations are workable or equitable in any particular company or industry. But it does seem appropriate to inquire into the effects on employees, employers, and the economy generally should these proposals be widely accepted.

The common assumption is that the introduction of pay guarantees and of profit sharing would give the employees something more, on top of what they would otherwise get. Yet to anyone familiar with economic history this is by no means obvious. Over the years, both before and after unions became an important influence in the labor market, the real compensation of employees (in all forms) has gone up roughly parallel to the growth in productivity of the economy. Indeed, it is hard to see how it could be otherwise since this is the only significant source from which increased compensation can be paid. We suspect that the same parallelism between growth in compensation and gain in productivity will obtain in the future.

If this is so, it follows that neither guaranteed pay plans nor profit sharing will, in the long run, increase the total of compensation to employees above what it would otherwise be. Whatever additional amount they get by these routes will reduce the gains they might have obtained in other ways -- an hourly pay increase for example.

That is not to say that these proposals would not have important economic effects. They would represent a change in the way the individual employee's compensation is determined, rather than primarily a long-run gain in the total compensation of all employees. It is on the basis that the economist must appraise them. There are pluses and minuses that should be given careful thought.

A pay guarantee means that pay gains for those workers who are needed continually are diluted by the necessity of paying those whose labor is needed only intermittently. Persons who might be more productive in another job if they were released temporarily are kept on since they have to be paid anyway. Persons who might have been employed will not have jobs since companies would, where the decision is a close one, hesitate to hire people if their pay becomes an overhead expense.

Profit sharing means not necessarily that employees get more compensation but that part of their compensation becomes contingent on the business fortunes of their employer. In certain cases this arrangement might be an advantage to the employees and in other cases a disadvantage, and the same might be said of their employers. In any case, it amounts to the hired workers sharing the financial risks of the enterprise.

Clearly these proposals for changes in the way people are paid for their services need a careful and thoughtful analysis. Unfortunately they are not likely to get it in the heat of labor disputes.

BEST WEEK OF ALL

OF ALL THE WEEKS in the year National Newspaper week should be the best of all. It brings to the attention of the public their heritage of Freedom of the Press. No other media has done so much for the growth of our country and business than newspapers, be it weekly or daily. Continued circulation growth in every field of newspaper publishing shows that when business wants to reach the people, it counts on newspapers.

Doc. Duncan Says

DOC DUNCAN SAYS: This is a strange world. Auto makers and Labor never mention car buyers in their hassel.

Farmers and millers, business and lawmakers apparently ignore consumers in their hassel over excess profits. Apparently they all forget consumers hold the key to it all and could throw a monkey wrench in it all without uttering one word of warning. Just back up and zip up their pocketbooks for a spell.

H.L. Hunt Says

TO SPREAD THE FREEDOM STORY

Boards of Counselors, made up of adults who like to work with young people, for Youth Freedom Speakers Chapters find a wide range of highly worthwhile activity open to them. Three capable men and women in a city should act as a steering committee to form a Chapter. It is important that they dedicate themselves to keeping the Chapter non-denominational, non-partisan, and free from endorsing candidates for office.

To implement authorized activities, the Board of Counselors should establish Committees of Three. Such committees may be established to enlist volunteer youth speakers, solicit invitations for YFS speakers, arrange for publicity, suggest news releases, encourage gifted writers of letters to the editor and commend publications which publish their activities, form and maintain a liberty alert telephone group to promote public interest in freedom activities and news, invite prominent orators to visit and address groups desiring them, arrange for YFS locan and inter-city contests, prepare YFS contests between schools and colleges, and prepare state, regional, national and international contests.

The Youth Freedom Speakers movement can do much to save our Republic. The enemies of freedom are nearly always prepared to speak briefly at the drop of a hat or to make an impassioned address to advance their cause. Friends of freedom who are losing the battle can seldom be found who can speak with eloquence, if at all. This deficiency must be overcome if those who love our country are to win. Youth Freedom Speakers can aid greatly in overcoming it. HLH

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON -- Six members of the British house of commons who oppose the war in Vietnam were in Washington interviewing high government officials last week. Simultaneously the leaders of the American house of representatives who favor the war in Vietnam kicked the British in the seat of the pants by knocking out a provision to buy 16 wooden British - built mine sweepers, costing $180 million. In return, the British were going to spend 2.5 billion buying our TFX airplane-- now the F111. Later the Senate reluctantly concurred with the house.

The British MPS didn't know much about the American congressmen who kicked them in the backside, and the American congressmen didn't know much about the British MPS whom they kicked. The American congressmen, chiefly hawks, didn't know, for instance, that they were doing the British MPS a great favor in strengthening their peace position inside the labor party.

And the British MPS didn't know that the congressman who introduced the kick, Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., had managed to wriggle out of a flagrant conflic - of- interest case.

During their stay in Washington, the British parliamentarians were asked about unethical conduct in the house of commons -- specifically whether they had any cases of Doddism. They showed that they had not.

In contrast, Rep. Byrnes, author of the amendment killing the 16 wooden mine sweepers, had been involved with Bobby Baker, the senate secretary now convicted of influence - peddling.

In 1960, Byrnes intervened with internal revenue to get a favorable ruling for the mortgage guaranty insurance company of Milwaukee, and persuaded the treasury to reverse two previous rulings which would have made MGIC's reserves subject to corporate income taxes. As a result of this favorable ruling, MGIC stock skyrocketed in value.

As an obvious reward, Rep. Byrnes was permitted to buy a block of MGIC stock at the very low price of $2,300. His profit zoomed up to $26,000.

When all this came out during the Bobby Baker investigation, the GOP congressman from Wisconsin got on the house floor, wrung his hands and almost wept to his colleagues that he had done nothing wrong.

"I deny that I have engaged in any unethical conduct," he moaned. He proposed giving his stock profits to charity.

This self - righteous wailing, however, did not hide the fact that Byrnes had violated Criminal Code 18, Section 281, which prohibits a congressman from receiving pay for lobbying with the U.S. Government. The Johnson administration did prosecute Bobby Baker, Democrat, but not Rep. Byrnes, Republican.

AMERICAN HAWKS

The above was not known to the parliament members who were asked about British ethics and saw their government kicked in the seat of the pants.

And what the congressional hawks who administered the kick did not know was that indirectly they were helping the British doves and also undercutting British support for the American position in Vietnam.

The American congressmen who led the drive against the 16 wooden British mine sweepers were, in addition to Byrnes, Reps. Mel Laird of Wisconsin, Jerry Ford of Michigan and Glen Lipscomb of California, all Republican hard-liners regarding Vietnam. The Democrats included John Rooney, The Brooklyn isolationist, Mediocre Domin Daniels, N.J., and Edward Garmatz, a nondescript Baltimore congressman, all of whom like to twist the lion's tail.

What they didn't know was that in twisting the British lion's tail they were strengthening the hand of the British laborites who oppose the labor government's support of the United States in Vietnam. This has become a major issue inside the labor party.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson has steadfastly supported President Johnson in Vietnam but it's cost him plenty of headaches. In his own district, Huyton Inliverpool, a recent poll conducted by the council for peace in Vietnam showed in 87 per cent sentiment for withdrawing British support from the USA.

LABOR PARTY TROUBLE

The trade union congress of nine million members in 1966 voted by a majority of 250,000 to stop the bombing of North Vietnam. Last week the same trade union congress voted by a 1,300,000 majority for a strong resolution against Prime Minister Wilson's support of the USA.

Sentiment has become so strong that it will be difficult for Prime Minister Wilson to ignore it, especially since he was critical of the late Hugh Gaitskill, who when leader of the labor party was sometimes considered independent of his party. Now Wilson appears to be even more independent than the man he criticized.

This is why Wilson will be in a predicament as a result of the congressional turn-down of the 16 wooden mine sweepers. Members of his party are already criticizing him for agreeing to spend $2.5 billion on the American F111.

All this will come to a head at the British labor party congress in Scarborough the first week in October, where the British parliamentarians who were in Washington last week will demand that Prime Minister Wilson reverse his position on both the purchase of the F111 and his support of the United States in Vietnam. Wilson will probably be able to hold onto the F111 contract, but he may have to bow to the overwhelming demand inside his own party that he desert the United States in Southeast Asia.

MAY NOT DELIVER THE VOTE

Labor's Confidential Political Strategy Session Hears Report Of White Rank and File Revolt Against President After Riots

Washington, D. C.: -- Some of Lyndon Johnson's most intimate friends, closets allies and most ingenious political advisors -- the nation's top labor chiefs -- believe that the riots can whiplash the President right out of the White House in '68.

They believe the burning, the looting, the Molotov cocktail barrages are more deadly to his political survival than all the cutting criticism of the Vietnamese war.

Grimly, this is what labor's high command, sitting behind the closed doors of a hotel penthouse in New York the other day, concluded after a series of influential labor chiefs told each other of the sentiment among their own rank and file.

One labor leader, easily now the most militant in the land, said bluntly that his Southern followers were defecting and rallying to Alabama's George Wallace.

"I wish," said he dolefully, "I could show you the letters we're getting from our rank and file."

These labor chiefs are the country's pragmatists' pragmatists. They had just finished their summit session and now had formed themselves into the administrative Committee of their committee on Political Education (COPE). They were surrounded by their technicians and field men encluding the voter registration specialist Roy Reuther.

Since, in their private skull sessions, they make a fetish of realism, they admitted to each other they were in deep political trouble.

For the first time in decades, these same men doubted they could deliver a heavy labor vote to a Democratic candidate in a presidential election.

After some hard listening, their own president George Meany, who has a distinct distaste for Madison Ave. and Machiavelli, wrapped it all up in his traditionally blunt tones.

This is not the time to be criticizing Johnson," said the cigar-chomping labor chief. "The Republican candidates now in the field are no friends of labor. If they -- Nixon, Reagan, Romney -- ever get into the White House we're in trouble. Let's continue to criticize Johnson only were necessary and work with him when we can put a program over together.

"Let's withhold political criticism until we see what happens at next year's conventions."

Then he turned to the contemporary street scene -- civil war in the big cities -- and struck the same motif which President Johnson hit the next day at Kansas City.

Centers Supplement Home Life of Children of Working Mothers

By BARBARA LACY

"Watch out for the woman who advertises washing, ironing and baby sitting done in her home," Pauline Adams, day care consultant with the Missouri division of welfare, warned when she was in Sikeston to conduct a training session and visit day care facilities.

"That doesn't mean that the day care mother can't do any housework," she said. "Ironing is fine when the children are naping, but the iron should be put away when they are awake to avoid injuries. Other housework can be done with the children's help, like making cookies and Jello or dusting.

"All children need and deserve good day care regardless of who is giving it. Mothers work better when they know that their children are being adequately cared for.

"We'd like to provide this good care for every child who needs it," Miss Adams added. "That's why we're looking for the women who'd like to operate day care centers or nusery schools and foster family day care homes."

She explained the terms - day care centers and foster family day care homes - adding that they were trends in child care and had a lot of backing on all government levels.

"A day care center is planned to supplement home life for children three and older who can benefit from a group experience. They should be given a mid-morning snack, a hot lunch, a mid-afternoon snack, and a nap. But it's more than that. We feel there are seven basic day care goals: physical growth, motor development, communication skills, emotional development, art and construction training, general knowledge assimiltation and personality and ego development.

"How do we reach these goals?

"By providing a safe place for the children to play in groups or alone; by providing teachers or helpers who care about children and can give them individual attention as well as talk with them; by providing a program that is dependable so the child can develop a sense of order, yet provides enough new experiences, materials and equipment to keep the child stimulated and challenged.

"Within this environment we expect changes in certain children: we hope the shy child will become energetic, the inhibited will be skillful, the silent will be talkative, the messy will be creative and the insecure will become ambitious.

"If the child is under three we feel he needs a mother image or substitute and suggest a family day care home for him. This provides a homelike atmosphere for the child who needs mothering more than a group experience.

"Unfortunately, there is no special training required for those who care for children. Often it is a relative or a friend, someone who is convenient and cheap."

And hopefully, adequate.

"What is adequate day care? We've worked out some guidelines," Miss Adams said. "It begins with a woman who is relaxed and easy with the children, who knows that the children are learning from her, who knows she is there for the children's health and well being.

"We don't want a woman who thinks playing with children spoils them, and some people do think that way you know," Miss Adams said. "Playing is how children learn. You wouldn't want someone to leave your baby in a crib all day. Babies learn by playing little games such as peek-a-boo and "where's my hand." Babies need to be talked to. They develop a sense of who they are as you call them by name. A child called "boy" grows up with no identity.

"As a child grows older he becomes more independent, although it's not unusual for a child of three or four to want to be rocked occasionally.

"That's why we consider the physical facilities. There should be staff and equipment, meaning a rocker, to rock a lonely child when he needs it. We also want room for the child to run, jump, sit and nap. Someone has estimated that each child needs 35 square feet of play space.

"The home should have equipment and supplies for the right age group; such as blocks, paints, clay, sand and a program that pays attention to the child's health, social and mental growth.

One reason good day care programs are not more widespread is that the concept of day care is just over 100 years old and our conception of adequate day care is less than 50 years old.

The French were the first to have child day care centers. Their creches for babies and children of working mothers opened in Paris in 1844. It was 10 years later that the first day nursery in the United States was opened in New York City. Day care nurseries developed rapidly after the civil war as war widows and other mothers found work outside their homes.

But the nurseries were purely custodial. No thought was given to the child's physical or mental development.

The first breakthrough came in 1927 with the development of a family day care program in Philadelphia. By now it was realized that the very young child was not old enough to benefit from group activities. He needed individual attention, he was involved with his own self centered desires and most of all, he needed a mother-child relationship throughout the day.

Another boost toward good child care came during the mental hygiene movement of the 1930s which emphasized the importance of early childhood. New ideas were carried out in day care centers sponsored by the Works Progress Administration.

However, it wasn't until women entered the defense industries during World War II that the government recognized a national responsibility in providing day care for children and helped operate centers during the war. All but a few of these centers were closed when the war ended.

But lack of day care centers has not discouraged mothers from working. In 1962 there were 8 million working mothers with children under 18 years of age; 3 million of these mothers had children under 6 years of age. The capacity of all licensed day care centers and family day care homes was 185,000 children.

Since 1955 it has been a Missouri law that homes caring for more than four children must be licensed. The license is free and is obtained through the county welfare office.

There are 22 community day care centers in Missouri which receive support from Community Chests or United Funds. There are eight non-profit centers sponsored by churches or private voluntary boards. There are 100 privately owned day nurseries and many licensed family dare care homes.

"But the door is open for many more."

Our martin house has space to rent
On first and second floors;
The rooms have baths and double beds
And some have swinging doors.
The edifice has been redone
In brilliant, gleaming white
And turned to where the morning sun
Can make them shiny bright
I simply cannot understand
The emptiness continuing
"And that's me, too," my tomcat says,
Licking his chops and mewing.

Giants Cream Big Red; Lions Packers Hold

ST. LOUIS (AP)— Bill Triplett came home to haunt St. Louis, but Fran Tarkenton was the real magician as the New York Giants oened their 1967 National Football League campaign Sunday with a 37-20 victory over St. Louis.

Bill Triplett, traded by St. Louis to New York after last season, scored two touchdowns, Tarkenton passed for three touchdowns, and three times the alert New York defense intercepted passes by quarterback Jim Hart and turned them into touchdowns.

"I was up for this game," Triplett said, but he added that he sought no revenge. He said he was not surprised at the easy manner in which the Giants rolled through the St. Louis defense in the last half. "We run basic plays," he said, "and sooner or later they're going to work."

But when the chips were down, Tarkenton came through for the Giants. After hitting only two of eight passes on a muddy field in the first half, Tarkenton completed a of 11 in the second half and ended the game with 232 yards.

"It was a wonderful victory," Tarkenton said. "We perhaps were a little too conservative in a2k first half." The Giants bounced back from a 10-7 deficit at intermission.

Johnny Roland, picking up 124 yards for the Cardinals, scored the first St. Louis touchdown, bulling over from the five. Quarterback Jim Hart hit Prentice Gautt on a 19-yard scoring pass on the final play of the game for the second St. Louis touchdown. Jim Bakken, who kicked field goals of 39 and 19 yards, set a new Cardinal scoring record with a career total of 392 points.

Hart, starting his first NFL game, completed 10 of 24 passes for 166 yards.

St. Louis, ahead 10-7, tried an outside kick to start the second half. Jerry Hilderbrand recovered, giving St. Louis a momentary break that went by the wayside with Vince Costello's pass interception at the Cardinal 42.

After that the Giants couldn't be stopped as they won the Eastern Conference opener for both teams.

Johnny Unitas gave a record passing performance — but his Baltimore teammates presented the game ball to another player.

Chicago's Gale Sayers carried the ball from scrimmage seven times, but he didn't carry it very far in experiencing the worst day of his pro career.

Bart Starr lost the ball on interceptions four times in the first half— he threw just three inteceptions all of last season— but then found the target and helped save the Green Bay Packers from a stunning loss.

These were just a few of the wold doings Sunday in the annual football Happening known as the opening of the National Football League.

Unitas completed 23 of 32 passes for a club record 401 yards and Bobby Boyd won the game ball by intercepting two passes, one for a touchdown, as Baltimore held off Atlanta 38-31; Sayers gained just two yards as Chicago was trounced 41-13 by Pittsburgh, and Starr set up a touchdown and field goal with passes as the defending champion salvaged a 17-17 tie with Detroit.

In other NFL action, Los Angeles got past New Orleans 27-13, Philadelphia topped Washington 35-24. San Francisco outlasted Minnesota 27-21 and Dallas beat Cleveland 21-14.

Houston stopped Buffalo 20-3, Oakland trounced Boston 35-7 and Miami drubbed Denver 35-21 in the American Football League.

Unitas, who completed 11 of 15 passes for 255 yards in the first half, combined with Tom Mattee on an 88-yard TD pass play on the first play from scrimmage and also hit Jimmy Orr on a 55-yard scoring strike as the Colts built up a 31-7 lead at intermission.

But the Falcons, who scored in the first period on Ron Smith's 99-yard kickoff return, roared back to make it 31-24 before Matte scored the winner on a 10-yard run in the fourth quarter.

Sayers followed a first-period Pittsburgh field goal by returning the ensuing kickoff 103 yards for a touchdown but was stymied thereafter, gaining just two yards from scrimmage and sitting out most of the second half.

Willie Asbury ran for two Pittsburgh touchdowns and Bill Nelsen passed for another pair.

Detroit opened up a 17-0 halftime lead when Lem Barney ran an intercepted pass back 24 yards for a touchdown, Wayne Walker kicked a 48-yard field goal and Amos Marsh bulled over from three yards out.

Green Bay got on the scoreboard when Elijah Pitts scored from the three. The Packers then closed to within three points when Starr, who ended with 14 completions in 23 attempts for 321 yards, hit Jim Grabowski with a flat pass on the Detroit 45 and the fullback raced to the one, from where Pitts scored.

New Orleans, opening its first NFL season, stunned Los Angeles when John Gilliam ran the opening kickoff back 94 yards for a TD. But then the Rams defense took over to hold the Saints to two field goals.

Indians Win 14-7 At Evansville

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Top-rated Springfield State and Cape Girardeau State scored impressive victories, lifting the MIAA to a 3-3 standoff against outside football opposition, while the MCAU surprisingly remained unbeaten.

The MCAU's 4-0-2 record against outsiders looks good beside last year's 16-19 finish. So does the MIAA's .500 compared to 11-16 in '66.

This Saturday MIAA clubs will play six more non-league games. It's a tough lineup. Springfield, 27-13 winner at Emporia State, will play at home against always tough East Texas State. Cape moves from its 14-7 road victory at Evansville to a clash with Delta State, another toughie.

Rolla opened by beating Harding, Ark., 25-14 at Rolla, but the Miners will be underdogs against Pittsburg State at Rolla. Maryville State was beaten by Arkansas A&M 14-0 at home in its opener, but shouldn't have much trouble with Peru, Neb., State at Maryville.

Kirksville State, 18-7 loser to big Southern Illinois, will have more of the same this time with Parsons, Iowa.

Gibson After Pennant Clincher

Ship the champagne to Philadelphia. It looks like that's where the St. Louis Cardinals will pop their corks.

The Cardinals, who've made a shambles of the traditional down-to-the-wire National League race this season, assured themselves of a tie for the pennant Sunday by nipping Cincinnati 3-2 while second place San Francisco was losing to Pittsburgh 5-4.

Now, St. Louis can wrap it all up tonight by defeating the Philadelphia Phillies. The Giants are idle today so it will take a Cardinal victory to end it.

If they fail tonight, there's always Tuesday or Wednesday. Only an enormous collapse can prevent the Cardinals from winning it all. To tie, the Giants would have to win all their remaining 13 games while St. Louis would have to lose its last 12 straight. Don't bet on it.

In other National League games Sunday, Houston rallied for a 4-3 victory over New York, Philadelphia trimmed Los Angeles 6-1 and Chicago topped Atlanta 5-3.

Mike Shannon doubled home one run and Julian Javier followed with a single to score two more as the Cards did all of their scoring in the fourth inning.

Nelson Briles won his 14th although he left at the end of the fifth. He was hit on the right shoulder by a line drive in the second inning, but continued to pitch until his arm stiffened. Jack Lamabe and Ron Willis preserved the victory.

The reds got their runs on a bases loaded ground out in the thrid and Vada Pinson's homer in the sixth.

St. Louis will pitch Bob Gibson against the Phillies and Don Elsworth.

The Giants were done in by Roberto Clemente's 23rd home run of the year which broke a 4-4 tie in the ninth inning.

The Giants, who fritted away an early 3-0 lead provided by Jim Hart's first inning homer, rallied to tie the score in the top of the ninth on Ollie Brown's run-scoring single. But then Clemente ended it.

The Astros rallied for two runs in the bottom of the ninth to beat the Mets. Hal King's pinch single capped the rally after Bob Aspromonte had opened with a double and scored the tying run when reliever Ron Taylor threw away Bob Lillis' attempted sacrifice.

Triples by Ernie Banks and Glenn Beckert keyed a four-run sixth inning that carried the Cubs past the Braves. Banks' blow drove in two runs. Billy Williams had a home run for the Cubs and Charlie Lau a two-run pinch shot for Atlanta.

Larry Jackson won his fourth game of the year from Los Angeles with home runs by Don Lock and Johnny Callison leading Philadelphia to its victory. Loser Claude Osteen set up a three-run Phillie first with a throwing error and Jackson was home free after that.

WINNING SMILE of Carl Yastrzemski signals another Boston Red Sox victory. The Red Sox, Twins, White Sox and Tigers are locked in one of the tightest races in the history of the American League. "Yaz" has been one of Boston's key men.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Bill Tucker of Los Angles won his second PBA tourney of the year by capturing the $27,500 New Orleans Open Sunday with a 40-game score of 9021.

HILLSBOROUGH, N.C. (AP) — Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., drove his 1967 Plymouth at an average 80.363 miles an hour Sunday and won the Hillsborough 150 Grand National Stock Car race, his 25th victory of the season.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)— The East-West All-Star College Basketball Game, held in Lexington, Ky., the past five years, has been shifted to Indianapolis March 30, 1968.

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The American Gulf All-Star basketball team defeated the Swedish National team 105-53 Sunday.

NIAGARA — ON — THE — LAKE, Ont. (AP) — Sid Dakin of the Boulevard Yacht Club, Toronto, won the fifth annual North American Shark Class Championships Sunday.

UCLA Beats Tennessee 20-16; Texas A & M Upset By SMU

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

B-E-B-A-N spells victory.

If the UCLA Pom-Pom girls used the above as a cheer at Bruin football games, you couldhhardly blame them.

After all, senior quarterback Gary Beban has meant victory for UCLA on most Saturdays during the past two seasons, and he shows little sign of quitting the habit this year.

With about four minutes left in the game Saturday, Beban rolled out and raced 27 yards for a touchdown, giving the eighth-ranked Bruins a 20-16 victory over No. 9 Tennessee.

Beban, who also scored UCLA's other touchdown, got a lot of help from Gregg Jones as he outdueled Tennessee quarterback Dewey Warren.

Jones rushed 16 times for 135 yards and was named the game's outstanding player.

Southern Methodist looked like its still hooked on an old habit when it scored with four seconds left and upset Texas A&M 20-17 after the Aggies had gone ahead 17-13 just 39 seconds before.

A national television audience saw SMU, which won four games last year in the fading seconds, pull it out against Texas A&M when Jerry Levias made a leaping catch in the end zone of a six-yard pass from 5-foot-4 quarterback Inez Perez.

In the only other game involving a Top Ten team Saturday, Bob Anderson scored on runs of seven, five and two yards and pitched out for a fourth TD as No. 10 Colorado beat Baylor 27-7.

Seventh-ranked Southern California trounced Washington 49-0 Friday night, and the rest of the Top Ten including Notre Dame, Alabama and Michigan State, ranked 1-2-3.

White Sox Jump From Fourth To Second In Tight American League Pennant Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Football undoubtedly will grab its share of September headlines despite Eddie Stanky.

But Stanky should be having too much fun in the middle of the American League pennant pile-up to take notice. And he intends to get his kicks all the way to the Playoff Bowl.

"It's got to wind up in a playoff somewhere along the way," the Chicago skipper said Sunday after his streaking White Sox blanked Minnesota 4-0 behind southpaw Gary Peters and charged within one-half game of the league-leading Detroit Tigers.

"Two weeks to go and four teams in contention," Stanky added. "There's no way to avoid a playoff. We just hope that we're in it."

Stanky has promised that "this race will keep football off Page One all month." Sunday, the pennant derby collided head-on with a full schedule of pro football action for the first time. . .and provided enough fireworks to hold its own.

While Peters' four-hitter completed a three-game sweep over the Twins and ran the White Sox' winning string to five games, Detroit and Boston both fumbled away opportunities to gain ground.

Sixth-place Washington tripped up the Tigers 5-0 behind Frank Bertaina's clutch pitching and eighth-place Baltimore slugged the Red Sox 5-2 with a barrage of three home runs. Boston thus fell into a third-place deadlock with Minnesota, one game behind Detroit and one-half length back of the White Sox.

California edged Kansas City 3-2 and Cleveland trimmed the New York Yankees 4-2 in other AL games.

The White Sox, who were 2½ games out of first place Friday morning, jumped from fourth to second place as Peters shackled the Twins for his 16th victory in 25 decisions and Ken Berry drove in two runs with a homer and single.

Tom McCraw's triple and a sacririce fly by Ron Hansen knocked in the other Chicago runs.

Bertaina scattered seven hits, struck out eight and stranded 10 Detroit base runners in halting the Tigers' winning streak at four games.

Frank Howard's first inning sacrifice fly sent home the only run Bertaina needed, but Fred Valentine's run-scoring double in the fourth and a three-run homer by Hank Allen in the fifth kept the Tigers on the run.

"It's going to be a hectic two weeks," said Detroit pilot Mayo Smith, unruffled by the setback. "It's going to be a lot of fun, though, with the end of the road almost here."

Neither did Dick Williams panic after Paul Blair's two-run homer and bases-empty blasts by Boog Powell and Andy Etchebarren powered the Orioles to their third straight triumph at Boston.

"We lose three in a row and we're still only one game out of first," the Red Sox manager said. "I guess we must have had a heck of a lead."

Giants Cream Big Red; Lions Packers Hold

ST. LOUIS (AP)— Bill Triplett came home to haunt St. Louis, but Fran Tarkenton was the real magician as the New York Giants oened their 1967 National Football League campaign Sunday with a 37-20 victory over St. Louis.

Bill Triplett, traded by St. Louis to New York after last season, scored two touchdowns, Tarkenton passed for three touchdowns, and three times the alert New York defense intercepted passes by quarterback Jim Hart and turned them into touchdowns.

"I was up for this game," Triplett said, but he added that he sought no revenge. He said he was not surprised at the easy manner in which the Giants rolled through the St. Louis defense in the last half. "We run basic plays," he said, "and sooner or later they're going to work."

St. Louis will pitch Bob Gibson against the Phillies and Don Ellsworth.

The Giants were done in by Roberto Clemente's 23rd home run of the year which broke a 4-4 tie in the ninth inning.

The Giants, who fritted away an early 3-0 lead provided by Jim Hart's first inning homer, rallied to tie the score in the top of the ninth on Ollie Brown's run-scoring single. But then Clemente ended it.

The Astros rallied for two runs in the bottom of the ninth to beat the Mets. Hal King's pinch single capped the rally after Bob Aspromonte had opened with a double and scored the tying run when reliever Ron Taylor threw away Bob Lillis' attempted sacrifice.

Triples by Ernie Banks and Glenn Beckert keyed a four-run sixth inning that carried the Cubs past the Braves. Banks' blow drove in two runs. Billy Williams had a home run for the Cubs and Charlie Lau a two-run pinch shot for Atlanta.

Larry Jackson won his fourth game of the year from Los Angeles with home runs by Don Lock and Johnny Callison leading Philadelphia to its victory. Loser Claude Osteen set up a three-run Phillie first with a throwing error and Jackson was home free after that.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Bill Tucker of Los Angles won his second PBA tourney of the year by capturing the $27,500 New Orleans Open Sunday with a 40-game score of 9021.

HILLSBOROUGH, N.C. (AP) — Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., drove his 1967 Plymouth at an average 80.363 miles an hour Sunday and won the Hillsborough 150 Grand National Stock Car race, his 25th victory of the season.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)— The East-West All-Star College Basketball Game, held in Lexington, Ky., the past five years, has been shifted to Indianapolis March 30, 1968.

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The American Gulf All-Star basketball team defeated the Swedish National team 105-53 Sunday.

NIAGARA — ON — THE — LAKE, Ont. (AP) — Sid Dakin of the Boulevard Yacht Club, Toronto, won the fifth annual North American Shark Class Championships Sunday.

In 1966, hunters paid more than $72 million for licenses, permits and tags. This money was used by state game departments to care for all wildlife, both hunted and non-hunted species.

UCLA Beats Tennessee 20-16; Texas A & M Upset By SMU

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

B-E-B-A-N spells victory.

If the UCLA Pom-Pom girls used the above as a cheer at Bruin football games, you couldhhardly blame them.

After all, senior quarterback Gary Beban has meant victory for UCLA on most Saturdays during the past two seasons, and he shows little sign of quitting the habit this year.

With about four minutes left in the game Saturday, Beban rolled out and raced 27 yards for a touchdown, giving the eighth-ranked Bruins a 20-16 victory over No. 9 Tennessee.

Beban, who also scored UCLA's other touchdown, got a lot of help from Gregg Jones as he outdueled Tennessee quarterback Dewey Warren.

Jones rushed 16 times for 135 yards and was named the game's outstanding player.

Southern Methodist looked like its still hooked on an old habit when it scored with four seconds left and upset Texas A&M 20-17 after the Aggies had gone ahead 17-13 just 39 seconds before.

A national television audience saw SMU, which won four games last year in the fading seconds, pull it out against Texas A&M when Jerry Levias made a leaping catch in the end zone of a six-yard pass from 5-foot-4 quarterback Inez Perez.

In the only other game involving a Top Ten team Saturday, Bob Anderson scored on runs of seven, five and two yards and pitched out for a fourth TD as No. 10 Colorado beat Baylor 27-7.

Seventh-ranked Southern California trounced Washington 49-0 Friday night, and the rest of the Top Ten including Notre Dame, Alabama and Michigan State, ranked 1-2-3.

White Sox Jump From Fourth To Second In Tight American League Pennant Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Football undoubtedly will grab its share of September headlines despite Eddie Stanky.

But Stanky should be having too much fun in the middle of the American League pennant pile-up to take notice. And he intends to get his kicks all the way to the Playoff Bowl.

"It's got to wind up in a playoff somewhere along the way," the Chicago skipper said Sunday after his streaking White Sox blanked Minnesota 4-0 behind southpaw Gary Peters and charged within one-half game of the league-leading Detroit Tigers.

"Two weeks to go and four teams in contention," Stanky added. "There's no way to avoid a playoff. We just hope that we're in it."

Stanky has promised that "this race will keep football off Page One all month." Sunday, the pennant derby collided head-on with a full schedule of pro football action for the first time. . .and provided enough fireworks to hold its own.

While Peters' four-hitter completed a three-game sweep over the Twins and ran the White Sox' winning string to five games, Detroit and Boston both fumbled away opportunities to gain ground.

Sixth-place Washington tripped up the Tigers 5-0 behind Frank Bertaina's clutch pitching and eighth-place Baltimore slugged the Red Sox 5-2 with a barrage of three home runs. Boston thus fell into a third-place deadlock with Minnesota, one game behind Detroit and one-half length back of the White Sox.

California edged Kansas City 3-2 and Cleveland trimmed the New York Yankees 4-2 in other AL games.

The White Sox, who were 2½ games out of first place Friday morning, jumped from fourth to second place as Peters shackled the Twins for his 16th victory in 25 decisions and Ken Berry drove in two runs with a homer and single.

Tom McCraw's triple and a sacririce fly by Ron Hansen knocked in the other Chicago runs.

Bertaina scattered seven hits, struck out eight and stranded 10 Detroit base runners in halting the Tigers' winning streak at four games.

Frank Howard's first inning sacrifice fly sent home the only run Bertaina needed, but Fred Valentine's run-scoring double in the fourth and a three-run homer by Hank Allen in the fifth kept the Tigers on the run.

"It's going to be a hectic two weeks," said Detroit pilot Mayo Smith, unruffled by the setback. "It's going to be a lot of fun, though, with the end of the road almost here."

Neither did Dick Williams panic after Paul Blair's two-run homer and bases-empty blasts by Boog Powell and Andy Etchebarren powered the Orioles to their third straight triumph at Boston.

"We lose three in a row and we're still only one game out of first," the Red Sox manager said, "I guess we must have had a heck of a lead."

age 18 and over. Prepare now for U.S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Lincoln Service has helped thousands prepare for these tests every year since 1948. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.

CROWDS WAVE AND SING "God Save the Queen" as liner Queen Mary sails from Southampton, England, on her last passenger - carrying voyage to New York. The liner has been bought by the city of Long Beach, Calif., where she will end her days as a floating maritime museum.

Queen Mary Sea Reign Nears End

ABOARD THE QUEEN MARY (AP) — "If you sailed the seas for a hundred years," said the Irish steward, "you'd never come across such a gathering of famous people as this room has seen."

He swept an arm around the Verandah Grill, a black-carpeted room with tall windows looking out to sea— for 31 years and ocean rendezvous for the rich and renowned of Europe and North American. But now, as the old liner sailed into the sunset from Cherbourg on her 994th Atlantic crossing there were only four diners at tables where Windsors, Churchills, Kennedys, dukes, diplomats and movie stars once held court.

Elsewhere in the magnificent first-class quarters of the ship it was the same. In the opulent Midships Bar a solitary, sport-shirted New York tycoon toyed with a champagne cocktail. In the palatial lounge, one of the largest rooms afloat, a four-piece band with sobbing saxophone played fox trots for three couples.

Although westbound voyages traditionally are less busy in high summer than the New York-Europe run, the rooms told their own story why the Queen Mary had to go on the auction block and will end her days as a floating museum and convention center in Long Beach, Calif.

People just aren't traveling in the high old prewar style anymore. If they don't go by jet—one-third the price of a first-class cabin on the Queens— they often choose a one-class or two-class ship.

On the new Cunarder that will replace the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth old-style class distinctions will be abolished. Cabins will sell at varying prices, with public rooms common to all.

For the few who can afford to pay up to $800 for 4½ days of pampered isolation on the Atlantic, however, there will never be a way of travel to match the vanishing Queens.

"When does this place get to England?" asked comedienne Bea Lillie halfway through one voyage, a little dazed by the space and solidity of this floating grand hotel with its 38 public rooms, six miles of carpet, 700 electric clocks and shopping center known as Piccadilly Circus.

Engineers' Mail Heavy On Caruthersville Bridge

CARUTHERSVILLE - The deadline for comments on the proposed Caruthersville bridge plans has passed quietly but Col. James A. Vivian of the Army Corps of Engineers said it would be a few days before he will determine if another public hearing will be called.

Vivian, Memphis district engineer, said there have been many letters from both proponents of the bridge and navigation interests raising questions about the clearances allowed in the bridge plans.

The district engineer stated that he should be able to announce within the week whether another public hearing will be held. Vivian said that it is his hope that another hearing and the delay involved will not be required.

At a meeting held in St. Louis last month to discuss the bridge issue it was made plain that the barge people are not satisfied with the plans for the Mississippi River bridge is proposed by the Coast Guard.

Vivian reported that many letters from public officials and private citizens have come to his office. Most of them, he stated, did not deal with technical aspects of the bridge plan. Instead the most of them said further delays in getting approval of the bridge plans could kill all hopes of the bridge becoming a reality.

He went on to add that he agrees that the bridge question should be taken care of, but added that no government officials have given any indication that the bridge might be dropped from the federal highway program, as the letters stated.

One of the letters was from Vic Downing, State Representative from Bragg City. Bowning said, "I believe you will reject the objections of the special interest group that is trying to prevent the construction of this bridge that is so necessary to the public welfare of the people of this two state area."

A Dyersburg contractor and former member of the Tennessee-Missouri Bridge Commission, Vern Forcum, had stronger words about the situation.

Forcum said, "My picture of the Mississippi Valley Association is comparable to that of an over-indulged brat who has had everything he wants all his life and now has grown up with a very definite idea that he should not be restricted in any way, but it is a God-given right to ask and receive without question."

The contractor went on, "we have as much right to cross a river, any river, at right angles as much as some other citizen has to run up and down the river lengthwise. The fact that one group is strongly organized makes no difference."

The battle over the bridge design is more than two years old The plans drawn up by the Missouri Highway Department and approved by Tennessee and the Bureau of Public Roads have been altered twice to meet demands of navigation interests after rulings by the Corps of Engineers.

The latest design, which calls for horizontal clearances of 900 feet and 500 feet for the navigation spans, was proposed by the coast guard as a compromise. Navigation interests have not remained firm on their demands about the horizontal clearance, which is the focal point of the dispute. They now are demanding two spans of 1064 feet.

Vivian said that it will take some time to digest all of the comments his office has received. Within a week he should know about whether a hearing will be called. If no hearing is required, he will compile the material and make his recommendation to higher headquarters.

Caruthersville To Vote Oct. 3 For Councilman

CARUTHERSVILLE -- An election will be held in the second ward Oct. 3 to fill the city council seat left vacant by the death of Councilman Wyman Dillman.

The election was set by the city council during its meeting Monday night. At that same meeting the Council passed an ordinance re-naming 13th Street from Ward Avenue to Fair Boulevard in honor of Mayor B. F. Rogers. The new name is Rogers Road.

Two second ward residents have already picked up petitions indicating they will seek the council seat held by Dillman. Mrs. L. W. Peck, city clerk, stated that petitions have been picked up by Charles Crowe, operator of a supermarket, and Virgil Edwards, terminal manager for Trucker Truck Lines.

The filing deadline for the special election is Sept. 23.

Long Pushes for Small Business Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to make crime insurance available to small businesses through the Small Business Administration is being urged by Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo.

Long prepared a statement for filing today with Senate subcommittee advocating the bill he is cosponsoring to create a Small Business Crime Protection Insurance Corporation in the SBA.

An increase in crime is placing great economic burdens on small business firms, Long's statement said, and the bill is designed to make crime insurance available to them where it cannot be obtained from other sources on reasonable terms. He said small businesses lose from $15 to $20 million each year from robberies and $130 million from burglaries.

Right now is the most colorful time of year to visit HORSESHOE BEND. Driving through the scenic Ozark countryside is a delight in itself. Every bend in the road brings exciting new vistas of green valleys, forested hills, sparkling rivers and streams. On every side you'll see trees—pine, cedar, hickory, oak, dogwood, magnolia, holly and sumac. Wild flowers abound. Drive leisurely and enjoy the magnificent scenery of the Ozarks. Transportation to and from HORSESHOE BEND will be provided by you.

HORSESHOE BEND is nestled in the heart of the Ozarks on Highway 56 at Franklin, Arkansas. You'll be lodged in comfortable quarters. You'll have free access to many forms of entertainment including golf, swimming (in our big outdoor pool or in famous Strawberry River), canoeing, bicycle boating, fishing, tennis, archery, miniature golf, nature study, horseshoes, washers, badminton, bridge, square dancing, shuffleboard and other pleasures. For a small charge a gentle saddle horse is yours to explore woodland trails. Excellent meals at modest prices in our clubhouse restaurant, one of the finest anywhere. Home sites are offered for sale on a private property owners association basis. By accepting this vacation you are not obligated to purchase and Horseshoe is not obligated to sell. This ad is not to be considered as an offer to sell. HORSESHOE BEND offers something for the entire family regardless of age or interest. There's fun for everyone. We look forward to your visit. Reservations confirmed promptly on first-come, first-served basis.

CROWDS WAVE AND SING "God Save the Queen" as liner Queen Mary sails from Southampton, England, on her last passenger - carrying voyage to New York. The liner has been bought by the city of Long Beach, Calif., where she will end her days as a floating maritime museum.

Queen Mary Sea Reign Nears End

ABOARD THE QUEEN MARY (AP) — "If you sailed the seas for a hundred years," said the Irish steward, "you'd never come across such a gathering of famous people as this room has seen."

He swept an arm around the Verandah Grill, a black-carpeted room with tall windows looking out to sea— for 31 years and ocean rendezvous for the rich and renowned of Europe and North American. But now, as the old liner sailed into the sunset from Cherbourg on her 994th Atlantic crossing there were only four diners at tables where Windsors, Churchills, Kennedys, dukes, diplomats and movie stars once held court.

Elsewhere in the magnificent first-class quarters of the ship it was the same. In the opulent Midships Bar a solitary, sport-shirted New York tycoon toyed with a champagne cocktail. In the palatial lounge, one of the largest rooms afloat, a four-piece band with sobbing saxophone played fox trots for three couples.

Although westbound voyages traditionally are less busy in high summer than the New York-Europe run, the rooms told their own story why the Queen Mary had to go on the auction block and will end her days as a floating museum and convention center in Long Beach, Calif.

People just aren't traveling in the high old prewar style anymore. If they don't go by jet—one-third the price of a first-class cabin on the Queens— they often choose a one-class or two-class ship.

On the new Cunarder that will replace the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth old-style class distinctions will be abolished. Cabins will sell at varying prices, with public rooms common to all.

For the few who can afford to pay up to $800 for 4½ days of pampered isolation on the Atlantic, however, there will never be a way of travel to match the vanishing Queens.

"When does this place get to England?" asked comedienne Bea Lillie halfway through one voyage, a little dazed by the space and solidity of this floating grand hotel with its 38 public rooms, six miles of carpet, 700 electric clocks and shopping center known as Piccadilly Circus.

Engineers' Mail Heavy On Caruthersville Bridge

CARUTHERSVILLE - The deadline for comments on the proposed Caruthersville bridge plans has passed quietly but Col. James A. Vivian of the Army Corps of Engineers said it would be a few days before he will determine if another public hearing will be called.

Vivian, Memphis district engineer, said there have been many letters from both proponents of the bridge and navigation interests raising questions about the clearances allowed in the bridge plans.

The district engineer stated that he should be able to announce within the week whether another public hearing will be held. Vivian said that it is his hope that another hearing and the delay involved will not be required.

At a meeting held in St. Louis last month to discuss the bridge issue it was made plain that the barge people are not satisfied with the plans for the Mississippi River bridge is proposed by the Coast Guard.

Vivian reported that many letters from public officials and private citizens have come to his office. Most of them, he stated, did not deal with technical aspects of the bridge plan. Instead the most of them said further delays in getting approval of the bridge plans could kill all hopes of the bridge becoming a reality.

He went on to add that he agrees that the bridge question should be taken care of, but added that no government officials have given any indication that the bridge might be dropped from the federal highway program, as the letters stated.

One of the letters was from Vic Downing, State Representative from Bragg City. Bowning said, "I believe you will reject the objections of the special interest group that is trying to prevent the construction of this bridge that is so necessary to the public welfare of the people of this two state area."

A Dyersburg contractor and former member of the Tennessee-Missouri Bridge Commission, Vern Forcum, had stronger words about the situation.

Forcum said, "My picture of the Mississippi Valley Association is comparable to that of an over-indulged brat who has had everything he wants all his life and now has grown up with a very definite idea that he should not be restricted in any way, but it is a God-given right to ask and receive without question."

The contractor went on, "we have as much right to cross a river, any river, at right angles as much as some other citizen has to run up and down the river lengthwise. The fact that one group is strongly organized makes no difference."

The battle over the bridge design is more than two years old The plans drawn up by the Missouri Highway Department and approved by Tennessee and the Bureau of Public Roads have been altered twice to meet demands of navigation interests after rulings by the Corps of Engineers.

The latest design, which calls for horizontal clearances of 900 feet and 500 feet for the navigation spans, was proposed by the coast guard as a compromise. Navigation interests have not remained firm on their demands about the horizontal clearance, which is the focal point of the dispute. They now are demanding two spans of 1064 feet.

Vivian said that it will take some time to digest all of the comments his office has received. Within a week he should know about whether a hearing will be called. If no hearing is required, he will compile the material and make his recommendation to higher headquarters.

Caruthersville To Vote Oct. 3 For Councilman

CARUTHERSVILLE -- An election will be held in the second ward Oct. 3 to fill the city council seat left vacant by the death of Councilman Wyman Dillman.

The election was set by the city council during its meeting Monday night. At that same meeting the Council passed an ordinance re-naming 13th Street from Ward Avenue to Fair Boulevard in honor of Mayor B. F. Rogers. The new name is Rogers Road.

Two second ward residents have already picked up petitions indicating they will seek the council seat held by Dillman. Mrs. L. W. Peck, city clerk, stated that petitions have been picked up by Charles Crowe, operator of a supermarket, and Virgil Edwards, terminal manager for Trucker Truck Lines.

The filing deadline for the special election is Sept. 23.

Long Pushes for Small Business Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to make crime insurance available to small businesses through the Small Business Administration is being urged by Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo.

Long prepared a statement for filing today with Senate subcommittee advocating the bill he is cosponsoring to create a Small Business Crime Protection Insurance Corporation in the SBA.

An increase in crime is placing great economic burdens on small business firms, Long's statement said, and the bill is designed to make crime insurance available to them where it cannot be obtained from other sources on reasonable terms. He said small businesses lose from $15 to $20 million each year from robberies and $130 million from burglaries.

Taul and Brown Have Records Of Years of Civic Service

By Leo Schade

Two Southeast Missourians, Owen J. Taul of Lilbourn, and Tyree F. Brown of Bell City, will be honored in January when they will be among 6,000 whose biographical sketch will appear in the 800-page Outstanding Civic Leaders of America.

Taul has spent almost a half century as teacher and administrator in schools in the Bootheel, as well as 23 years as a leader in Boy Scouting, and 33 years in a Kiwanis club.

Brown, who is an engineer and builder, has taught a Sunday School class in his church 20 years.

Taul was born in Ohio county, Kentucky. He came to New Madrid county as a small boy. As a young man he traveled to the Pacific Northwest and spent almost a year in the shipbuilding yards, only to return to seek a teaching career. He began teaching in 1919, and with the exception of one year when he attended a year of college, he has continued in it. He is principal at Lilbourn high school.

His teaching career included six years as principal and superintendent at Canalou; four months as New Madrid county school superintendent. Since 1934 has been principal at Lilbourn. He was acting superintendent of Lilbourn during World War II when Supt. Lynn Twitty took leave to enter the marines.

He is a member of the Canalou Church of Christ and an adult Bible class teacher.

Tyree Brown

Owen J. Taul

He is a Kiwanis club past president and has served as secretary 22 years. In 1948 he was lieutenant - governor of Kiwanis International; in the Masonic Lodge, he is a 32nd degree Mason, and Scottish Rite Mason.

A leader in the Boy Scout movement 23 years, he was awarded the Silver Beaver award in 1956. In 1960 he led a group of 164 Scouts to the Philmont camp in New Mexico. He was a leader at the National Jamboree at Colorado Springs, Colo. This past summer he led 74 district Scouts to the Expo 67 in Montreal and the National Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.

In 1965 he was made an honorary member of the Future Farmers of America.

Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Rust Brown, spent his youth on a farm.

Following graduation from the Bell City high school, he entered the Rolla School of Mines for one year.

He entered the navy as an aviation electrical technician in World War II. At the end of the war, he returned to his home city to enter business.

In 1949 he married Francis Eakins. They have one son, Fred L. Eakins, 13.

He has served as both Boy Scoutmaster and Cubmaster. He is a member of the Garden Ridge General Baptist church.

He owns and operates an irrigation well drilling unit.

Gaslight Square Narcotic Search Nets 11 Arrests

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Police and federal agents arrested 11 persons in Gaslight Square Friday night as a result of an investigation into the use of marijuana and drugs.

Warrants were issued charging Russell Stokes, 18, with illegal sale of marijuana and Miss Arden Gilpin, 18, with possession. The other nine were released.

Dectective Richard Flynn of the police mobile reserve posed as a hippie to gather information. Flynn said he made a marijuana purchase from Stokes, paying him $5 for seven grams of the weed.

Police said a package of marijuana and a number of pills and capsules were confiscated.

Curtis Says Consumer Credit Fears Needless

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., said Saturday consumer credit is a desirable economic asset and he urged those who view its growth with alarm to have no fear.

"Consumer credit represents a new, growing, exciting and socially valuable economic operation which properly handled makes a great contribution to the well-being of our society," Curtis said.

Curtis, ranking Republican on the House-Senate Joint Economic Committee, addressed the Missouri Consumer Credit Convention.

The congressman said the Soviet Union is beginning to use consumer credit and so "the inherent power behind this exonomic phenomena has to be very great to break through the Communist ideology which it basically contradicts."

However, Curtis said those in the consumer credit field must close ranks against credit for credit's sake.

"There must be an end to this business of seeking to sell consumer goods or services to the public as a front for what really is the business of extending consumer credit," Curtis said.

MRS. ROBERT MATTHEWS spoke to the American Association of University Women Tuesday. Mrs. Matthews holds "The Crucifixion" by Rodney Winfield, a St. Louis artist.

Artists Ahead of Times Mrs. Matthews Says

"There is a body of knowledge in art as well as in science. The artists were the thinkers and creators of the times we live in now. The artist always seems to be ahead of the times."

It was Mrs. Robert Matthews speaking to members of the American Association of University Women Tuesday at her home after dinner at Luber's restaurant.

Mrs. Matthews explained:

"If we are not educated to sensibility to art, we are empty. What we must be so careful of is the value of art to its own time. The first drama was always in the church. This was a means of teaching people who were illiterate. It was a means of communication."

She told the group that society should be an ongoing, moving process. "In modern times we are less concerned with the soul and more concerned with the knowledge," she said. "We are not taught to appreciate or feel sensibility in our times. We must teach our young people sensibilities, non-comformity and some taste."

Twenty one members and guests of the AAUW attended.

The next meeting will be Oct. 10 at the home of Mrs. Fred Steck. Richard Smith will speak.

American Marketing System Explained in Series of Ads

The Daily Standard joins 910 nespapers in publishing a series of advertisements explaining the American marketing system.

"The purpose of the educational program is to help consumers understand how they benefit from the American marketing system," C. L. Blanton Jr., Daily Standard publisher, said. This system has produced the highest savings, greater freedom of choice and new and improved products."

The program will outline ten points of the American marketing system.

1. The marketing system makes it possible for a very large number of different goods to be available to the consumer.

2. The marketing system makes it possible for producers of widely varying kinds of sizes of goods to find customers for their products, and to find them at various levels of finished processing.

3. The marketing system adapts itself to the needs of the consumers by providing goods in many outlets, it that is required; or in fewer, more specialized outlets, if that is necessary.

4. The marketing system is flexible in time, too; products with seasonal appeal are more available during their season; nonseasonal products are available throughout the year as demand requires.

5. The marketing system maintains goods inventories to supply normal and abnormal consumer requirements from stock, without special orders, throughout the communities' retail outlets.

6. The marketing system has provided pleasant and attractive physical structures - air-conditioned with nurseries, parking facilities, et al, in which to trade.

7. The marketing system delivers the same goods, at comparable prices, throughout the United States. This is true of non-regional brands - and it is true as well of commodities.

8. The marketing system provices goods of standard quality, size, etc. It is no accident that whatever hardware store is used, one finds that standard screws, bolts, etc., are available in standard lengths and thicknesses.

9. The marketing system facilitates purchase through credit; both direct (charge accounts) and indirect (check cashing).

10. The marketing system educates and informs consumers about the availabiliy of goods, their physical characteristics, their prices and their quality.

Throughout the educational program, three broad areas will be reflected:

1. In the United States of America, where Freedom of Choice was introduced and made the foundation of our government through the Bill of Rights, the consumer has the most powerful weapon in the world; the ability to say no... the opportunity not to buy, not to listen, not to go... because there is an acceptable alternative choice provided by the system.

2. Within their life span, the people of our nation where Freedom of Choice has been maintained at home, if need be by sacrifices on the battlefield, have seen products and services constantly improved, with ever widening choices. The consumer has always been the one to make the choice.

3. Within the daily experience of every man, woman and child are many benefits of Freedom of Choice at the American Market Place that are recognized... but there are many that are not. By redescribing the familiar, these can be made meaningful. The parking lot at the supermarket, for instance, is truly a part of the distribution system, put there in competition for the consumer's favor.

"If this educational program evokes the reaction 'America must be doing something right', all of us will be grateful", said International Newspaper Advertising Exectuives President Merrell M. DuBois, advertising director of the Gannett Group of thirty newspapers.

The program, produced by the American Association of Advertising Agencies "volunteer agency", McCann-Erickson, will present a weekly message designed to explain to consumers how they benefit from the American Marketing System. "Publishers throughout the United States and Canada are making this educational program possible and we salute them for this public - spirited contribution", said INAE President DuBois.

Christmas Stamp With Religious Theme Ruled Constitutional

WASHINGTON (AP) — Issuance of a Christmas stamp with a religious theme doesn't violate the constitutional guarantee of separation of church and state, a U.S. District Court judge ruled.

The Constitution does not demand separation of religion and state— only church and state— wrote Judge Alexander Holtzoff in rejecting Thursday a Protestant group's bid to block issuance of the stamp by the Post Office Department.

The Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State sought a preliminary injunction to prevent the printing or issuing of a stamp "with a religious symbol commonly associated with the Roman Catholic Church."

The stamp, first issued last Christmas, is a five-color reproduction of Hans Memling's 15th Century "Madonna and Child with Angel," which hangs in the National Gallery of Art.

Apple Crop Dips Sharply

COLUMBIA (AP) - Missouri's apple production this year is estimated at 650,00 bushels by the Missouri Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

The federal-state agency said this will be about 38 per cent below the 1966 output, and 42 per cent under the 1961-65 average. The national crop is placed at 126,140,000 bushels, only slightly below last year.

The state's peach crop is estimated at 320,000 bushels, about 14 per cent above last year and 3 per cent over the 1961-65 average.

The grape crop will be about 700 tons, compared with 3,400 tons last year.

Mix chopped chicken with cream cheese and season with curry powder; use as a spread for teatime sandwiches.

Matthews Now Has Four Girl Scout Troops

MATTHEWS -- Neighborhood Chairman Mrs. Carl Romines, who as a volunteer, guides the Girl Scout program, announced that Matthews now has four active, organized troops, serving 53 girls.

Troop leaders are: Brownie troop no. 36, Mrs. Buddy Gardner and Mrs. C. G. Scott, Jr.; Junior troop no. 27, Mrs. Marcus Koch and Sondra Warren; Cadette troop no. 179, Mrs. Robert Greene, Mrs. Gene Warren and Mrs. Jerry Hester; Senior troop no. 214, Mrs. Henry Cain and Mrs. Goble Trail, Jr.

Rain Helps Beans, No Aid to Cotton

HAYTI -- General rainfall over the Bootheel the past weekend was beneficial to soybeans, but did not aid cotton.

Cool daytime and night temperature is now allowing cotton to mature normally. Cotton is at least four weeks late.

Insect buildup continues. More and more boll weevils are being detected, but no general spray program has been started for them. Bollworms continue to take their toll.

No activity was reported on local markets.

Pimiento-flavored cream cheese (all prepared) makes a quick stuffing for celery to serve as an appetizer or on lettuce as a salad. If you want to combine the cheese-mixture yourself, use regular cream cheese, chopped pimento and green olives.

Exactly what is chutney? It's usually a combination of fruits and vegetables cooked with sugar, vinegar and spices. Chutney is a "must" with curries and is an excellent relish to serve with other meat, fish or egg dishes.

Hearnes Voices Opposition to Grain Control

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes said Missouri will take an official stand in opposition to pending congressional legislation which he said would give the secretary of agriculture unlimited control over grain inspection.

He said he has directed C. C. Dale Stanton, director of the state grain warehouse division of the Department of Agriculture, to appear in opposition to the legislation in Washington hearings this week.

Hearnes said he felt that if states do not act in a strong fashion to provide a grain inspection service the federal government would move in.

The proposed congressional changes, Hearnes said, would do away with the mandatory inspection of grain moving in interstate commerce for domestic purposes, would allow the USDA to provide initial grain inspection instead of acting as an appeal agency and would require state or private inspection agencies to sign cooperative agreements with the USDA — thus giving the federal agency overall control.

Two Seek to Be Bloomfield Mayor

BLOOMFIELD -- Two Bloomfield residents are contenders for mayor Tuesday in a special election.

Vernon Taylor, a farmer and former city councilman, and Everett C. Bess, former city water department employe, have filed for the contest.

City councilman Delmer Underwood has served as acting mayor since the resignation of Alvin Corbin.

Polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. according to City Clerk J. C. Newcomer. Ward one will vote at the city hall and ward two residents will vote in the county treasurer's office in the Stoddard county courthouse.

Taul and Brown Have Records Of Years of Civic Service

By Leo Schade

Two Southeast Missourians, Owen J. Taul of Lilbourn, and Tyree F. Brown of Bell City, will be honored in January when they will be among 6,000 whose biographical sketch will appear in the 800-page Outstanding Civic Leaders of America.

Taul has spent almost a half century as teacher and administrator in schools in the Bootheel, as well as 23 years as a leader in Boy Scouting, and 33 years in a Kiwanis club.

Brown, who is an engineer and builder, has taught a Sunday School class in his church 20 years.

Taul was born in Ohio county, Kentucky. He came to New Madrid county as a small boy. As a young man he traveled to the Pacific Northwest and spent almost a year in the shipbuilding yards, only to return to seek a teaching career. He began teaching in 1919, and with the exception of one year when he attended a year of college, he has continued in it. He is principal at Lilbourn high school.

His teaching career included six years as principal and superintendent at Canalou; four months as New Madrid county school superintendent. Since 1934 has been principal at Lilbourn. He was acting superintendent of Lilbourn during World War II when Supt. Lynn Twitty took leave to enter the marines.

He is a member of the Canalou Church of Christ and an adult Bible class teacher.

Tyree Brown

Owen J. Taul

He is a Kiwanis club past president and has served as secretary 22 years. In 1948 he was lieutenant - governor of Kiwanis International; in the Masonic Lodge, he is a 32nd degree Mason, and Scottish Rite Mason.

A leader in the Boy Scout movement 23 years, he was awarded the Silver Beaver award in 1956. In 1960 he led a group of 164 Scouts to the Philmont camp in New Mexico. He was a leader at the National Jamboree at Colorado Springs, Colo. This past summer he led 74 district Scouts to the Expo 67 in Montreal and the National Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.

In 1965 he was made an honorary member of the Future Farmers of America.

Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Rust Brown, spent his youth on a farm.

Following graduation from the Bell City high school, he entered the Rolla School of Mines for one year.

He entered the navy as an aviation electrical technician in World War II. At the end of the war, he returned to his home city to enter business.

In 1949 he married Francis Eakins. They have one son, Fred L. Eakins, 13.

He has served as both Boy Scoutmaster and Cubmaster. He is a member of the Garden Ridge General Baptist church.

He owns and operates an irrigation well drilling unit.

Christmas Stamp With Religious Theme Ruled Constitutional

WASHINGTON (AP) — Issuance of a Christmas stamp with a religious theme doesn't violate the constitutional guarantee of separation of church and state, a U.S. District Court judge ruled.

The Constitution does not demand separation of religion and state—only church and state—wrote Judge Alexander Holtzoff in rejecting Thursday a Protestant group's bid to block issuance of the stamp by the Post Office Department.

The Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State sought a preliminary injunction to prevent the printing or issuing of a stamp "with a religious symbol commonly associated with the Roman Catholic Church."

The stamp, first issued last Christmas, is a five-color reproduction of Hans Memling's 15th Century "Madonna and Child with Angel," which hangs in the National Gallery of Art.

Gaslight Square Narcotic Search Nets 11 Arrests

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Police and federal agents arrested 11 persons in Gaslight Square Friday night as a result of an investigation into the use of marijuana and drugs.

Warrants were issued charging Russell Stokes, 18, with illegal sale of marijuana and Miss Arden Gilpin, 18, with possession. The other nine were released.

Dectective Richard Flynn of the police mobile reserve posed as a hippie to gather information. Flynn said he made a marijuana purchase from Stokes, paying him $5 for seven grams of the weed.

Police said a package of marijuana and a number of pills and capsules were confiscated.

Curtis Says Consumer Credit Fears Needless

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., said Saturday consumer credit is a desirable economic asset and he urged those who view its growth with alarm to have no fear.

"Consumer credit represents a new, growing, exciting and socially valuable economic operation which properly handled makes a great contribution to the well-being of our society," Curtis said.

Curtis, ranking Republican on the House-Senate Joint Economic Committee, addressed the Missouri Consumer Credit Convention.

The congressman said the Soviet Union is beginning to use consumer credit and so "the inherent power behind this exonomic phenomena has to be very great to break through the Communist ideology which it basically contradicts."

However, Curtis said those in the consumer credit field must close ranks against credit for credit's sake.

"There must be an end to this business of seeking to sell consumer goods or services to the public as a front for what really is the business of extending consumer credit," Curtis said.

MRS. ROBERT MATTHEWS spoke to the American Association of University Women Tuesday. Mrs. Matthews holds "The Crucifixion" by Rodney Winfield, a St. Louis artist.

Artists Ahead of Times Mrs. Matthews Says

"There is a body of knowledge in art as well as in science. The artists were the thinkers and creators of the times we live in now. The artist always seems to be ahead of the times."

It was Mrs. Robert Matthews speaking to members of the American Association of University Women Tuesday at her home after dinner at Luber's restaurant.

Mrs. Matthews explained:

"If we are not educated to sensibility to art, we are empty. What we must be so careful of is the value of art to its own time. The first drama was always in the church. This was a means of teaching people who were illiterate. It was a means of communication."

She told the group that society should be an ongoing, moving process. "In modern times we are less concerned with the soul and more concerned with the knowledge," she said. "We are not taught to appreciate or feel sensibility in our times. We must teach our young people sensibilities, non-comformity and some taste."

Twenty one members and guests of the AAUW attended.

The next meeting will be Oct. 10 at the home of Mrs. Fred Steck. Richard Smith will speak.

American Marketing System Explained in Series of Ads

The Daily Standard joins 910 nespapers in publishing a series of advertisements explaining the American marketing system.

"The purpose of the educational program is to help consumers understand how they benefit from the American marketing system," C. L. Blanton Jr., Daily Standard publisher, said. This system has produced the highest savings, greater freedom of choice and new and improved products."

The program will outline ten points of the American marketing system.

1. The marketing system makes it possible for a very large number of different goods to be available to the consumer.

2. The marketing system makes it possible for producers of widely varying kinds of sizes of goods to find customers for their products, and to find them at various levels of finished processing.

3. The marketing system adapts itself to the needs of the consumers by providing goods in many outlets, it that is required; or in fewer, more specialized outlets, if that is necessary.

4. The marketing system is flexible in time, too; products with seasonal appeal are more available during their season; nonseasonal products are available throughout the year as demand requires.

5. The marketing system maintains goods inventories to supply normal and abnormal consumer requirements from stock, without special orders, throughout the communities' retail outlets.

6. The marketing system has provided pleasant and attractive physical structures - air-conditioned with nurseries, parking facilities, et al, in which to trade.

7. The marketing system delivers the same goods, at comparable prices, throughout the United States. This is true of non-regional brands - and it is true as well of commodities.

8. The marketing system provices goods of standard quality, size, etc. It is no accident that whatever hardware store is used, one finds that standard screws, bolts, etc., are available in standard lengths and thicknesses.

9. The marketing system facilitates purchase through credit; both direct (charge accounts) and indirect (check cashing).

10. The marketing system educates and informs consumers about the availablilty of goods, their physical characteristics, their prices and their quality.

Throughout the educational program, three broad areas will be reflected:

1. In the United States of America, where Freedom of Choice was introduced and made the foundation of our government through the Bill of Rights, the consumer has the most powerful weapon in the world; the ability to say no... the opportunity not to buy, not to listen, not to go... because there is an acceptable alternative choice provided by the system.

2. Within their life span, the people of our nation where Freedom of Choice has been maintained at home, if need be by sacrifices on the battlefield, have seen products and services constantly improved, with ever widening choices. The consumer has always been the one to make the choice.

3. Within the daily experience of every man, woman and child are many benefits of Freedom of Choice at the American Market Place that are recognized... but there are many that are not. By redescribing the familiar, these can be made meaningful. The parking lot at the supermarket, for instance, is truly a part of the distribution system, put there in competition for the consumer's favor.

"If this educational program evokes the reaction 'America must be doing something right', all of us will be grateful", said International Newspaper Advertising Exectuives President Merrell M. DuBois, advertising director of the Gannett Group of thirty newspapers.

The program, produced by the American Association of Advertising Agencies "volunteer agency", McCann-Erickson, will present a weekly message designed to explain to consumers how they benefit from the American Marketing System. "Publishers throughout the United States and Canada are making this educational program possible and we salute them for this public - spirited contribution", said INAE President DuBois.

NEW HABITS, NEW HAIRDOS for Catholic nuns are requiring some additional training for various Orders. A change in style of habit which left their hair exposed required refresher courses in hair styling for Sisters of Sacred Heart Academy in Lisle, Ill. Luckily Sister Mary Josephine was a hairdresser before she entered the Order, and was sent to a nearby beauty school to brush up on fashions which she could pass along to the other nuns.

REMEMBER THE SARONG, and the girl behind it who quickened male heartbeats in the 1940s? Back on view in foreign apparel again, this time an Arabic djellabah, is veteran actress Dorothy Lamour, shown here in the role of an Arab leader's daughter in a guest appearance on the television series "I Spy."

FALL'S SHORT MOOD—Coat and skirt take on new proportions for fashion honors. With the mini-coat, the skirt is engineered to show a few inches below the coat. In Cone Mills' cotton corduroy, it's a Haymaker design.

PUBLIC NOTICE

CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF SCOTT STATE OF MISSOURI

RUBY ANN ABBOTT, Plaintiff

vs.

MARTIN EUGENE ABBOTT, Defendant

ORDER OF PUBLICATION OF NOTICE

The State of Missouri to defendant Martin Eugene Abbott

You are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against you in the Circuit Court for the County of Scott, State of Missouri, the object and general nature of which is Divorce.

The names of all the parties to said suit are stated above in the caption hereof and the name and address of the attorney for plaintiff is Kenneth L. Dement, 310 West North Street, Sikeston, Missouri.

THE FISCHER QUINTS of Aberdeen, S.D., will be four years old Sept. 14. They're a frolicking bunch like most other youngsters that age, as you can see in this photo, copyright by the Curtis Publishing Co., of a recent picnic near their home. Jimmy, the only boy his sisters, Maggie, Mary Ann, Cathy and Margie, chase the elusive butterfly.

LADY EXECS FROM VIETNAM came to the U.S. for a six-week course in marketing at Harvard University and a nationwide business tour, all under the auspices of the Agency for International Development and the Asia Foundation. Shown here in New York with Reginald Martine Jr., hotel executive at left, and James Hagler of the International Marketing Institute are, from left, Mai Thanh, Lo An, Huynh Thi Nga and Huynh To Hoa.

Ann Landers

Bizarre Behavior Still News

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to form a club called the "Down With Hippies Society" or something like that. I am tired of reading about weirdos, pot smokers, LSDers, draft-card burners and the rest of those creeps. Why do we waste valuable magazine and newspaper space and prime TV time on blobs who contribute nothing, have earned nothing and amount to nothing?

These oddballs have the idea that they are something special because they are attracting so much attention. They go around ruining the scenery whenever they appear (just their presence is a blight). They enjoy the stares, hoping someone will start something so they can get into a fight and yell, "I am being persecuted because I am a nonconformist."

I was told recently that I am a square because I have a haircut, a clean neck and wear shoes with laces. I also shower every day and wear trousers that are so loose I can actually sit down in them.

I know I am not alone in my views. There must be others who resent the fact that normal people don't get any time or space or attention. How about it?--- DOWN WITH HIPPIES

Dear Down: Here's some space, with more than 50 million readers. I, too, deplore the attention given to people who don't deserve it. But, unfortunately, bizarre and oddball behavior is often more fascinating than decent living. So long as this is one of the unalterable facts of life, the offbeat, the kook and the way-outer is going to grab the center of the stage.

Dear Ann Landers: You probably never heard of a problem like this in your whole like. I am a 12-year-old girl who needs your help. Don't you think a person who is on the verge of being a teen-ager should be able to open the fridge and help herself to a glass of milk or an apple without consulting her mother?

If I was a hog and ate half a pie or a pint of ice cream between meals I would say my mother had a right to be strict about snacking. But I am a sensible girl and not fat or anything.

Yesterday when Mom heard me pouring a glass of milk for myself she said, "Put it back. You must ask me if you want to eat between meals."

Every one of my friends can go into their fridges and eat whatever they want to and you should see the glop they pack in. What is your opinion? --- HUNGRY

Dear Hung: I am assuming your story is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth----in which case the 12-year-old should be free to help herself to a glass of milk or a piece of fruit without asking special permission.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 42-year-old woman, in good health, and have straight morals. I am unmarried and I always did factory work. Now I have a chance to move into a lovely home and take over as a housekeeper.

I am undecided because I don't know what is expected of a housekeeper. ---IDELLE

Dear Idelle: If you have to ask what a housekeeper is supposed to do, forget about taking the job.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents ... if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom." Send 50¢ in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Farm Labor Bulletin

STATE SUMMARY

Hay, pastures, corn, soybean and cotton crop damage extensive, as dry weather continues over most of state. Cool nights slowing cotton development.

West Plains, Poplar Bluff, Kennett areas report beneficial rains, with Springfield receiving slightly over one-fourth inch.

Demands for year-round farm workers increasing.

16 year-round and 64 seasonal farm workers were placed last week, with VFPR's adding 108 additional placements.

St. Louis shipping bus load of apple pickers to Michigan, several crews from Southeast Missouri reporting for apple harvest in North Missouri, cotton picking two to three weeks away, in-plant worker recruitment continuing, worker surplus diminishes.

SOUTHEAST

Sikeston: 202 South Kingshighway - Telephone: Granite 1-2731.

Farm labor activities in four-county area moving into harvest of corn and early soybeans. Cotton harbest still two to three weeks away. No local labor demand and no workers presently available for out-of-area work.

Farm Labor Information Station & Rest Camp, Route No. 2, Sikeston.

The Camp served 305 migrants last week with 5 enroute to Illinois; 5 going to Michigan; and 295 returning to Texas.

Poplar Bluff: 211 Pine Street-Telephone: 785-9606.

A general rain has fallen over this office area which was badly needed. Nine in-plant workers here have been sent to Wisconsin and 21 left for Ohio. Farm Labor demand and supply in balance in this area.

West Plains: 111 Walnut Street-Telephone: 256-3158.

Area received another 1½ inches of rain this week. Local orders still slow. Four farm hands have been referred to North Missouri, two direct and two waiting for Mobility interview travel.

Caruthersville: 300 Ward Street - Telephone: Edison 3-2416.

Farm activities in this area during the week were breaking and leveling of land after corn chopping is being done. Rain is badly needed over the entire area. Extra cool nights have not been good for the maturity of cotton. Labor for out-of-area work is very short.

Cape Girardeau: 231 North Main Street - Telephone: Edgewater 5-6666.

Demand for farm labor on the increase due to early harvest activities. Adequate supply of seasonal labor available to fill all job openings. Short one year-round farm family. Wages offered are $45 per week with housing furnished free to worker. No surplus labor available for out-of-area employment.

Kennett: 405 St. Francis Street - Telephone: Tuxedo 8-3184.

If You Were the Judge

Spanking No Reason To Dissolve Marriage

By Jack Strauss, LL.D.

Herbert was a peaceful and gentle soul. His bride Agatha, on the other hand, cackled continually over petty things. The first year of their marriage, Herbert merely shook his head in despair. The second year, he suggested that she should not let things upset her so. The third year, he finally lost his temper and took his wife over his knees and spanked her.

Blushing where it didn't show, Agatha screamed out of the house and started an action to end her marriage on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

"I realize it was a mistake," Herbert confessed in court, "but there's only so much petty quarreling that a man can take and I took it for three years."

"While his confession might be good for his soul," was Agatha's answer, "it didn't help my backside any."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you unhitch Herbert and Agatha because of Herbert's alleged cruel and inhuman treatment?

This is how the judge ruled: No! The judge held that a spanking applied to the place where a spanking is ordinarily applied may be cruel but it's not inhuman; that the spanking did not endanger Agatha's life or health so as to warrant the termination of the marriage.

(Based upon a 1959 Iowa Supreme Court Decision.)

TODAY'S LEGAL POINTER:

After making out a will, it is very important to inform the person whom you have named as executor that you have made out a will and where you have put it. There's no point in making out a will if it can't be located upon your death.

Water Pollution Seminar at Dexter

JEFFERSON CITY -- The Missouri water pollution board is conducting water pollution seminars throughout the state. The purpose of the seminars is to explain the required laboratory analysis on the operation of waste stabilization lagoons and waste water treatment plants.

Detailed information will be given regarding the requirements in waste water treatment prior to discharge of the treated waste water into a receiving stream.

The seminar in Southeast Missouri will be held in Dexter, Sept. 27, at 10 a.m. in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

The board requests that representatives of management and operation of waste water treatment facilities serving municipalities, industry, mining and others attend the meeting.

Joy Pasaka Speaks to PEO Sisterhood

Chapter J.U. of the P.E.O. Sisterhood met at the home of Mrs. Pete Malone Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. The program was presented by Joy Pasaka on the subject of fashions in dance. Mrs. Pasaka demonstrated steps from basic social American dances that ranged from the Charleston to the most modern in our society today, the Jerk, Muscle and the Skate. From foreign lands she gave examples of the Tango, Bossanova, and the Cha Cha Cha.

The officers of Chapter JU for the year 1967-1968 are Mrs. JoAnne Fox, president; Mrs. Jim Robison, vice president; Mrs. Rik Leslie, recording secretary; Mrs. John Harper, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bill Hunter, treasurer; Mrs. Bob Mitchell, guard and Mrs. Jack Hunter, chaplain.

The purposes of the P.E.O. Sisterhood are exclusively education and charitable. These purposes are accomplished through three educational philantropies with which the entire membership is concerned. These are: The P.E.O. Educational Peace Scholarship Fund.

The P.E.O. Sisterhood was founded as a college sorority on the campus of Iowa Wesleyan College, Mount Pleasant, Iowa, January 21, 1869. Seven young women students, desiring to perpetuate their bond of friendship, pledged themselves to the selected purposes. Chapters were organized also in neighboring cities and towns.

The time came when all sororities legislated to restrict their chapters to colleges. P.E.O. voted to retain its English letters and its off-campus chapters. Thus the change from a College group to a community group opened the way for growth of the organization. The P.E.O. Sisterhood is now an international organization with thousands of chapters in the United States and Canada.

The Prayer From The Upper Room

Then he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases. (Luke 9:1)

PRAYER: Dear Father, we confess that we have failed to give Thy gospel in the spirit in which it was given to us. May we be kindled with the flame of Thy spirit. Inspire us to preach the gospel with authority. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Ann Landers

Bizarre Behavior Still News

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to form a club called the "Down With Hippies Society" or something like that. I am tired of reading about weirdos, pot smokers, LSDers, draft-card burners and the rest of those creeps. Why do we waste valuable magazine and newspaper space and prime TV time on blobs who contribute nothing, have earned nothing and amount to nothing?

These oddballs have the idea that they are something special because they are attracting so much attention. They go around ruining the scenery whenever they appear (just their presence is a blight). They enjoy the stares, hoping someone will start something so they can get into a fight and yell, "I am being persecuted because I am a nonconformist."

I was told recently that I am a square because I have a haircut, a clean neck and wear shoes with laces. I also shower every day and wear trousers that are so loose I can actually sit down in them.

I know I am not alone in my views. There must be others who resent the fact that normal people don't get any time or space or attention. How about it?--- DOWN WITH HIPPIES

Dear Down: Here's some space, with more than 50 million readers. I, too, deplore the attention given to people who don't deserve it. But, unfortunately, bizarre and oddball behavior is often more fascinating than decent living. So long as this is one of the unalterable facts of life, the offbeat, the kook and the way-outer is going to grab the center of the stage.

Dear Ann Landers: You probably never heard of a problem like this in your whole like. I am a 12-year-old girl who needs your help. Don't you think a person who is on the verge of being a teen-ager should be able to open the fridge and help herself to a glass of milk or an apple without consulting her mother?

If I was a hog and ate half a pie or a pint of ice cream between meals I would say my mother had a right to be strict about snacking. But I am a sensible girl and not fat or anything.

Yesterday when Mom heard me pouring a glass of milk for myself she said, "Put it back. You must ask me if you want to eat between meals."

Every one of my friends can go into their fridges and eat whatever they want to and you should see the glop they pack in. What is your opinion? --- HUNGRY

Dear Hung: I am assuming your story is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth----in which case the 12-year-old should be free to help herself to a glass of milk or a piece of fruit without asking special permission.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 42-year-old woman, in good health, and have straight morals. I am unmarried and I always did factory work. Now I have a chance to move into a lovely home and take over as a housekeeper.

I am undecided because I don't know what is expected of a house----IDELLE

Dear Idelle: If you have to ask what a housekeeper is supposed to do, forget about taking the job.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents ... if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom." Send 50¢ in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Farm Labor Bulletin

STATE SUMMARY

Hay, pastures, corn, soybean and cotton crop damage extensive, as dry weather continues over most of state. Cool nights slowing cotton development.

West Plains, Poplar Bluff, Kennett areas report beneficial rains, with Springfield receiving slightly over one-fourth inch.

Demands for year-round farm workers increasing.

16 year-round and 64 seasonal farm workers were placed last week, with VFPR's adding 108 additional placements.

St. Louis shipping bus load of apple pickers to Michigan, several crews from Southeast Missouri reporting for apple harvest in North Missouri, cotton picking two to three weeks away, in-plant worker recruitment continuing, worker surplus diminishes.

SOUTHEAST

Sikeston: 202 South Kingshighway - Telephone: Granite 1-2731.

Farm labor activities in four-county area moving into harvest of corn and early soybeans. Cotton harbest still two to three weeks away. No local labor demand and no workers presently available for out-of-area work.

Farm Labor Information Station & Rest Camp, Route No. 2, Sikeston.

The Camp served 305 migrants last week with 5 enroute to Illinois; 5 going to Michigan; and 295 returning to Texas.

Poplar Bluff: 211 Pine Street-Telephone: 785-9606.

A general rain has fallen over this office area which was badly needed. Nine in-plant workers here have been sent to Wisconsin and 21 left for Ohio. Farm Labor demand and supply in balance in this area.

West Plains: 111 Walnut Street-Telephone: 256-3158.

Area received another 1½ inches of rain this week. Local orders still slow. Four farm hands have been referred to North Missouri, two direct and two waiting for Mobility interview travel.

Caruthersville: 300 Ward Street - Telephone: Edison 3-2416.

Farm activities in this area during the week were breaking and leveling of land after corn chopping is being done. Rain is badly needed over the entire area. Extra cool nights have not been good for the maturity of cotton. Labor for out-of-area work is very short.

Cape Girardeau: 231 North Main Street - Telephone: Edgewater 5-6666.

Demand for farm labor on the increase due to early harvest activities. Adequate supply of seasonal labor available to fill all job openings. Short one year-round farm family. Wages offered are $45 per week with housing furnished free to worker. No surplus labor available for out-of-area employment.

Kennett: 405 St. Francis Street - Telephone: Tuxedo 8-3184.

If You Were the Judge

Spanking No Reason To Dissolve Marriage

By Jack Strauss, LL.D.

Herbert was a peaceful and gentle soul. His bride Agatha, on the other hand, cackled continually over petty things. The first year of their marriage, Herbert merely shook his head in despair. The second year, he suggested that she should not let things upset her so. The third year, he finally lost his temper and took his wife over his knees and spanked her.

Blushing where it didn't show, Agatha screamed out of the house and started an action to end her marriage on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

"I realize it was a mistake," Herbert confessed in court, "but there's only so much petty quarreling that a man can take and I took it for three years."

"While his confession might be good for his soul," was Agatha's answer, "it didn't help my backside any."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you unhitch Herbert and Agatha because of Herbert's alleged cruel and inhuman treatment?

This is how the judge ruled: No! The judge held that a spanking applied to the place where a spanking is ordinarily applied may be cruel but it's not inhuman; that the spanking did not endanger Agatha's life or health so as to warrant the termination of the marriage.

Joy Pasaka Speaks to PEO Sisterhood

Chapter J.U. of the P.E.O. Sisterhood met at the home of Mrs. Pete Malone Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. The program was presented by Joy Pasaka on the subject of fashions in dance. Mrs. Pasaka demonstrated steps from basic social American dances that ranged from the Charleston to the most modern in our society today, the Jerk, Muscle and the Skate. From foreign lands she gave examples of the Tango, Bossanova, and the Cha Cha Cha.

The officers of Chapter JU for the year 1967-1968 are Mrs. JoAnne Fox, president; Mrs. Jim Robison, vice president; Mrs. Rik Leslie, recording secretary; Mrs. John Harper, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bill Hunter, treasurer; Mrs. Bob Mitchell, guard and Mrs. Jack Hunter, chaplain.

The purposes of the P.E.O. Sisterhood are exclusively education and charitable. These purposes are accomplished through three educational philanropies with which the entire membership is concerned. These are: The P.E.O. Educational Peace Scholarship Fund.

The P.E.O. Sisterhood was founded as a college sorority on the campus of Iowa Wesleyan College, Mount Pleasant, Iowa, January 21, 1869. Seven young women students, desiring to perpetuate their bond of friendship, pledged themselves to the selected purposes. Chapters were organized also in neighboring cities and towns.

The time came when all sororities legislated to restrict their chapters to colleges. P.E.O. voted to retain its English letters and its off-campus chapters. Thus the change from a College group to a community group opened the way for growth of the organization. The P.E.O. Sisterhood is now an international organization with thousands of chapters in the United States and Canada.

The Prayer From The Upper Room

Then he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases. (Luke 9:1)

PRAYER: Dear Father, we confess that we have failed to give Thy gospel in the spirit in which it was given to us. May we be kindled with the flame of Thy spirit. Inspire us to preach the gospel with authority. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Today In U. S. History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Sept. 18, the 261st day of 1967. There are 104 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1961, Dag Hammarskjold, secretary general of the United Nations, was killed in a plane crash in northern Rhodesia.

On this date:

In 1793, President George Washington laid the cornerstone of the Capitol building in Washington.

In 1810, Chile declared itself independent of Spain.

In 1850, Congress passed the Fugitive Slave Act, permitting a slave-owner possessing a certificate of ownership to reclaim any slave who escaped into another state.

In 1851, the first issue of the New York Times was published.

In 1931, Japan began the military occupation of Manchuria.

In 1959, Nikita Khrushchev addressed the U.N. General Assembly and called for the disarmament of all nations within the next four years.

Ten years ago — West Germany raised its bank rate and Britain followed suit by raising its rate to the highest level since 1920.

Five years ago— the U.N. General Assembly admitted four newly independent nations: Rwanda, Burundi, Jamaica and Trinidad-Tobago, raising membership to 108.

One year ago— Valerie Percy, 21-year-old daughter of senator-to-be Charles Percy of Illinois, was killed in a savage knife attack in her bedroom.

Today In U. S. History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Sept. 18, the 261st day of 1967. There are 104 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1961, Dag Hammarskjold, secretary general of the United Nations, was killed in a plane crash in northern Rhodesia.

On this date:

In 1793, President George Washington laid the cornerstone of the Capitol building in Washington.

In 1810, Chile declared itself independent of Spain.

In 1850, Congress passed the Fugitive Slave Act, permitting a slave-owner possessing a certificate of ownership to reclaim any slave who escaped into another state.

In 1851, the first issue of the New York Times was published.

In 1931, Japan began the military occupation of Manchuria.

In 1959, Nikita Khrushchev addressed the U.N. General Assembly and called for the disarmament of all nations within the next four years.

Ten years ago— West Germany raised its bank rate and Britain followed suit by raising its rate to the highest level since 1920.

Five years ago— the U.N. General Assembly admitted four newly independent nations: Rwanda, Burundi, Jamaica and Trinidad-Tobago, raising membership to 108.

One year ago— Valerie Percy, 21-year-old daughter of senator-to-be Charles Percy of Illinois, was killed in a savage knife attack in her bedroom.

Girls in Miniskirts Boost Lottery Sales

NEW YORK (AP) — To the surprise of hardly anyone, salesgirls in miniskirts proved to be quite a tonic for the lagging New York State Lottery sales.

"This is the first time I've bought one," said Edward Christman, "and the only reason I did it is because they're here and I'm here."

The state hired 20 young women in yellow miniskirts and blue stockings to hand out promotional material while 10 busy salesmen handled the tickets.

The entourage made nine stops throughout the city and everywhere they went people quickly lined up to buy the tickets. Lottery proceeds go to education.

Warren Attends Staff College in Norfolk, Va.

NORFOLK, VA. -- Navy Commander Billy R. Warren, son of Mr. Rolla Warren of Route 4, Sikeston, Mo., is attending the armed forces staff college.

Under the direction of the joint chiefs of staff, the five-month course prepares officers for command and staff assignments at combined commands. These are commands where the military forces of more than one service or more than one nation are involved.

A graduate of Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau, Mo., Commander Warren entered the service in September of 1951.

He is the husband of the former Betty J. Anderson of Dallas.

Nixon, Percy and Reagan Missouri GOP Favorites

KANSAS CITY (AP)— Missouri Republicans rate Richard Nixon, Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California in that order for the party's presidential nomination, says Lawrence Meisel, state finance chairman for the GOP.

Meisel, mayor of Frontenac, a St. Louis suburb, is directing the finance committee's effort to raise $730,000 for the 1968 election campaign.

Three $100-a-plate dinners will be held Sept. 23 - at St. Louis, Kansas City and Springfield.

St. Louis has set a goal of 1,000 persons at its dinner to hear Sen. George Murphy of California speak, and pledges for 750 tickets have been received, Meisel said Thursday.

Springfield Republicans aiming for 300, have sold more than 150 tickets, he said. The Springfield speaker will be Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee.

Kansas City's goal is 500 diners, who will hear Sen. Percy, and pledges for more than half of the tickets have been received, officials said.

Mary B. Thomas Dies Sunday

Mary B. Thomas, 83, 223 Moore Ave., died Sunday at 6:45 a.m. in Shuffit Nursing Home 3.

She was born Aug. 1, 1884 in Carbondale, Ill.

She is survived by her husband, Charles C. Thomas of Sikeston.

Services were held today at 2:30 p.m. in the Nunnelee Funeral Home, with the Rev. Joseph H. Wagner, pastor of First Methodist church, officiating. The body was removed to the Vanetta Funeral Home in Carbondale, where services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m.

Burial will be in the Oakland cemetery in Carbondale.

Mid-South Fair Expected To Draw 700,000 People

MEMPHIS -- A bustling "city" is springing up on 151 acres of real estate in mid-Memphis and its population is expected to have exploded from about 1,000 persons to 700,000 by Saturday.

The advance guard of construction workers, utility men, concessionaries and a multiplicity of others who put together the Mid-South Fair were under a full head of steam to ready the big Exposition for its nine-day run, starting Friday, and continuing through Saturday.

After everything is set, Tennessee Gov Buford Ellington and a host of other dignitatires will get the 111th Mid-South Fair underway with ceremonies Friday.

Fair President Joe Pipkin predicts about 700,000 from at least eight states of the Mid-South will have passed through the gates before midnight Saturday. A total of 660,443 persons saw the 1966 Fair. That was a record.

Meanwhile, with the opening just days away, the comparative calm and bleakness of the other 11 months of the year has been transformed into a sea of color and activity.

The city effect comes in the installation of myriad telephones, complete with switchboard, a police station, a post office, a bank, a trailer court - all necessary to keeping the city alive for nine days.

The horde of fairgoers will be attracted by such things as a livestock show with prized cattle and swine from 18 states competing for more than $75,000 in premiums; exhibits galore including a navy jet trainer which visitors can fly under simulated conditions; an extensive soybean display; the latest 1968 automobiles; everything in cooking, baking, sewing, flowers, cosmetics; and an elaborate education exhibit which 250 students in Memphis and Shelby county schools have been putting together for almost a year.

That's just a sampling of the very important agricultural, industrial and educational aspects of the fair. Then you get into the entertainment phase and here the doors open wide. The Giant Free-O-Rama, which returns by popular demand, will include Mark Wilson's Magic Land of Allakazam, a new and different magic show which has been acclaimed by 20,000,000 viewers plus audiences overseas; Sabu, one of the country's smallest performing elephants with a variety of 28 tricks; Sensational Parker, who thrills the crowd on a breakaway pole high above the Fairgrounds; and the country junction show with area entertainers.

Also free and of high interest to youngsters and relatives and friends is the youth talent contest which will hold forth for twice-daily shows in the modern youth center. Winners of preliminary competition will meet in the Grand Finals on Wednesday night, in the Coliseum.

Two of the Fair's top free attractions will be in the Coliseum. Eldon Roark, "Strolling" columnist of the Memphis Press-Scimitar, will be back with his very popular "Museum of Unnatural History." And a first for the Fair will be an art festival which will display outstanding works of area artists.

Special days will include Tennessee, Friday, Arkansas, Saturday, Kentucky, Monday, (also FFA and FHA Day); Mississippi, Tuesday, and Missouri, Thursday.

Fairgoers can pay their way into the luxury-seating Mid-South Coliseum to see three days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of the World Championship Rodeo and TV's "Gunsmoke" stars Doc Adams (Milburn Stone) and Festus Haggen (Ken Curtis). Then comes famed Western star Roy Rogers and Dale Evans with a supporting show which includes the immensely popular Sons of the Pioneers singing group for a one-day stand on Thursday, followed on Friday night by Marty Robbins who made all the record charts with "El Paso", "White Sport Coat" and "Singing the Blues."

The Fair feature is reserved for the last night, Saturday, September 30, when the celebrated Jim Nabors comes in with "Gomer Pyle." Gomer will do some of the hilarious routine from his popular national television show and will also treat the fans to his great voice with a number of popular songs.

It all adds up to an extravaganza of merriment and fun for the Mid-South and that's exactly what Fair General Manager Wilson Sparks wants. He says: "Y'all come and enjoy yourselves."

Sharp Reduction Reported in U.S. Missile Edge

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union has reduced U.S. missile superiority from nearly 4 to 1 to less than 3 to 1 this year and has stepped up a production program that will cut the lead still further in 1968, the Institute for Strategic Studies said today.

The authoritative institute reported also that Red China has stockpiled an estimated 30 relatively small atomic bombs, but it said there was no indication that Peking's nuclear program is operational yet.

The private institute was founded in 1958 as an international center for research on defense, world security and disarmament. Its 13-nation council gathers information from private and governmental sources and its own researchers.

The report said Russia nearly doubled its long-range missile arsenal this year and has installed around Moscow antiballistic missiles with nuclear warheads that would permit limited protection against attack.

A British defense ministry expert said earlier this week that the Russians are believed to have developed a giant rocket which releases a shower of H-bombs, each capable of being guided to a separate target.

Graham Closes Crusade on Warning Note

Rev. Billy Graham says the world is heading toward Armageddon and the United States faces a "fire and brimstone" judgment like the ancient city of Sodom.

"God warned Sodom of his wrath and he is warning America," Graham told a record crowd of 53,000 at Municipal Stadium Sunday. "I believe God is giving this nation a chance to repent but the vast majority of America is not heeding His voice."

The crowd at the final service of Graham's 10-day crusade was the largest ever in the stadium. It brought the total attendance to 364,000.

After Graham's sermon, 1,700 persons stepped forward to commit themselves to Christ. Crusade officials said the 10-day total of those seeking salvation was 11,380.

Graham, whose next crusade will be in Japan, revealed that he had been "deathly sick" last week. He said there were four evenings when he didn't know whether he could preach, but managed to do so, although one evening his temperature was 101 degrees.

The evangelist compared the riotous living in Sodom with life in the United States.

He said Sodom was a "combination of Las Vegas and Wall Street" where people were too busy for God in seeking sex thrills and pleasures.

Like many in America today, Lot was rich, he said. "There's a grave danger in affluency, especially with the amount of riches that we enjoy in America."

Referring to the riots in American cities, Graham said he plans to cut down on crusades abroad and concentrate on preaching in the cities. He said the Gospel is the answer to the "screaming, rioting, tearing down and looting."

Girls in Miniskirts Boost Lottery Sales

NEW YORK (AP) — To the surprise of hardly anyone, salesgirls in miniskirts proved to be quite a tonic for the lagging New York State Lottery sales.

"This is the first time I've bought one," said Edward Christman, "and the only reason I did it is because they're here and I'm here."

The state hired 20 young women in yellow miniskirts and blue stockings to hand out promotional material while 10 busy salesmen handled the tickets.

The entourage made nine stops throughout the city and everywhere they went people quickly lined up to buy the tickets. Lottery proceeds go to education.

Warren Attends Staff College in Norfolk, Va.

NORFOLK, VA. -- Navy Commander Billy R. Warren, son of Mr. Rolla Warren of Route 4, Sikeston, Mo., is attending the armed forces staff college.

Under the direction of the joint chiefs of staff, the five-month course prepares officers for command and staff assignments at combined commands. These are commands where the military forces of more than one service or more than one nation are involved.

A graduate of Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau, Mo., Commander Warren entered the service in September of 1951.

He is the husband of the former Betty J. Anderson of Dallas.

Nixon, Percyand Reagan Missouri GOP Favorites

KANSAS CITY (AP)— Missouri Republicans rate Richard Nixon, Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California in that order for the party's presidential nomination, says Lawrence Meisel, state finance chairman for the GOP.

Meisel, mayor of Frontenac, a St. Louis suburb, is directing the finance committee's effort to raise $730,000 for the 1968 election campaign.

Three $100-a-plate dinners will be held Sept. 23 - at St. Louis, Kansas City and Springfield.

St. Louis has set a goal of 1,000 persons at its dinner to hear Sen. George Murphy of California speak, and pledges for 750 tickets have been received, Meisel said Thursday.

Springfield Republicans aiming for 300, have sold more than 150 tickets, he said. The Springfield speaker will be Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee.

Kansas City's goal is 500 diners, who will hear Sen. Percy, and pledges for more than half of the tickets have been received, officials said.

Mary B. Thomas Dies Sunday

Mary B. Thomas, 83, 223 Moore Ave., died Sunday at 6:45 a.m. in Shuffit Nursing Home 3.

She was born Aug. 1, 1884 in Carbondale, Ill.

She is survived by her husband, Charles C. Thomas of Sikeston.

Services were held today at 2:30 p.m. in the Nunnelee Funeral Home, with the Rev. Joseph H. Wagner, pastor of First Methodist church, officiating. The body was removed to the Vanetta Funeral Home in Carbondale, where services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m.

Burial will be in the Oakland cemetery in Carbondale.

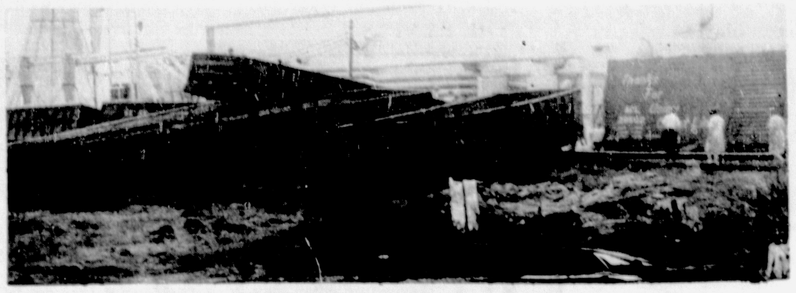
To blanch a food usually means to pour boiling water over it, then drain and rinse with cold water.



FRISCO FREIGHT CARS were piled up and derailed because of an equipment failure on a northbound freight train yesterday afternoon. The derailment occurred on the south edge of Portageville at 4 p.m.

Mid-South Fair Expected To Draw 700,000 People

MEMPHIS -- A bustling "city" is springing up on 151 acres of real estate in mid-Memphis and its population is expected to have exploded from about 1,000 persons to 700,000 by Saturday.

The advance guard of construction workers, utility men, concessionaries and a multiplicity of others who put together the Mid-South Fair were under a full head of steam to ready the big Exposition for its nine-day run, starting Friday, and continuing through Saturday.

After everything is set, Tennessee Gov Buford Ellington and a host of other dignitatires will get the 111th Mid-South Fair underway with ceremonies Friday.

Fair President Joe Pipkin predicts about 700,000 from at least eight states of the Mid-South will have passed through the gates before midnight Saturday. A total of 660,443 persons saw the 1966 Fair. That was a record.

Meanwhile, with the opening just days away, the comparative calm and bleakness of the other 11 months of the year has been transformed into a sea of color and activity.

The city effect comes in the installation of myriad telephones, complete with switchboard, a police station, a post office, a bank, a trailer court - all necessary to keeping the city alive for nine days.

The horde of fairgoers will be attracted by such things as a livestock show with prized cattle and swine from 18 states competing for more than $75,000 in premiums; exhibits galore including a navy jet trainer which visitors can fly under simulated conditions; an extensive soybean display; the latest 1968 automobiles; everything in cooking, baking, sewing, flowers, cosmetics; and an elaborate education exhibit which 250 students in Memphis and Shelby county schools have been putting together for almost a year.

That's just a sampling of the very important agricultural, industrial and educational aspects of the fair. Then you get into the entertainment phase and here the doors open wide. The Giant Free-O-Rama, which returns by popular demand, will include Mark Wilson's Magic Land of Alakazam, a new and different magic show which has been acclaimed by 20,000,000 viewers plus audiences overseas; Sabu, one of the country's smallest performing elephants with a variety of 28 tricks; Sensational Parker, who thrills the crowd on a breakaway pole high above the Fairgrounds; and the country junction show with area entertainers.

Also free and of high interest to youngsters and relatives and friends is the youth talent contest which will hold forth for twice-daily shows in the modern youth center. Winners of preliminary competition will meet in the Grand Finals on Wednesday night, in the Coliseum.

Two of the Fair's top free attractions will be in the Coliseum. Eldon Roark, "Strolling" columnist of the Memphis Press-Scimitar, will be back with his very popular "Museum of Unnatural History." And a first for the Fair will be an art festival which will display outstanding works of area artists.

Special days will include Tennessee, Friday, Arkansas, Saturday, Kentucky, Monday, (also FFA and FHA Day); Mississippi, Tuesday, and Missouri, Thursday.

Fairgoers can pay their way into the luxury-seating Mid-South Coliseum to see three days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of the World Championship Rodeo and TV's "Gunsmoke" stars Doc Adams (Milburn Stone) and Festus Haggen (Ken Curtis). Then comes famed Western star Roy Rogers and Dale Evans with a supporting show which includes the immensely popular Sons of the Pioneers singing group for a one-day stand on Thursday, followed on Friday night by Marty Robbins who made all the record charts with "El Paso", "White Sport Coat" and "Singing the Blues."

The Fair features is reserved for the last night, Saturday, September 30, when the celebrated Jim Nabors comes in with "Gomer Pyle." Gomer will do some of the hilarious routine from his popular national television show and will also treat the fans to his great voice with a number of popular songs.

It all adds up to an extravaganza of merriment and fun for the Mid-South and that's exactly what Fair General Manager Wilson Sparks wants. He says: "Y'all come and enjoy yourselves."

Sharp Reduction Reported in U.S. Missile Edge

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union has reduced U.S. missile superiority from nearly 4 to 1 to less than 3 to 1 this year and has stepped up a production program that will cut the lead still further in 1968, the Institute for Strategic Studies said today.

The authoritative institute reported also that Red China has stockpiled an estimated 30 relatively small atomic bombs, but it said there was no indication that Peking's nuclear program is operational yet.

The private institute was founded in 1958 as an international center for research on defense, world security and disarmament. Its 13-nation council gathers information from private and governmental sources and its own researchers.

The report said Russia nearly doubled its long-range missile arsenal this year and has installed around Moscow antiballistic missiles with nuclear warheads that would permit limited protection against attack.

A British defense ministry expert said earlier this week that the Russians are believed to have developed a giant rocket which releases a shower of H-bombs, each capable of being guided to a separate target.

Add a tablespoon of grated orange rind to that custard-pie filling (along with the usual vanilla flavoring). Delicious flavor change!

Graham Closes Crusade on Warning Note

Rev. Billy Graham says the world is heading toward Armageddon and the United States faces a "fire and brimstone" judgment like the ancient city of Sodom.

"God warned Sodom of his wrath and he is warning America," Graham told a record crowd of 53,000 at Municipal Stadium Sunday. "I believe God is giving this nation a chance to repent but the vast majority of America is not heeding His voice."

The crowd at the final service of Graham's 10-day crusade was the largest ever in the stadium. It brought the total attendance to 364,000.

After Graham's sermon, 1,700 persons stepped forward to commit themselves to Christ. Crusade officials said the 10-day total of those seeking salvation was 11,380.

Graham, whose next crusade will be in Japan, revealed that he had been "deathly sick" last week. He said there were four evenings when he didn't know whether he could preach, but managed to do so, although one evening his temperature was 101 degrees.

The evangelist compared the riotous living in Sodom with life in the United States.

He said Sodom was a "combination of Las Vegas and Wall Street" where people were too busy for God in seeking sex thrills and pleasures.

Like many in America today, Lot was rich, he said. "There's a grave danger in affluency, especially with the amount of riches that we enjoy in America."

Referring to the riots in American cities, Graham said he plans to cut down on crusades abroad and concentrate on preaching in the cities. He said the Gospel is the answer to the "screaming, rioting, tearing down and looting."
